

PETITIONS ASK BRIDGE BUILT AT E STREET

Residents of South End Prepare to Canvass Voters for Signatures to Paper Registration Day.

TO ENGAGE ATTORNEY

Committees Expect Entire City to Support Attempt to Locate Span Nearer Business District.

Plans were laid last night by eighteen men who live in territory east or west of the river affected by a bridge at South E street, to circulate petitions at the registration places Monday, asking the county commissioners to fix the location of the south end bridge.

The meeting was held at the home of Louis H. Smithmeyer, 223 South Second street, last night. The attendance was made up of members of the south-west Richmond improvement association, the South Side improvement association and independent persons.

The men who attended the meeting declare "the iron is hot" to strike for a bridge at E street, as the citizens not only in the district south of Main street, but all over the city, are aroused to the fallacy of locating a bridge of such great cost at South L street, where it would not reach territory which can be developed in the next fifteen or twenty years.

To Engage Lawyer.

It was decided to secure an attorney to represent the committee. A committee consisting of Louis Knopf, John Schwegman and Charles Ronan was appointed with instructions to retain a "scrapping lawyer" who is eager to see the bridge located.

The committee to draw up and circulate petitions for the location of the bridge at E street, consists of Edward H. Berheide, John Kemper and Joseph Waltermann.

The committees are confident that 2,000 voters will sign the petitions and if it is possible to cover every registration precinct, more names are expected.

A mass meeting of citizens will be held in the county court room Wednesday, October 14, to stimulate interest in the bridge matter. Attorneys, Earlham college professors and students and public spirited men will be asked to speak.

The committee wants representation from Earlham college, as the college faculty is unanimous for an E street bridge, as is the Earlham Cemetery association.

The committee will have 200 petitions ready for circulation Monday. To prevent confusion, each petition will be numbered and placed in the hands of some responsible man.

The bridge matter will be carried out on a more extensive plan than any other petition in the city, not excepting the local option petitions, the members say.

The men want the bridge located at South E street and open for traffic in 1915 at this time of the year if possible.

WARNS ON BRIDGE

Taxpayer Opposes E Street Site.

The board of county commissioners today received the following advice from a "North End tax Payer" in an anonymous letter:

"Say, don't build that bridge at South E street and 4 street. The Railroad was there first. You will have damage suits. It will cost thousands of dollars to make E Street wide enough and south H street you will have to buy all the slaughter houses and destroy their business and the street car is waiting on South H street to run over the Bridge and the railroad runs on the River bottom below E street build that bridge below South H street in the southern part of the city where your wives and children can drive and not have the Railroad and street cars making the horse jump off the Bridge.

GERMAN ATTACKS ENGLAND'S GREED

BERLIN, Oct. 3.—(By Marconi wireless to London.)—According to an announcement made here it is stated at Vienna that the Austrian advance against the Serbians is proceeding slowly but favorably, that two Serbian battalions were destroyed during a revolt among the Moslems in that country and that 20,000 Albanians have marched against Uskub and demanded the surrender of the town.

The National Tidende of Copenhagen, says the Berlin press has published a statement by Herr von Jagow, the German Foreign Minister replying to an attack recently made by under foreign secretary Acland of England. Jagow shows, the newspaper asserts the hollowness of the pretext of England that it was acting because Belgium's neutrality had been violated. Herr von Jagow is quoted as saying: "It has always been England's policy to incite the European nations against each other in order to rule the world herself without interference."

ASKS DIVORCE

Mrs. Belle Morris, who is on the list of those to whom saloons are forbidden to sell intoxicants, and who has been convicted for intoxication in police court, was named defendant in a suit filed by her husband, George Morris, asking divorce. Mrs. Morris was fined $5 and costs for intoxication in police court May 14 as an old offender. The police have been unable to learn where she secures the liquor but her husband says men friends provide her with all she can drink.

ALLIES STOP ATTACK

Germans Fail to Pierce Long Battle Line.

[BY LEASED WIRE.]

PARIS, Oct. 3.—Another series of violent attacks by the Germans have been repulsed by the allies. This conclusion was given out at the war office this afternoon. It was learned today that the General Staff issued orders on last Friday for attacks all along the line, declaring that the front of the Anglo-French army must be pierced.

All week the Germans tried to drive a wedge through the allies' line at some point, but, according to the French military authorities, all have failed.

VOCATIONAL WORK INSTITUTE TOPIC

The second township institute of Wayne county schools was held today in the high school building. In the morning the usual discussions of educational problems was held by twenty-five teachers, five to each subject. Problems of vocational education were discussed by F. V. Kercheval, Ray Morgan, Harvey Wright, Veva Witter and John Moreland. The various sections later adjourned to the chapel room where talks were given on educational subjects.

LOWER HOG PRICES, PREDICTS SHURLEY

Receipts at Local Yards Light With Availability of New Corn.

"I expect lower hog prices for some time to come," said Jerome Shurley, manager of the local yards, today. "You hear a lot of talk about the European war keeping the price up, but the fact is that livestock prices have steadily declined since the week the war began."

Unusually light deliveries of hogs and fat cattle featured the trade at the Glen Miller Stock Yards today. Farmers are no longer pushed by a shortage of corn, due to the new crop rapidly becoming available. With prices a dollar lower than they were a month ago, there is not the incentive for the farmer to deliver unfinished stuff to the yards.

Prospects are that the hog market will remain lower for several months. This is a normal reaction due to new corn coming on the market. The killing value of the green corn hogs is not as great as of those finished on hard grain. The packers in the large shipping centers are fighting the price down, as evidenced by a forty cent drop at Chicago in one day last week.

WOUNDED OFFICER FIGHTS 3 BANDITS

[BY LEASED WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—After being wounded in a battle with three bandits today Policeman William Muldoon staggered after them up the stairs of the elevated railroad at West Chicago avenue and fought another battle with them in view of hundreds of terrified passengers. Wounded four times, the policeman finally sank to the platform and the bandits fled down the steps. The fight started when the robbers took $15 from a Brahmin Gibbons clothing store in Milwaukee avenue.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

Keep her locks youthful, dark, glossy and thick with common garden Sage and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evening. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling. Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.—adv.
