Hitting the Bullseye.
Hardin county, Ohio, has a superintendent of schools who is aiming deeper than mere text-book learning for the children of that community. Here are a few of the instructions he recently issued to the teachers of the country schools of his county:
"Teach patriotism as the second great duty of the man. Teach reverence for the flag, and the necessity for a greater degree of civic righteousness."
"Teach the proper attitude when in the presence of the flag, and when the great national air is being sung or played."
"Teach reverence for parents. Strive to re-instate the good old words, 'father and mother,' which have all but disappeared in many families."
"Enlarge upon the attractiveness of farm life and farm labor when compared with most other forms of activity."
"Teach that all labor is honorable and idleness a disgrace. Enlarge upon the wealth producing features of farm and other labor, and the service such labor renders to humanity."
"Create and maintain a homelike school atmosphere."

REV. "BILLY" SUNDAY GOES ON BIG LARK

This is not a war picture showing the colonel of an East Indian regiment going into battle on his favorite mount. It is the well known evangelist, Rev. W. A. Sunday caught by a snapshot man while he was riding a circus baby elephant. A short time ago during his evangelistic tour in Colorado, the town in which he was holding meetings was visited by the Sells-Floto circus.

Mr. Sunday cordially recommended to his congregation the circus as an innocent and wholesome form of enjoyment and later attended the circus himself, where he was given a cordial greeting and invited to ride the baby elephant, the latest addition to the circus menagerie. The expression on his face clearly indicates that he enjoyed his ride.

Holland's safety in time of war lies in her ability to flood great tracts of land. William of Orange flooded the country in 1575, and by so doing proved out the Spanish invaders. The same policy was adopted on the occasion of the French invasion of 1872.

To My Swedish Friends Everywhere

I Wish to Say That Peruna Is the Best Household Remedy In the Whole World.

Mrs. Elin Malmgren, 133 Frederick St., West Manchester, N. H., writes: "Every spring and fall for eleven years, I have been troubled with catarrh in my throat and nose and hoarseness, and I am very pleased to state that at last I found a medicine, Peruna, from which I received great benefit, and I will hereafter use and recommend it. I always keep it in my house in case of sickness. I recommend your medicine to all my friends and every sufferer, as an excellent medicine for colds and for building up strength. We have many Swedish friends in Boston who use Peruna and think a great deal of it. If all the Swedish people in this country could know what an excellent family medicine your Peruna is I am sure they would keep it in the home."
