Oratory

The current notion that oratory is a thing of the past was belied by the enthusiastic interest aroused by the Interstate Oratorical Contest held at the Coliseum last week. If our reader is of that cynical class which believes the higher education to have run to foot-ball and manual training, he should have heard the demonstration that shook the town when the judges sent up their decision. It showed that while oratory is as old as the world, it is as young as ever.

Genuine eloquence is the soul finding expression through words and gestures. It is a combination of talents as rare as it is wonderful. Before books and newspapers, the Sunday sermon, the lecture platform, the public school and the legislative forum, oratory was almost the sole means of public influence. With the advent of these, it has become relatively less important.

But it is still necessary and it is far more widespread than one would at first imagine. The church, the Chautauqua, law, salesmanship, the school: these still offer prizes to those with the gift of persuasive speech. A decay in oratory would mean a serious loss to education because it would imply its failure to develop many of the more essential talents. Here is the hope that Earlham will produce the next Interstate winner. It ought to. It has the right stuff in it.

The Cure for Suicide

Within a recent period, two of the most successful business men in the country have committed suicide. This adds to an ever growing list of those who have been strikingly successful from the world's point of view, yet have found life impossible. The top rung of the ladder, it would seem, is as intolerable as the bottom.

It is conservatively estimated that 15,000 chose the same route in 1913 and that the suicide rate, especially in the larger cities, steadily increases. By a sarcastic coincidence, the flourishing and much-advertised cities of the Pacific Coast are the leaders in this melancholy business.

Those who presage disaster here on the strength of a parallel with decadent Rome find in this increasing suicide rate a support for their contention. They point out that self-murder almost became the fashion during the last period before the crash that trituated the pride of Caesar and declare that our present day over-civilization is breeding the same insufferable world weariness.

However that may be, it is certain that suicide today may be stopped only by that which stopped it in Rome—Christianity. After the fever of paganism has run its course and we have discovered the worthlessness of much of that for which we now risk everything, we will turn toward a simplification and deepening of life. We will demand that the soul find its poise through establishing inner connections with the Eternal. It is only such a soul that possesses the resources which put to shame the lust of the flesh and the pride of life.

Cambridge City Churches Crowded to Hear Sermons on Mothers' Day

CAMBRIDGE CITY, May 19.—From the fact that Sunday, May 17, was the day for services in all the churches of Cambridge City, it was sent apart locally as Mothers' Day and Everybody's Church Going Day. The services in each church were characterized by large congregations, fine sermons, good music and earnestness for everyone. The different auditoriums were beautifully decorated with flowers in keeping with the significance of the day.

Mrs. C. T. Wright was hostess last Friday for the meeting of the Neighborhood Club. The day was a most pleasant one, of which the turkey dinner was not the least enjoyed feature. With the club members were Mrs. Harriet Keiss, Miss Julia Kless, Mrs. Louisa Thurston, Mrs. O. L. Callaway, and Mrs. W. H. Doney, as guests. Miss Hazel Shelton, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. H. Bryan, returned to her home in Springfield, Ohio, Monday, on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. J. Shelton. Miss Hilda Kinder, of Greenfield, is spending a fortnight in Cambridge City, as the guest of Miss Lena Ludington.

Attend Meeting.
Dr. Charles Kneise, and Dr. R. C. Leslie are in attendance at the meeting of the Indiana State Dental association which convenes today in the German Hotel at Indianapolis.
T. F. Wheelan and Miss Franka Cammack, of Richmond, were the guests of E. V. Wheelan and Miss Elizabeth Wheelan, Sunday.
Born Friday night, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, an eight pound son. The little one has been given the name of Francis Bruce.
F. H. Ohmit will attend the national convention of the retail hardware men which convenes this week in the Claypool hotel at Indianapolis.
Rev. and Mrs. Walter Holloper and son, Keith, have gone to Rome City, on account of the critical illness of a Mrs. Brothwell.
Mrs. J. A. Boyd has been quite sick for several days.

Attends Lecture.
Mrs. May Boden spent Tuesday in Connersville and attended a lecture by Mrs. Demarcus Brown, and reception given by the Cary club of that city.
Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Norris have moved from Marion to this city and will reside in the Boyd flats.

Miss Ruth Burdick, of New Castle, was the guest Sunday of Miss Elizabeth Ohmit.
Lafayette Cokelair, of Everton, is visiting his cousin, Ed Cokelair.
Thomas Lytle and friends, of Rushville, called on friends in Cambridge City Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wilson and daughter, Mary Catherine, of New Castle, motored to Marion Sunday and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Knipe and family.
The Cambridge City Casket company will have a display at the meeting of the Indiana Funeral Directors association, which is held in the Claypool, Tuesday to Thursday. This organization has almost a thousand members.
Upon her return from the Baptist

Tango, and the Complexion

The strenuous exercise of the Tango has the effect of improving the general health and so naturally helps to improve complexions. It has also forced most women to discard face powders because they rub off too readily and fill the pores, making healthy skin-breathing impossible.
If pore-clogging powder were discarded for a plain spumax lotion, there would be more beautiful complexions, and rough, blotchy, unlovely skins would rarely be seen. This lotion is easily prepared at home—just get from your druggist 4 ounces spumax and dissolve in either ½ pint hot water or witch hazel, and add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. The spumax lotion is fine for hot days as it will not get nor streak and one application lasts an entire day, relieving that shiny, oily appearance. This lotion blends so nicely with the skin that it cannot be detected, and it lends an exquisite charm to the faintest complexion. (Advertisement)

Committees Complete Details for Annual May Festival Next Friday

Everything is being made in readiness for May Festival which will be held in the coliseum on Friday and Saturday, afternoon and night, of this week. The festival is under the supervision of Professor Sloane of the city schools.

The high school orchestra which plays Saturday afternoon will practice at the coliseum this week. The high school chorus will also sing their number there as will the chorus and orchestra from Garfield. On Friday afternoon the soloists will arrive and they will sing with the chorus Haydn's "Creation."

The classes in physical culture are daily rehearsing their exhibition under the direction of Robert Nohr, physical instructor at the high school. The school orchestra will accompany them.

The festival is being given under the auspices of the Richmond Music association, and the proceeds derived from it will go into a fund to assist deserving high school graduates in going through college. Tickets have been distributed to students for sale. The school alumni will take a great many as this organization derives the most benefit from the festival. The tickets this year sell for twenty-five cents single admission for adults and fifteen cents for children. The season tickets sell for seventy-five cents. They will be on sale at the door at the following places: The George H. Knollenberg store, the Starr Piano company, the Boston Store and Lee B. Nusbaum company.

The committees in charge of the event follow:
Advertising—H. C. Haasmeier, N. C. Helronimus, William H. Romey, George H. Knollenberg.
Finance—John H. Nicholson, A. D. Gayle and S. W. Gear.
Decorations—Charles Igleman.
Program—Howard Dill, O. P. Nusbaum, F. J. Bruffet, Adam Feltman, R. B. Jones.

Presidents—M. Haas, Abbie Schaefer and Elizabeth Thomas.

Sweaty Feet, Prompt Relief

Also Corns and Callouses

The following is absolutely the surest and quickest cure known to science for all foot ailments. "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sores parts." The effect is really wonderful. All soreness instantly; the feet feel so good you could sing for joy. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. It gives immediate relief for sore bunions, sweaty, smelly and aching feet. A twenty-five cent box of Calocide is said to be sufficient to cure the worst feet. It works through the pores and removes the cause of the trouble. Don't waste time on uncertain remedies. Any druggist has Calocide compound in stock or he can get it in a few hours from his wholesale house. It is not a patent medicine. Calocide prepared only by Medical Formula Co., of Dayton, Ohio.
