

RUSSELL'S AIM TO AID CHURCH AND POLITICS

Earlham Teacher Tells Yearly Meeting Why He Accepted Progressive Nomination for Congress.

Friends Church Needs to Popularize Work by Getting Members to Take More Active Part.

"When I entered politics it was with the expectation of introducing some of the ideals of the church into politics," said Prof. Russell, Progressive candidate for congress from the Sixth district in an address before the meeting of ministry and oversight of the Indiana Yearly Meeting of Friends, "and in my campaign experiences I have found some methods employed in politics that the church could well adopt."

Prof. Russell then suggested that the procedure of the yearly meeting be modified so as to make a more popular appeal to church members. He said that from his experiences in politics he had reached the conclusion that the Friends church had not developed a thoroughly effective organization. He said the church as an organization was too slow in taking the initiative in various affairs in contrast to effective political organizations.

Church Too Slow.

He also called attention to the fact that the Indiana Yearly meeting, which is a large organization and has much business to transact, depended entirely too much on committees for the transaction of its business.

"There is too little discussion of church affairs by the church members attending our yearly meetings," Prof. Russell said.

"Church members should be made to feel that they are actually taking a part in transacting the affairs of the church instead of merely ratifying the actions of committees. This can only be done by adopting a policy which will be more Democratic than the one which has been pursued."

"Curtail committee work and give the church members attending the meetings more opportunity in formulating church policies. The adoption of such a plan, I am sure, would create much more interest in church affairs than is evidenced now."

SPECIAL TRAIN SERVICE TO EATON.

October 1 and 2, via Pennsylvania lines, account Eaton fair. Leaves Richmond 1:00 p. m. 22-24-26-29-1 men). A sortie from the northeast of Verdun has been repulsed.

CRAONNE HILLS

(Continued from Page One.)

"The French troops camping to the north of Toul (13 miles west of Nancy) have been surprised by our artillery."

"In the east French war theatre there have been no engagements."

"The Belgian and eastern (East Prussia) battlefields, the situation is unchanged."

Strategy of French.

The statement that the French have eight army corps in the Lorraine region indicates that the allies' right wing is trying to turn the German left. With the heights of Craonne held by the German center, it will be possible to withdraw the troops from there to strengthen both the right and left wings if they are threatened.

No details of the situation at Rheims, beyond the fact that the town has been bombarded, have reached Berlin. It is hoped, however, that the famous cathedral there has not been harmed.

The belief is growing here that the war is going to extend into the winter.

German troops will remain in Belgium until the end of the war. This was officially announced today in denials of reports that preparations were being made to evacuate Brussels and Liege.

GERMANS RENEW ACTIVITY.

French Report Teutons Fall Back on Left Wing.

FRIENDS INDORSE WORLD TOUR OF TEBBETTS TO VISIT MISSIONS

One of the most important actions taken at the morning session of the Indiana Yearly Meeting was the indorsement of the Yearly Meeting to the proposed world tour of Friends' mission-station, to be made by Mr. Tebbetts, his wife and daughter, as soon as conditions permitted, the war preventing as early a start as would otherwise have been made.

Mr. Tebbetts, as general secretary of the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions for the past seven years, expressed himself, upon request, as regarding it of great importance that this visitation should be made on account of problems that might be solved through such a visit and the unifying influence it would have on the entire mission field. They will also visit the missions conducted by English Friends and also stations maintained by various other denominations, especially those in Japan and China.

Approve Tour.

Great unity was expressed by all those present with the proposed tour, which, it was announced, would be made at the personal expense of Mr. and Mrs. Tebbetts.

The business of the session opened with the calling of the representatives from the various quarterly meetings, showing the majority present.

Credentials of visiting Friends were also presented, these being fewer in number than for several years past, and including Zeno H. Doan, from Iowa, James M. Swander, from White Lick Quarterly meeting, near Monrovia; Amos Kenworthy from California; Meade Kelsey from Iowa, now a member of Indiana Yearly Meeting, in charge of the church at Springfield, and Josiah Blinford of Wichita, Kansas.

Robert Douglas, Luke Woodard and others spoke in greeting.

Seeks Reductions.

Only one request was registered from a quarterly meeting and that, from Eastern Quarterly Meeting at Selma, Ohio, which asked that its financial proportion in support of Yearly Meeting activities be reduced.

On account of the reduction in size of the Quarterly Meeting.

The request was referred to the finance committee.

Amos E. Ratliff, clerk of the Meeting of Ministry and Oversight, now called the Permanent Board, introduced the proposition of the indorsement of the world tour to be taken by Mr. and Mrs. Tebbetts, and the latter spoke at some length of the work of Protestant churches in North America in their missionary propaganda, recommending a number of books for the instruction of missionary societies and others interested.

St. Edgar Nicholson presented the merits of the American Friend, which is the church's official organ, of which he is editor. And Herschel Folger was appointed temporary page.

Postpone Memorial.

The memorial service was postponed until Wednesday morning.

Directions to representatives covered their conduct of the special meeting of these delegates which was held at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

A committee was appointed to take up the matter of holding a special meeting for men at the close of the Thursday afternoon session with Fred Tormohlen as chairman.

Among some of the well-known Friends present were Joseph Godard, of Muncie; Robert Douglas, of West Elkhart; Oliver Robert Henley, of Cincinnati; William P. Henley, of Carthage; Frank Marmon, of Winchester; Frank Douglas, of West Elkhart; Robert Copeland, of Cincinnati; Professor Tice, of Victory, Mexico.

The regular session of the Yearly Meeting was preceded by a meeting of the Permanent Board, which was occupied with routine matters, appointment of committee and the reading of a letter from Catherine Shipley, formerly resident in Cincinnati, now living in England, about the state in which English Friends found themselves on account of the war and recommending sympathetic expression from Indiana Yearly Meeting.

On account of the reduction in size of the Quarterly Meeting.

The request was referred to the finance committee.

Amos E. Ratliff, clerk of the Meeting of Ministry and Oversight, now called the Permanent Board, introduced the proposition of the indorsement of the world tour to be taken by Mr. and Mrs. Tebbetts, and the latter spoke at some length of the work of Protestant churches in North America in their missionary propaganda, recommending a number of books for the instruction of missionary societies and others interested.

St. Edgar Nicholson presented the merits of the American Friend, which is the church's official organ, of which he is editor. And Herschel Folger was appointed temporary page.

Postpone Memorial.

The memorial service was postponed until Wednesday morning.

Directions to representatives covered their conduct of the special meeting of these delegates which was held at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

A committee was appointed to take up the matter of holding a special meeting for men at the close of the Thursday afternoon session with Fred Tormohlen as chairman.

COLLEGE SINGERS TEST OUT VOICES

Earlham Glee Club Holds Annual Tryouts for Aspiring Candidates.

The prospects for an excellent glee club are exceptionally good at Earlham college this year. Tryouts for membership in the club were held this afternoon and the new members will be elected within the next two weeks.

More interest than usual is being shown in the tryouts this year and Director Roland Nussbaum is well pleased with the material which is in prospect. Rehearsals will begin the first of next week and work will start immediately on arranging programs for the concert to be given in the early spring.

Manager Hadley is now at work securing dates for the spring tour, as well as a number of special week end trips to be taken by the club this year. It is probable that the club will make a short concert tour during the Christmas vacation as well as the spring vacation.

More interest than usual is being shown in the tryouts this year and Director Roland Nussbaum is well pleased with the material which is in prospect. Rehearsals will begin the first of next week and work will start immediately on arranging programs for the concert to be given in the early spring.

Manager Hadley is now at work securing dates for the spring tour, as well as a number of special week end trips to be taken by the club this year. It is probable that the club will make a short concert tour during the Christmas vacation as well as the spring vacation.

More interest than usual is being shown in the tryouts this year and Director Roland Nussbaum is well pleased with the material which is in prospect. Rehearsals will begin the first of next week and work will start immediately on arranging programs for the concert to be given in the early spring.

Manager Hadley is now at work securing dates for the spring tour, as well as a number of special week end trips to be taken by the club this year. It is probable that the club will make a short concert tour during the Christmas vacation as well as the spring vacation.

More interest than usual is being shown in the tryouts this year and Director Roland Nussbaum is well pleased with the material which is in prospect. Rehearsals will begin the first of next week and work will start immediately on arranging programs for the concert to be given in the early spring.

Manager Hadley is now at work securing dates for the spring tour, as well as a number of special week end trips to be taken by the club this year. It is probable that the club will make a short concert tour during the Christmas vacation as well as the spring vacation.

More interest than usual is being shown in the tryouts this year and Director Roland Nussbaum is well pleased with the material which is in prospect. Rehearsals will begin the first of next week and work will start immediately on arranging programs for the concert to be given in the early spring.

Manager Hadley is now at work securing dates for the spring tour, as well as a number of special week end trips to be taken by the club this year. It is probable that the club will make a short concert tour during the Christmas vacation as well as the spring vacation.

More interest than usual is being shown in the tryouts this year and Director Roland Nussbaum is well pleased with the material which is in prospect. Rehearsals will begin the first of next week and work will start immediately on arranging programs for the concert to be given in the early spring.

Manager Hadley is now at work securing dates for the spring tour, as well as a number of special week end trips to be taken by the club this year. It is probable that the club will make a short concert tour during the Christmas vacation as well as the spring vacation.

More interest than usual is being shown in the tryouts this year and Director Roland Nussbaum is well pleased with the material which is in prospect. Rehearsals will begin the first of next week and work will start immediately on arranging programs for the concert to be given in the early spring.

Manager Hadley is now at work securing dates for the spring tour, as well as a number of special week end trips to be taken by the club this year. It is probable that the club will make a short concert tour during the Christmas vacation as well as the spring vacation.

More interest than usual is being shown in the tryouts this year and Director Roland Nussbaum is well pleased with the material which is in prospect. Rehearsals will begin the first of next week and work will start immediately on arranging programs for the concert to be given in the early spring.

Manager Hadley is now at work securing dates for the spring tour, as well as a number of special week end trips to be taken by the club this year. It is probable that the club will make a short concert tour during the Christmas vacation as well as the spring vacation.

More interest than usual is being shown in the tryouts this year and Director Roland Nussbaum is well pleased with the material which is in prospect. Rehearsals will begin the first of next week and work will start immediately on arranging programs for the concert to be given in the early spring.

Manager Hadley is now at work securing dates for the spring tour, as well as a number of special week end trips to be taken by the club this year. It is probable that the club will make a short concert tour during the Christmas vacation as well as the spring vacation.

More interest than usual is being shown in the tryouts this year and Director Roland Nussbaum is well pleased with the material which is in prospect. Rehearsals will begin the first of next week and work will start immediately on arranging programs for the concert to be given in the early spring.

Manager Hadley is now at work securing dates for the spring tour, as well as a number of special week end trips to be taken by the club this year. It is probable that the club will make a short concert tour during the Christmas vacation as well as the spring vacation.

More interest than usual is being shown in the tryouts this year and Director Roland Nussbaum is well pleased with the material which is in prospect. Rehearsals will begin the first of next week and work will start immediately on arranging programs for the concert to be given in the early spring.

Manager Hadley is now at work securing dates for the spring tour, as well as a number of special week end trips to be taken by the club this year. It is probable that the club will make a short concert tour during the Christmas vacation as well as the spring vacation.

More interest than usual is being shown in the tryouts this year and Director Roland Nussbaum is well pleased with the material which is in prospect. Rehearsals will begin the first of next week and work will start immediately on arranging programs for the concert to be given in the early spring.

Manager Hadley is now at work securing dates for the spring tour, as well as a number of special week end trips to be taken by the club this year. It is probable that the club will make a short concert tour during the Christmas vacation as well as the spring vacation.

More interest than usual is being shown in the tryouts this year and Director Roland Nussbaum is well pleased with the material which is in prospect. Rehearsals will begin the first of next week and work will start immediately on arranging programs for the concert to be given in the early spring.

NUSBAUM RESIGNS AS PRESS EDITOR

College Journalists Re-organize to Issue Paper Coming Two Semesters.

Fred T. Hollowell, who has been acting as associate editor of the Earlham Press, was elected editor-in-chief at the meeting of the Press club last evening. He will succeed Roland Nussbaum who resigned his position at the head of the college weekly on account of other duties at the college which will require a large part of his time.

The staff of the paper was reorganized last evening. The following is the new staff as elected: Editor-in-chief, Fred T. Hollowell; associate editor, Benjamin Johnson; managing editor, Harris Cox; business manager, Wallace Gifford; circulation manager, Clyde Little.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of all men of the college interested in the Press club tryouts. The meeting will be held Wednesday noon. The tryouts will extend over a period of three weeks and will be conducted by the editor of the Press in conjunction with two members of the faculty.

STAUBER SMASHES HOLDUP IN FACE

Voices in Alley Cause Him to Run After Routing Bad Man.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of valor Stauber put on high speed and fled down south Tenth street to his home. He has no idea who his assailant was.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of valor Stauber put on high speed and fled down south Tenth street to his home. He has no idea who his assailant was.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of valor Stauber put on high speed and fled down south Tenth street to his home. He has no idea who his assailant was.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of valor Stauber put on high speed and fled down south Tenth street to his home. He has no idea who his assailant was.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of valor Stauber put on high speed and fled down south Tenth street to his home. He has no idea who his assailant was.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of valor Stauber put on high speed and fled down south Tenth street to his home. He has no idea who his assailant was.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of valor Stauber put on high speed and fled down south Tenth street to his home. He has no idea who his assailant was.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of valor Stauber put on high speed and fled down south Tenth street to his home. He has no idea who his assailant was.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of valor Stauber put on high speed and fled down south Tenth street to his home. He has no idea who his assailant was.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of valor Stauber put on high speed and fled down south Tenth street to his home. He has no idea who his assailant was.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of valor Stauber put on high speed and fled down south Tenth street to his home. He has no idea who his assailant was.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of valor Stauber put on high speed and fled down south Tenth street to his home. He has no idea who his assailant was.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of valor Stauber put on high speed and fled down south Tenth street to his home. He has no idea who his assailant was.

Although it happened last Saturday night, an attempted hold-up of Oscar Stauber, a saloon keeper, was reported to the police for the first time today. Stauber was taking his sister home, walking east on South E street. A man followed them from the twelfth street, where Stauber and his sister turned north. After leaving his sister at her home Stauber returned to South E street. As he reached the corner a man collided with him violently. Stauber asked him what he wanted, and the man replied, "I want you," and reached for his hip pocket. Instead of drawing a revolver, however, he struck Stauber back of the ear, knocking his hat off. Stauber then struck the hold-up man, knocking him down. The man jumped to his feet and ran, pursued by the enraged Stauber, who finally quit the chase for lack of wind. "I'll get you for this later on," yelled Stauber to his fleeing foe. "We will see you now," was the reply, and Stauber then heard two men talking in an alley entrance. Realizing discretion as the better part of