

START SECOND FARM COLONY AT EASTHAVEN

Under New System Patients Cultivate Land and Live in Cottages Without Presence of Guards.

The second of four colonies which have been planned at Easthaven farm will be established in the next week with twenty-five men forming the colony.

The first colony, which is the fourth or fifth of its kind in the United States and the first in Indiana, has been in operation successfully for a year. The colony consists of eleven men. These men live in a building north of the old Easthaven farm without attendants.

Under the supervision of an overseer and his wife, 300 bushels of wheat were raised and 100 tons of hay. A more garden truck was raised than the colony could use. The men were picked from the insane hospital with their mental as well as physical qualifications in mind, so there are no guards watching them at any time, and they are not locked in at nights.

The old farm of 330 acres is being farmed as usual. The new tract of land which consists of more than 400 acres, condemned in 1913 by the state and purchased for the advantages it gives in trying out the colony plan, will soon be based in the same scale of efficiency in farming.

Nearly Self-Supporting. D. W. Scott, farming superintendent, has charge of the entire farm, which amounts to little short of 800 acres. He believes that the asylum can become nearer self-supporting under the plan now pursued than any other class of institution for retention.

The new colony will be established in the abandoned school house on the new land. The building has been improved and remodeled and has accommodations for about thirty people. Twenty-five picked men will occupy it in about a week.

Some of the men will be assigned to early morning farm chores. Others have teams to care for, while some feed hogs, others milk cows, and some help with the cooking. All are expected to take part in the general farm work in the summer. During the winter they will cut a quantity of wood.

Not only is more than enough garden truck raised for the colony, but it makes its own land, slaughtering hogs, and otherwise does away with the necessity of purchasing.

At Easthaven proper there are almost 900 patients. About 1,100 persons are fed at each meal. This includes attendants.

SHADE FALL STARTS STORY OF ZEPPELIN

An amusing incident happened in connection with the falling of a street light shade at Fort Wayne avenue and B street last night.

As the shade fell with a crash a number of people were passing the place, which is not on a street intersection. A number of small boys were frightened by the crash. Young men who were passing added to their fright by telling them that the shade was a bomb thrown by a German Zeppelin balloon.

The report was taken up by older citizens and was passed around and elaborated on until a crowd started toward the place. A policeman was called, who bledly approached to the street and picked up the shade.

LOST BOY IN CAMP

Carl Griffith Took Groceries to Creek.

Carl Griffith, aged 10, who disappeared from the boarding home of his father at 115 North Twelfth street Wednesday, was found late yesterday by relatives. It was learned from boys that Griffith, after going to the grocery, met friends and they decided to camp in the river bottoms until their provisions were exhausted. The Griffith boy slept there Wednesday night, and stayed at the temporary camp until he was found yesterday afternoon.

PREPARE FOR WINTER

Park Employees Ready to Protect Animals.

The monkeys at Glen Miller park will soon be banished from open air, and the bears will commence their long sleep in preparation for winter, according to Park Superintendent Ford.

With chilly nights the rule, and time for frost rapidly approaching, preparations are being made in the parks of the city for winter. The animals in the park will be the first thought as they are the most valuable park property in the city.

The monkeys and certain birds will be taken into the greenhouses for the winter. Plants will be dug up and taken to the greenhouses to increase the supply for next year.

Much hay is in the park barns for feed for the horses and the elks. Many of the benches will be left out until winter actually comes.

HOLD GEORGE RABER

George Raber of Cambridge City, was brought to the county jail this morning by Marshal Chapman of Cambridge City. He is placed under the charge of assault and battery. He recently made an assault on Martin Bowman of that city.

War Tabloids

PARIS—The city is quiet and martial law prevails. The invaders are reported at Senlis, 82 miles northeast and just outside the outer line of defenses. (This information is believed to record the situation Thursday and it is possible the siege of Paris is already on, if the city has not been evacuated). The military authorities are in frequent conference. Wireless communication is almost continuous between Paris and Bordeaux. Talk of evacuation in order to save the city from destruction is heard, but sentiment favors holding out as the defenses are in splendid condition. The Germans are steadily pushing back the allies' armies but have not yet succeeded in breaking through at any point.

LONDON—The Chronicle's correspondent at Rouen, France, says he hears the authorities of Paris are considering the surrender of the city to prevent bombardment. (There is no confirmation of this).

LONDON—Lloyd's Havre agent today says Germany has sent an ultimatum to Holland.

THE HAGUE—Foreigners are fleeing. Every steamer is loaded far beyond its normal capacity.

ST. PETERSBURG—Russian successes against Germany and Austria continue, the war office today announced that the Russians have driven the Austrians back along a front of approximately 250 miles and have captured Czernowitz, in Bukovina and Zalkiew, in Galicia. Lemberg is being used as the base by the Russians. The Austrian losses are enormous. The Czar has given orders that the officers commanding the successful regiments be decorated.

TOKIO—The Japanese Torpedo Boat Shirataye has been wrecked near Kiao-Chau. (Official).

ROME—Leaders of the war party are urging the government to join the allies, arguing that the Russians have already shattered Austria's power of resistance, but the government again today announced that it would maintain its neutrality.

OSTEND—All Austrians residing here were ordered today to leave within twenty-four hours and other subjects have been advised to leave. This portends either a heavy movement of troops through Belgium or a siege.

LONDON—Premier Asquith in the House of Commons today appealed to the country for more veterans.

ROME—Turkey has mined the Dardanelles.

AMSTERDAM—One hundred thousand Austrians are hurrying to support the German left wing menaced by the French in Lorraine. (A later dispatch said that the Germans in this section, headed by General Von Daimling, have been forced over the line into Switzerland.)

BERLIN—German financial authorities express satisfaction over the condition of Germany's finances and insist that the situation in this respect is far better here than in London and Paris. (This is a dispatch coming by mail to New York and is now two weeks old).

GIVE OUT LICENSES FOR DUCK HUNTERS

Attaches at Clerk's Office Expect Unusual Run Until Season Closes.

A record breaking issuance of licenses is expected by the county clerk with the open season for ducks and geese. Beginning September 1, hunters have been given the first opportunity to shoot ducks and geese since the federal migratory birds law went into effect. The season closes December 15. Snipe and plover are also legitimate game birds during this period.

Warning has been issued by the state and fish game commissioners not to shoot prairie chickens. While this is usually the season for this game, the law preventing the killing of this species went into effect recently, so that it will be three years before the season is open again. Quail and grouse may not be shot until November 10. The season continues until December 20. The squirrel season is open until October 1.

GETS HEAVY FINE FOR PAWNING BAG

Vern Imhoff Exchanges Borrowed Goods for Carfare to Get Home.

For borrowing a hand satchel to carry clothes to a sick friend and then pawning it in Dayton, Vern Imhoff, a young man, was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to thirty days in jail.

Imhoff, who lives on South Fourth street, sent a little girl to Pearl Moss in the McConaha flats last Tuesday to borrow the satchel. The girl returned with it and Imhoff carried it empty to Dayton, where he said he would secure work.

As he did not get work there and had less than enough money to pay his railroad fare home, he pawned the satchel for a dollar. He said he would return Saturday. He denied his guilt of the petit larceny charge in police court but entered a plea of guilty. Prosecuting Attorney Reller urged him to plead not guilty, but Imhoff refused, and thus did away with the necessity of a trial.

HOLD LORD DOUGLAS

Police Arrest Editor and Friend of Wilde.

[BY LEASED WIRE.] LONDON, Sept. 4.—The Central News states that Lord Douglas was arrested at Folkestone today. Lord Alfred Douglas is 44 years old. He was editor of the London Daily and an intimate friend of Oscar Wilde. He sued Arthur Ransome, a writer, for publishing a book after Wilde's death which contained some passages which Lord Douglas thought libeled Wilde. He lost the suit. Lord Douglas has figured prominently in the newspapers during the past ten years. He once sued a bookmaker for slapping him, and lost. He was snubbed by the Metropolitan Club in Washington some years ago, and when he sailed back to England, he called the United States a "God forsaken land."

REFUSE PERMISSION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Permission to send the Steamship North Carolina through the Dardanelles to Constantinople has been refused by the United States by Turkey.

JAIL INSANE WARD CROWDED TO LIMIT

Sheriff Bayer Complains of Inadequacy of Quarters to Hold Prisoners.

There has been such a demand on the insane wards of the city during the last few weeks that a number of persons on whom inquiries have been held have been turned away and have to be cared for in private homes.

Although the insane ward at the county jail has only been built a few years, it is entirely inadequate to accommodate the number of persons who should be confined there, according to Sheriff Bayer. The ward at the county jail accommodates five men, but at the present time there are seven insane men at the jail, two of them being required to mingle with the other prisoners. Two other men, Adam Griswell and Bill Wilson have been taken to their homes to be cared for because of lack of accommodations in the insane ward.

The insane ward at the Home of the Friendless is in a more crowded condition than this. There are eight women confined there now, and four more on whom inquiries have been held with recommendations that they be taken to the home, but who are now being cared for by relatives until accommodations can be secured.

There is a total of twenty-three prisoners in the county jail, most of them convicted in the city court of public intoxication. The longest term of any inmate of the jail now is 170 days.

POLICE TO MARCH WITH WEST SIDERS

City Officials Lend Department for Anti-Dump Demonstration.

City officials have consented to the use of the fire department and the police to make a more ostentatious display of the parade which will form at Eighth and Main streets and march to the West Side dump.

West Side residents are determined to make the effort to stimulate interest in a riverside park, a successful one. Automobiles have been secured and a number of citizens have consented to march behind the band.

The police will march in line followed by the fire department. The band will follow after which the citizens will form in line. The automobiles and fire department will leave the procession to go around the Doran bridge.

A big bon fire in the center of the dump has been planned and material is being collected to make as big a blaze as possible. Dr. David W. Dennis and others will speak from a specially constructed platform.

SIGNS ON STREET ENDANGER PERSONS ON WALKS BENEATH

Inspector Hodgkin Points to Constant Danger From Illuminating Devices Hanging From Store Fronts.

Building Inspector Hodgkin will not permit the smallest shingle to project over the sidewalks if his campaign to have signs removed from buildings is successful, he stated today.

"The more I look at this proposition, the more I see the most wrong of hanging signs over the sidewalks," Mr. Hodgkin said. "Pedestrians are constantly endangered by any kind of a sign. The sidewalks belong to them and not the business houses. It was just pure luck that nobody was injured in the accident Wednesday when a heavy sign was torn loose from the four screws holding it and fell to the sidewalk."

Mr. Hodgkin says he will not object to balconies on theatres or hotel fronts, as these are permitted everywhere. The addition of such balconies after the completion of such buildings will not be permitted, however, if the balcony is of the hanging kind. Hanging balconies will not meet with objection if provision for their support is made while the building is being erected.

LIEGE FALLS IN THREE DAYS, SAYS MEZGER

Oscar Mezger, Imperial German consul at Cincinnati, has submitted the following:

"I have received the first mail from Germany since the outbreak of the war. The mail brought German newspapers up to the 14th of August. It is a great pleasure for me to read these papers. They are remarkable for their quiet simplicity and their dignity. There is no hysterical sensationalism and there are no lies.

"More than two weeks have gone since these papers have been printed and every word they say is consistent with what has happened since. There is no display of yellow journalism, there are not even big headlines.

"Comparing these German papers with the daily papers which I am reading here, I wonder if not, after all, Germany is at peace and America is at war. The most interesting news which the German papers contain is official statement made by the headquarters of the German army on the 10th of August.

"The attack on Liege according to this trustworthy statement began on the 6th of August and ended on the 9th. On the ninth the city was taken and the forts had been destroyed by heavy artillery. The German forces before Liege were small, even smaller than the Belgian forces within the city and the forts. The German headquarters states that the Belgian troops fought poorly at Liege. "The Belgian civilian population, however, joined in the fight and especially women killed German soldiers, physicians and wounded men from behind hedges from windows and from woods.

"May I ask the American newspaper readers to remember what an enormous amount of lies the English, French and Belgian 'official sources' issued about Liege? Do the Americans not resent this allied speculation on their credulity?"

"O. MEZGER, Imperial German Consul."
