

GERMAN ESPIONAGE SYSTEM DISCLOSED BY DRUNKEN TRAMP

Hobo Tells How Teutonic Spy Bureau Spreads Its Network Through European Countries.

Oscar Friedenstein was in Richmond last night; he shuffled west over the Doran bridge at midnight, intoxicated, bedraggled and footsore; he left behind him a story of Prussian intrigue and a disclosure of some of the ramifications of the German spy system.

Friedenstein came to Richmond over the hobo route Sunday afternoon, spent the night in the "jungle," and last night was absorbing cheap whiskey purchased with money gained by his hard-luck stories to sympathetic German housewives of the south side. He had taken aboard enough of the stuff to be in a sociable state, and the ordering of several rounds by reporters on a slumming tour loosened his tongue and made him loquacious.

"It is difficult to convey to the American an adequate idea of the ramifications of the spy system in operation on the continent of Europe," Friedenstein asserted when he was asked his opinion on the German army system.

Spy System Wide.

"Germany has an excellent army, but the teutonic network of spy agencies is simply amazing. Up to five years ago Metz was the headquarters of German espionage in France, but since then, in consequence of certain revelations, the general staff has split up its bureaus. The chief one is now at Basle, Switzerland, at its head being Major von Rock, of the Eighth Bavarian Regiment.

Another branch is in the hands of the famous Schwartz, who was once a French police commissary. Schwartz resides near Thionville, but he spends most of his time in France, and although he has yet to serve a sentence of five years for espionage, the police never quite succeeded in catching him. Yet he is never far from Nancy, for the 20th Army Corps is his special study.

Uses Picture Cards.

"In order to correspond with his emissaries he used picture post cards largely. Only too late the French Cabinet Noir discovered that by steaming the stamp and removing it some such information as this would have come to light: 'A. B., 159,200.' This meant 'A. B., Register No. 159, requires 200 francs.' The postmarks told where the correspondent was.

"Recently at Rheims a youth was arrested on a charge of espionage but released on proving that he had been lured into the toils of an agent who had inserted the following alluring advertisement in a local newspaper:

Representatives required for easy work, good commission, no special knowledge, write with reference, L. P., 205, Poste Restante, Central Office, Basle.

Hold Young Man.

"In reply the young man received a request to furnish some information of a simple nature, for which he was paid handsomely. Fortunately for him he was arrested before he had compromised himself to such a degree that the mere threat of being denounced to the French police would have rendered him the willing slave of the German Secret Intelligence Bureau."

Asked if he had ever served in the secret service of the German Empire, Friedenstein shook his head. He was willing to talk of the system at long range, but no amount of whiskey could loosen his tongue sufficiently to evoke a personal reference.

AUSTRIANS DEMAND WAR AGAINST SERBIA

Nation Grieves Over Loss of Heir, While Parties Speculate on Successor.

SARAJEVO, Bosnia, June 30.—All Bosnia and Herzegovina are today aflame with hatred kindled by the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austrian throne, and his consort, the Duchess of Hohenberg, by a young Slav in this city on Sunday.

In spite of the declaration of martial law there was fierce rioting in this city and throughout the two provinces. At Morastar, the chief city of Herzegovina, 200 Serbians were killed and wounded in a fight with Moslems. The city is reported to have been set on fire by the rioting Serbians and Moslems.

While preparations were being made here to ship the bodies of the two victims of Sunday's double assassination to Vienna, a maddened crowd attacked and wrecked the homes of three Serbians in which bombs had been found.

Drive Off Gendarmes.

The military police upon the mobs but the infuriated men and women turned upon the gendarmes and drove them off, then continued their assault upon the buildings. Three Serbians were caught and would have been lynched in the streets except for the soldiers, who upon being reinforced returned to the scene and with fixed bayonets charged the rioters.

Servian shops and hotels were stoned and the windows smashed. Servian flags were torn down and trampled in the streets. Mobs made up of men and women paraded the streets shouting:

"Death to the Serbians."

"Down with the throwers of Belgrade bombs."

WILSON AT FUNERAL OF DON T. ROJAS

WASHINGTON, June 30.—President Wilson today attended the funeral of Senator Don T. Rojas, the minister from Venezuela. The services were held at St. Matthews Catholic church and all the various embassies and legations were represented. Secretary Bryan and other representatives of the state department were present.

The steamer, Orcoma, which sailed from Liverpool the other day, was the first mail steamer to go direct from England to Panama.

Son of Wealthy Man Facing Trial For Life, Studies in Jail

MALCOLM GIFFORD, JR.

Malcolm Gifford, Jr., whose parents are wealthy residents of Hudson, N. Y., is charged with the killing of Frank Clute, an Albany chauffeur, whose body was found on Troy road, near Albany, on April 1, 1913. Gifford is as much unconcerned about his trial, which opened June 25, as he was when taken to the Albany jail April 20. He will talk of everything except the trial, but on that subject he is uncommunicative. William Traverse Jerome is his attorney.

AMERICAN HEIRESS WEDS FRENCH SCION

PARIS, June 30.—Another American heiress married into European nobility today when Miss Laura MacDonald Stallo, of Cincinnati, O., and New York City, was wedded to Prince Don Francesco Rospigliosi, son of Prince and Princess Don Camillo Rospigliosi. The civil ceremony was followed by a religious ceremony conducted by the Rev. Father McMillan at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church. The official witnesses on behalf of the bride were Myron T. Herrick, the United States ambassador, and Prince Michel Murat. The ceremonies were attended by many members of the American colony and by the members of high French society.

Miss Stallo's grandfather, Alexander MacDonald, was one of the original Standard Oil millionaires and Miss Stallo is the possessor of an enormous fortune.

BLOWS OFF HEAD

WILLIAMSPORT, Ind., June 30.—Walter Atchison, of Henderson, Ky., committed suicide today in the Warren county jail by blowing his head off with a charge of dynamite. He had been arrested for a trivial offense. The explosion of the dynamite broke the steel bed in his cell squarely in half, several bars of the cell were broken and all of the windows in the jail were blown out. It is believed that a confederate passed the dynamite to him through a window.

TAKE NO ACTION.

A conference of the pastoral committee of the First Presbyterian church was held last night. Nothing was accomplished. The name of Rev. J. W. McCormick of Cambridge City was not considered at this meeting although the committee members expressed the favorable impression he left here. Another meeting will be held next week. There are still no prospects for the pastorate.

DR. MAYO SAYS MUCH SURGERY NEEDLESS

DR. CHARLES H. MAYO.

Dr. Charles H. Mayo, the famous surgeon, of Rochester, Minn., addressing the American Medical association, declares that too many operations are performed without justifiable cause. He asserted there was no excuse whatever for so many operations, and that if physicians would study embryology more carefully they would be able to cure many cases without the use of the knife.

PLAN TO CONVERT DUMP INTO PARKS

West Richmond People Propose Riverside Place Purchased by Popular Subscription.

Citizens of West Richmond propose to transform the West Side dump into a beautiful park and playground.

They are enthusiastic over the prospects, and willing to back the new movement verbally and financially.

To consider ways of bringing about the transformation a mass meeting for men and women, interested in a more beautiful, more healthful city, has been arranged for 7:30 o'clock at the Baxter school Thursday evening. Secretary Jordan of the Commercial club and Mayor Robbins will help give the plan a boost by being present and speaking in favor of it.

To Purchase Land.

Tentative plans of the residents who are backing the playground-park movement call for the purchase of the land from the river bank to West First street between the Doran and Main street bridges. This could be converted into a beautiful place with flowers, paths and playground apparatus.

Men of West Richmond stand ready to subscribe various amounts from $10 to $100 to buy the tract of land with money raised by popular subscription. John Foster suggested that enough money be obtained to purchase the land which should then be turned over to the city, which with land already owned by the city would make a large park. He points out that in a few years parks and playground land will be at a premium in West Richmond. This also would afford an opportunity to get rid of the unsightly, unsanitary west side dump.

TRADE DEPRESSION CRIPPLES D. CUPID

The little love bee stung a few more in June than in May, but failed to do his duty as well as in other years.

Sixty persons felt Cupid's darts this month, and there are now thirty more families in the county than there were thirty days ago.

The marriage market, like others, felt the press of hard times, and was almost swamped in this county last month. It is thought that the encouraging reports from all parts of the country will lighten matters considerably and there will be a rush of business later in the year.

An average of one marriage license a day is far exceeded every year, and usually June is one of the record months. The issuance of only thirty licenses in any month is considered poor, but is especially poor when the month is June.

No admission, free-will offering, at Wesley Howard concert tonight.

EXPRESS COMPANY QUILTS AT MIDNIGHT

NEW YORK, June 30.—After uninterrupted service for sixty years the United States Express company at midnight will retire from the transportation business. This will be in accordance with the plan adopted last March. All the railroad contracts of the United States Express company have been transferred to the other big express companies, and arrangements have been made whereby the Wells-Fargo company will act as agent for the United States company in carrying out contracts with the government for handling money.

FATE OF REBELLION RESTS WITH VILLA

TORREON, Mex., June 30.—The fate of the Constitutional party will depend upon the forthcoming conference between General Carranza and General Villa, it was predicted here today. General Villa has returned here from Zacatecas with about two thousand troops, and intimates today that he would not take the field again until he arrived at a satisfactory understanding with Carranza.

A number of Constitutionalists are said to have pledged their support to Villa in the event of an open breach between the first of the Constitutionalists and his brilliant commander.

Last year 4,222 foreign students attended United States colleges and universities.

RATE CASE LACKS UNANIMOUS DECISION

Wilson Seeks to Bring Commerce Commission Members to Harmonious View.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The reason for the delay in the interstate commerce commission in handing down its decision in the five per cent advance rate case is that the administration desires a unanimous decision by the commissioners. It was reliably reported at the commission office today.

The personnel of the commission is so constituted that a unanimous decision seems remote. There are some radicals, some conservatives and some who are said to be on the fence. To get all of its members to pull together is the task now before the commission. It was predicted that within two weeks a compromise would be effected.

Commissioners Harlan and McChord are said to be the conservative members holding out against the railroad plea for the increased rates.

ROB POST OFFICE.

FRANKFORT, Ind., June 30.—The post office safe in Colfax, near here, was dynamited by burglars early today. Ira Bowman who was awakened by the explosion fired from his window and the robber returned the fire. The burglars escaped with a package containing valuable papers belonging to Postmaster Parker, but did not obtain any stamps or cash from the safe.

In a London church tower there is a clock which strikes the hours and quarters, but has no dials or other visible evidences of the time.

BOY KILLS FATHER

OSARK, Ark., June 30.—Frank Owen, aged thirteen, shot and killed his father Aaron Owen, after the father had attempted to kill his family. The boy was arrested pending an investigation of the shooting.
