

BOARD OF ACCOUNTS WILL RECORD BIDS

State Body Proposes to Keep
Tab on All County Business.

An order, purported to have been issued in order to stop contract letting at fabulous prices, was received today by Auditor Bowman from Gilbert H. Hendren, head of the state board of accounts. By this order the state board will keep in touch with every advertisement for bids, all bids received all specifications filed on bids and all contracts let.

Not only will this cause extra work for the auditor's office, but it will be some additional expense for contractors in having specifications made. Most of the records demanded can be sent from carbon copies, as far as the auditor's end of the business is concerned.

It is said this order was issued to make more work in the state accountants' office at Indianapolis and thereby give employment to fifty deputies who were released recently because of lack of work.

Text of New Order.
The letter in part is as follows: "It is ordered by the state board of accounts that hereafter all notices for letting of contracts for county supplies, for the construction of all county buildings, bridges and gravel roads and for the sale of all bonds, be forwarded to the state board of accounts at Indianapolis for the first publication of such notices."

"It is also ordered that hereafter a copy of all accepted bids for supplies purchased by the board of county commissioners, be filed in the office of the state board of accounts."

"It is further ordered that hereafter copies of all accepted bids for bridge and gravel road construction, for the construction of county buildings and for the sale of bonds, together with a copy of plans and specifications, also be filed in the office of the state board of accounts."

ASKS POLICE HELP

Clean-Up Committee At Roll Call.

Mrs. Stephens, Mrs. Rush, Mrs. Hole and Mrs. Monarch, interested in the "cleaning week" movement, to be observed in Richmond the first week of May, appeared before the members of the police department at roll call last night and urged them strictly to enforce an ordinance which prohibits the throwing of rubbish on streets and alleys.

"They tried to place a live wire under a dead law," was the way Chief Goodwin put it today.

The ordinance in question is dead so far as the dumping of non-combustible materials in alleys is concerned. This section of it was repealed by the new "anti-fire" ordinance, which permits the dumping of ashes and other materials which will not burn in heaps in alleys.

Recently Mayor Robbins expressed his disapproval of that feature of the new ordinance.

PETTITJOHN LEAVES

Y. M. C. A. Official Goes to Muncie Saturday.

Although Herbert A. Pettitjohn, boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A., leaves Saturday evening for Muncie, where he will take charge of the boys' department in the new association building, his successor has not been selected. Changed among the employed officers of the associations are generally made between the months of June and September, which makes it hard to get another man to take Mr. Pettitjohn's place at this time.

The year's work, however, is practically closed so far as the Bible classes are concerned, the only feature remaining is the boys' camp which Secretary Learner says will be conducted by the remaining officials, Secretary Learner, O. A. Hughes and Physical Director Roach will have charge of the boys' work until a man is secured for the position.

T. P. A. COMMITTEES REPORT PROGRESS

Convention plans are being worked out by the T. P. A. special convention committees as rapidly as possible and indications are that the stage will be set for the big gathering before it is ready to start instead of finishing up at the last minute.

Other posts over the state are talking about the convention and it is evident that Richmond will be a popular convention city with the travelers.

At the meeting of the executive committee Saturday night every committee reported the progress of its work and the leaders of the convention are optimistic over the present status of their plans.

Efforts are being made to form a float and bread trust in Montevideo, Buenos Aires and Rosario.

MOST DAIRYMEN APPROVE PROPOSED NEW MILK LAW

Dairymen, members of the city council, Mayor Robbins and City Attorney Bond held a meeting last evening at the city building and discussed, pro and con, half the provisions of the milk inspection ordinance, introduced in council a week ago. Dr. George W. Gillie, for six years dairy inspector at Ft. Wayne, took part in the discussion and it was evident from his statements that he regarded the ordinance, as a whole, a very satisfactory one. Next Friday evening city officials, dairymen and interested citizens will hold another informal meeting to complete the discussion of the ordinance provisions.

City officials last evening anticipated a hot discussion over the provision pertaining to tuberculin testing of dairy herds, but to their surprise not a word of criticism was said against it. The provisions requiring the distribution of milk sold in quantities of a quart or less in bottles, time of sterilization of bottles, the temperature of milk offered for sale and the age of milk brought to the city for sale provoked the most discussion.

Champions Measure.
J. O. Batchelor, who conducts one of the model dairies of the state, spoke several times, each time as the champion of the ordinance.

Batchelor's advocacy of the ordinance made an impression on both dairymen and councilmen, apparently, for he has been conducting his establishment almost in complete accord with the provisions of the ordinance and he is recognized as a successful milk dealer. The fact that he has been able to conduct his business along such lines make money and still sell milk at a fraction over 7 cents a quart soothed the fears of many that the adoption of the principal features of the pending ordinance meant an increase in the price of milk.

The provision requiring milk in wagons to test to 55 degrees provoked a lively debate. Several dairymen opposed such a provision because it required the icing of milk in wagons to keep at such temperature. Dr. Gillie, on the other hand, said that the maximum temperature was too high and that it should be 50 degrees.

"If it is at 55 degrees," he argued, "and if milk is found by the inspector to range up to 54 or 55 degrees he will pass it as satisfactory. But if 55 degrees is the maximum there will be a tendency to pass milk registering up to 59 and 60 degrees, which is entirely too warm for it to be kept properly."

Opposes Gillie.
One dairymen argued that hundreds of people do not keep ice and if supplied milk taken off of ice and then placed where the temperature was high it would sour rapidly.

"It is not your fault if your patrons do not take precautions properly to care for their milk after you have delivered it to them," replied Dr. Gillie. "All you are expected to do is to deliver your milk in good condition."

The provision requiring that all milk delivered in the city shall not be more than eight hours old was attacked. One dairymen said that the age limit should be at least twenty-four or thirty hours. Dr. Gillie met this objection with the statement that milk as old as thirty hours was not fit for use.

The provision requiring the sterilization of milk bottles for twenty minutes will probably be stricken out as a result of the discussion. Mr. Haas, a dairymen, said that under such a requirement it would take five hours to sterilize fifteen cases of bottles. Dr. Gillie said it would require at least thirty minutes properly to sterilize a bottle, but he thought it would be satisfactory if the dairymen were required only to cleanse the bottles with scalding water and an alkali solution. Dr. Gillie also declared the sterilization of milk for twenty minutes at a temperature of 150 to 155 degrees would not injure the quality of milk nor eliminate the cream line.

Welsh Objects to Bottles.
Benjamin Welsh raised a vigorous objection to the provision requiring the distribution of all milk in quantities of a quart or less in bottles. He supplies Mayor Robbins with milk, so when the section was read he pointed to the mayor, exclaiming, "That lets you out if I have to sell milk that way I'll go out of business."

He believes it will be too expensive for dairymen to handle so much milk in bottles. None of the other dairymen, however, seemed to have much objection to such a requirement.

Later the discussion drifted back to the question of keeping milk iced in delivery wagons. Dairymen Haas complained that when their ice supply ran out they have been unable to renew their supplies by purchases from ice wagons. This aroused the ire of the city attorney who declared such tactics on the part of the ice company were outrageous and would not be tolerated in the future.

Dr. Gillie declared that the provision requiring dairymen to deliver milk at a temperature of less than 55 degrees was one of the most important in the ordinance. He said that through a strict enforcement of this provision in the Fort Wayne ordinance he had been able to reduce the infant mortality from thirty-seven to 5 a year in five years.

Return Dirty Bottles.
Complaint was made by dairymen that many people return bottles to them in filthy condition. Some use bottles to keep starch, kerosene and even preserved fruits before returning them, and then do so without cleansing the bottles. Haas wanted the ordinance to require all dairymen to refuse to accept dirty bottles.

Answering the complaint of Mr. Welsh against delivering milk in buckets, Mr. Batchelor declared that such a system was the most practical and profitable one. He said he employed two men to do nothing but cleanse bottles. Batchelor also advocated the section requiring milk to be delivered at a temperature of less than 55 degrees. "The colder the better," he said, and then charged that some dairymen never used ice.

The section requiring that milk be cooled within an hour after milking was not drastic enough for the dairymen. They wanted the section to read that milk must be cooled "immediately." They also approved of the hood bucket for milking but were not satisfied with the requirement of changing clean cloths with every bucket.

Objection was also made to the provision requiring calving cows be kept in separate quarters from the other cows in the herd.

FUNSTON LANDS MEN AT VERA CRUZ PORT

Commander of Fifth Brigade
Takes Charge of Forces in Mexico.

[BY LEASED WIRE]
VERA CRUZ, April 28.—Brigadier General Frederick Funston, commander of the Fifth infantry brigade of the United States army, landed from the transport Kilpatrick today and took immediate command of all future operations by armed United States forces in this district.

The soldiers brought here from Galveston on the transports Kilpatrick, Meade, McClellan and Sumner are being landed and are taking up positions assigned to them by General Funston. The soldiers were landed at the ward line docks.

The bluejackets on shore will be withdrawn, but the marines will remain on shore to support the army. All night long General Funston and Rear Admiral Badger were in wireless communication arranging the final details for the landing of the soldiers and the withdrawal of the sailors, who have been assisting the marines in cleaning up and policing the city.

Although the transports arrived during the night, the night did not ward into the docks until about 10 o'clock. The debarkation commenced at once.

CLEANING NOTES OF NEXT WEEK

BY MRS. F. W. STEPHENS.
The sanitary committee of the Occidental Health league, is weary of occasional well doing and has decided upon having fifty-two "clean-up weeks" in the year. The committee is composed of three delegates from the board of commerce, each civic organization and each fraternal organization in the city. The whole city is laid out and responsibility fixed. Mrs. Mary Seabold is secretary of the committee.

Indianapolis has an ordinance which declares the growth of weeds and other rank vegetation on real estate to be injurious to public health, and a nuisance. Owners of real estate must cut and remove all weeds on or before July 1 of each year. No notice need be sent to the owner but the weeds may be cut by the board of health and the cost assessed against the owner after July 1. Violation entails a fine of not more than $25.00. Large cities generally have adopted measures looking to the control of the weed nuisance. The ordinance recently adopted in Los Angeles contains most elaborate provisions regarding the assessment and collection of weed taxes.

The Holland Magazine has offered a prize of $500 for the cleanest town in Texas, and all over the state local leagues are being organized to enter the contest. The contest is to be held by the middle of May, but it is thought that the work will be started at once. All woodwork of the exterior will be painted and the interior of the first two floors will be refinished.

HOOSIER STORE ENLARGES SPACE
The Hoosier store has just completed extensive improvements at the store at Sixth and Main streets. Two thousand feet of floor space and many new fixtures have been added. All departments will be rearranged and made more complete, making this one of the largest and most thoroughly equipped department stores in Eastern Indiana.

RELEASE WOMAN FROM MATTEAWAN

[BY LEASED WIRE]
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 28.—Mrs. Ida Von Clausen, who gained notoriety by trying to bring a $1,000, 000 libel suit against Col. Theodore Roosevelt was today ordered conditionally released from the Matteawan asylum for the criminal insane by Supreme Court Justice Isaac N. Mills. Mrs. Von Clausen was remanded to the custody of the warden of Tombs prison in New York until she can stand trial on an indictment charging her with sending death threats to Attorney Chas. Strauss. She applied for a writ of Habeas corpus granting her freedom in which to plead the indictment.

WILSON DISPATCHES TROOP TO COLORADO

President Requests Governor to Withdraw Militia When Federal Soldiers Arrive in Strike Region.

JUSTIFIES ACTION

[BY LEASED WIRE]
WASHINGTON, April 28.—President Wilson wired Governor Ammons of Colorado that he had dispatched a portion of the military force of the United States to restore order in his state. The president at the same time requested the governor to withdraw the Colorado militia as soon as the United States troops had reached Colorado.

The president's telegram to Governor Ammons read:

"In response to your telegram describing a situation of domestic violence in your state which you inform me has passed beyond the ability of the state to control, and conveying your request to me to dispatch federal troops pursuant to Section 4, Article 4 of the constitution of the United States, I beg leave to advise you as follows:

"That section of the constitution provides that the United States shall protect its states on application of the legislature or of the executive when the legislature can not be convened against domestic violence, and is put into effect by certain statutes, principally Sections 5297 and 5300 of the revised statutes. The former makes it lawful for the president in the circumstances described in the section of the constitution referred to, to use the land or naval forces of the United States as he deems it necessary and provide that whenever in his judgment it becomes necessary so to use these forces he shall forthwith by proclamation command the insurgents to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes within a limited time."

"Upon the information before me, my judgment is that it is necessary to use the military forces of the United States for the purposes defined by law, and I shall forthwith issue the proclamation provided by the statute and in pursuance thereof shall order the troops when they reach the scenes of disturbance to cause all those who have been indulging in excessive violence or threaten to do so, or whose acts are likely to give rise to disorder, to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes. If they have not already done so within the time limited by my proclamation; and I shall order that no person or persons, natural or artificial shall be permitted to do that which may give rise to disorder of the character heretofore occasioned, to the end that good order may be established and maintained."

"I shall not, by the use of the troops or by attempt at jurisdiction, inject the powers of the federal government into the controversy which has produced the present situation."

DANIELS ANSWERS REFUGEES' CENSURE

[BY LEASED WIRE].
WASHINGTON, April 28.—Criticism made by refugees that they were not given protection by United States naval forces at Tampico, but were instead rescued by British forces under Admiral Craddock, received a sharp rebuke to day from Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

"On the day that the American forces occupied Vera Cruz there was much excitement at Tampico. Admiral Mayo conferred with Admiral Craddock and the British commander volunteered to go into Tampico and bring American refugees cut to American vessels."

"Admiral Mayo communicated this information to me, and I instructed Mayo to permit Craddock to go in. Had Mayo gone in serious trouble might have followed because of the excitement in the city, and I am sure that Mayo avoided this trouble by remaining outside."

"These charges that the American naval officers were derelict have not been brought to me officially, but I have seen the charges repeated many times in the press, and I think that an explanation will clarify the atmosphere."
