

PREVENTION BOARD COMES TO INSPECT CITY'S FIRE RISKS

Reports on Thorough Examination of Buildings in Business District Form Program for Merchants.

Every business man who pays fire insurance on property in the business district will have the opportunity to find out how he can reduce the premium and give Richmond a high rating tomorrow night.

The Indiana Fire Prevention association will have eighty members here tomorrow investigating every building from cellar to roof. The association members will not command that any changes be made, but the owner of the building will be notified of its faults and may take what action he chooses.

Members of the Commercial club fire insurance committee hope the high school auditorium will be filled at 8 o'clock in the evening when the association makes its report, and when several fire experts will speak.

Longley to Special of Chicago and Fire Marshal W. E. Longley of Indiana, the association will have several other speakers.

It will be possible for Richmond to enter the class with Indianapolis and Terre Haute, the two highest rated insurance cities in Indiana, within a year, representatives of insurance companies and rate bureaus have said.

The fire insurance committee is counting on a large attendance to encourage the members in pursuing the work. The club members feel that lower rates are near and the co-operation of the fire insurance policy holders is asked.

E. M. Sellers of the Sellers' fire insurance bureau will meet with the committee on Thursday or Friday. Members of the committee have asked him to be present at the meeting tomorrow night to hear personally the reports of the association members.

TWO STATE EXPERTS MAP SPECIAL WORK

Two state experts have been assigned to Wayne county to assist in working out the need for pre-vocational courses in the schools.

Superintendent Williams received word today that Miss Mabel Thatcher Wellman of Indiana university, a domestic science expert, ready to come to this county immediately. He replied that the schools are ready to receive her and he asked the state board of education that she be assigned here for no less than one month.

J. D. Harper of Purdue, an expert in agricultural education is the other investigator who will work in this county. He will come the first week in November. Mr. Williams will ask that he also be permitted to work here for one month.

Mr. Williams said: "I am gratified with the way the state board is taking up the work of arranging pre-vocational and vocational courses. Too many legislators and department heads are willing to make laws and rulings on the investigations made by inexperienced persons who stay one day in a place and spend half their time making jumps. When the two experts come to this county, I believe their visits will be fruitful for the object in view."

POLICE HUNT HORSE

Animal Stolen From Rack Says Report.

The police today are searching for a horse and rig owned by ex-County Treasurer John Turner, who lives north of the city on the Middleboro pike, and the man who stole them Saturday night. The stolen animal is a valuable three-year-old bay sorrel mare, valued at over $200. She is described as high-headed and clean limbed, weighing 1,050 pounds. The rig was an old, red-colored top buggy, with the right front rubber tire off.

Saturday night Charles Shelly, who has been breaking the mare for Turner, drove her into the city and hitched her to a rack on South Sixth street. He was gone a short time and on his return the mare and rig were gone. No trace of the thief has yet been obtained.

Best Laxative For Children

When your baby is cross and fretful instead of the happy, laughing little dear you are accustomed to, in all probability the digestion has become deranged and the bowels need attention. Give it a mild laxative, dispel the irritability and bring back the happy content of babyhood.

The very best laxative for children is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, because it contains no opiate or narcotic drug, is pleasant tasting and acts gently, but surely, without griping or other distress. Druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 451 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

COUNTY PAYS $1,035 TO REGISTER VOTES

Commissioners Refuse to Allow Inspectors Mileage for Unnecessary Travel.

The registration last week cost Wayne county $1,035, exclusive of materials. The registration officials will receive their pay this week. Only seven of the 192 officials serving were found to be delinquent in their taxes. Consequently Treasurer Chamness said the whole amount thus collected would not exceed $20.

In each precinct in the city of Richmond the cost for registration for one day was $14.10 or $14.20. In the Twenty-seventh precinct where a two days' session was held, the cost was $25.60. In the districts outside of Richmond each precinct cost $17 to $18.50 for a day's session. The added cost was made up in additional mileage which is allowed at ten cents a mile or fraction thereof.

The Woman's Relief Corps, which furnished meals in the city for the registration officials, will receive $87.70.

Bills for the registration were allowed by the commissioners. It was found necessary to amend many of the claims as inspectors, judges and clerks who found it convenient to make many trips to the auditor's office for instructions, charged them up at ten cents a mile or each fraction of a mile traveled. Only necessary expenses were allowed.

MARKET RECEIPTS LOWEST IN YEARS

Glen Miller Yard Reports 62 Calves and 381 Hogs for Week.

Receipts of live stock at the Glen Miller stockyards Saturday were the lowest they have been in seven years, according to figures given out by the management today. But twenty-one head of rather inferior cattle were handled. During the week no sheep were delivered. The calf market alone remained strong with 62 head of quail quality going over the scales. Only 67 hogs were delivered Saturday, including a load of 26 small Duroc feeders.

Market conditions are extremely unsettled, and hogs delivered are mostly consigned by farmers who are becoming alarmed at the persistent downward trend of prices. In the man, farmers are holding their hogs in anticipation of better prices. As one farmer expressed it: "We have plenty of new corn now, and we should worry."

Receipts at the local yards last week were, 62 calves, 380 hogs and 21 cattle.

MELPOLDER CHECKS CLOTHING DISPOSAL

Charity Expert Believes Many Took Advantage of Generous Givers.

Secretary Melpolder of the Central Bureau, is working out a checking system for clothing which is given charity organizations, by which every article will be traceable until it is given away or sold.

Certain persons were much chagrined when they were refused clothing a few days ago, instead of having it instantly pressed upon them. Mr. Melpolder believes the giving of clothing has been as much abused as other charity.

He found a case of a woman who washes clothes for several families well off financially. The woman is regarded as honest, as she never takes articles from the wash. Each family for whom she works gives her their cast off clothing, which is in good condition. A short time ago, the women struck upon that subject and by comparing notes, it was found that their wash woman should have a bigger wardrobe than any of them.

Since the Associated Charities rooms have been given up and Mrs. Candler is occupying a desk in the Central Bureau office, there is no storage place for clothing which is given. Some is kept in the basement of Whitewater school. The fiscal committee members are seeking a suitable location to store the gifts.

The bureau now has telephone No. 1385. This will be changed to the Associated Charities number 2050 later.

FARM TRUCK FORMS SOUTH SIDE EXHIBIT

About three hundred members of the South Side Improvement association enjoyed the picnic and harvest festival at Bealview yesterday.

A display of garden and farm products which would have been a credit to a county fair, were exhibited by members of the association, who are in such business. Four prizes were given. The judges were St. K. Morgan, Charles Sittob, William Walker and Fred Hachman.

William Steinbrink received first prize of $5 for his general display of garden products, pumpkins, chickens and ducks. The second prize of $2.50 was given to Conrad Zwissler for his general display. He also received the fourth prize for the best bushel of potatoes. The third prize went to Fred Hackman for the best display of corn.

There was music from 2 in the afternoon until 7 o'clock in the evening by Weisbrod's Saxophone orchestra and the Richmond Mannerchor. The Mannerchor and the German Clitair Verein were the only guests.

HUNGARIAN IN JAIL AFTER RENT SCRAP

A considerable representation of the local Hungarian colony was in city court this morning to attend the trial of Andy Smith, charged with provoking his fellow countryman, George Elik, to assault him. An interpreter was required for Elik and three women.

Elik had been charged with assault and battery but the charge against him was dismissed. Trouble arose over rent. Elik alleged Smith owed him. It was testified that Mrs. Elik, a small, frail mother of four young children, pushed Smith out of the house and threw his clothing after him. Elik then smothered Smith with a stone and the latter hurled a rock, breaking two boards in the side of the house.

Smith said that when Elik had no job he helped him along, but when conditions were reversed Elik ordered him to find another boarding place. Smith reluctantly testified that he had appeared in city court seven times to answer various charges. He was fined $20 and costs.

Sam Wilson and John Dorsey, both colored, who got into a fight over a pool game, were each fined $1 and costs.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after-effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "dullness" and that lousy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 30c and 60c. All druggists.
