More Limelight for Finly.

Clyde H. Tavenner, a member of congress from an Illinois district, has found time, aside from his official duties, to go into the press agent business, and one of his most enthusiastic clients is the Hon. Finly Gray, "Our Finly." Of the Tavenner-Gray mutual admiration society, the New York Sun has the following to say:

"The Congressional Record of October 6 is fattened with 'extension of remarks' of the Hon. Clyde H. Tavenner of Illinois, on 'The Legislative Achievements of the Democratic Party.' This means the legislative achievements of Tavenner: 'I have devoted considerable time and energy,' 'I have directed attention,' 'I have called the attention of congress,' 'I am in favor of a straight dollar a day pension,' 'I have made it one of my principal duties since becoming a member of congress to make frequent trips to the pension bureau,' 'I had the pleasure of supporting this amendment,' 'I am carrying on a campaign to have the government locate the proposed $7,000,000 armor plate factory at Rock Island'—in his congress district; he is issuing his personal campaign literature at the expense of a benevolent government. If the government printed handbills 'Vote for Tavenner' it could not serve as his campaign agent more directly.

"Nothing new; any more than Mr. Tavenner's proud assertion that 'though one of the youngest members of congress'—he is 32—he yields not to the oldest member in his respect for 'the man who labors' and of course exemptive legislation for the same. More original and touching is his boom for the representative of the Sixth Indiana district, a statesman too little known in the greedy east:

"Finly Gray is one of the clearest thinkers in the American congress. Physically he is tall and gaunt and old fashioned, and as he sits among the modern, present-day type of statesmen on the floor of the house he is a character study who will attract the visitor's attention. One can hardly help imagining that he has just stepped out of an American congress of 100 years ago.

"Finly Gray is in many respects a strange and unusual man, a genius in every sense of the word. He usually keeps his own counsel, and he has his peculiarities, one of which is that the burdens of the masses of the people lay heavy upon his heart. When he speaks he speaks as one inspired, and his remarks in the Record the following morning are literature.

"I know Finly Gray, and I consider him one of the most sincere and gifted friends the plain people have in public life today."

"Thus the extended remarks of Tavenner of Cordova, can also be used to collect votes for Finly Gray, the inspired genius, the Edmund Burke of Connersville. That gifted giant has only to 'extend' his own remarks and butter Clyde as copiously as Clyde butters Finly. Thus Illinois and Indiana kiss one another, and a sort of interlocking interstate Taffy Directorate is established."

The German Alliance wishes to thank Mr. Edgar Liff for the stand he has taken against the article of William Dudley Foulke. We Germans read the first article of Mr. Foulke's series with great interest. He seemed to be giving a true presentation of the German's love for home and the ideals that cling about it. We felt that he was interpreting our feelings.

No man ever showed greater diplomacy than did Bismark in the Franco-Prussian war, and yet this great man loved his home life above everything in the world. Many do appreciate the conditions and the jealous forces trying to destroy Germany.

We beg Mr. Foulke not to arouse the sleeping lion in our breast. We love our adopted country, we would sacrifice all for her, but let it be understood that we honor our traditions, we love this great republic, but we do not forget our Fatherland. We submit the following resolution, adopted by the German Alliance convention at Hammond, written by Professor Sherer of Bloomington.

"We are in no sense advocates of the war. As loyal American citizens we support the attitude of our government in the world struggle and heartily endorse the efforts of our president to establish peace. As American citizens of German descent our sympathy in this war belongs with the German people. We believe we understand the endeavors of modern Germany and therefore venture the assertion: 'Her thoughts were free from murder.' However, we regret very much that a large portion of the Anglo-American press has sought, and in a measure is still seeking, either to brand Germany as the instigator of the world war, or at least, and often to cast doubt on her knowledge, to cast suspicion upon her, in order to create sentiment against her. The German-American gives this country the best that he has. The more closely he stands in touch with the culture of the Fatherland, the more he can give. The American of German extraction, through his industry and his devotion to the welfare of this country, is creating for himself a new Fatherland—the United States of America. He who seeks to deny his nationality—he cannot give it up—becomes not only an unworthy citizen, but also an unworthy man—a hypocrite."

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. HODGDON, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Me.

2. CHARLOTTE, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with pains in both sides and was very nervous. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor, and I never would get well until I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health."—Mrs. ROSA SAYS, 16 Winona St., Charlotte, N. C.

3. HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do as hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. ANA WILT, 196 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.

4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and I worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LAURA A. GRISWOLD, 2300 Blk. East William Street, Decatur, Ill.

5. CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 7305 Madison Av., Cleveland, O.

SHIPMENT OF DRUG TO RICHMOND FIEND REASON FOR PROBE

The police are working on a case which is believed to be a violation of a stringent federal law. It involves the shipping into this city from Louisville, Ky., a box containing five bottles of morphine to a young woman said to be a victim of the drug.

Patrolman Vogelsong was informed Saturday that the young woman had received an express package which was believed to contain morphine. He went to the place where she worked and demanded the package, which the woman turned over to him without comment.

The bottles containing the deadly drug were in a cigar box, carefully wrapped in excelsior. There is no clue as to the sender of the package, unless this information can be obtained from the records of the express office at Louisville.

Under a recent act of congress severe penalties are provided for interstate shipments of drugs to people who are victims of the drug habit.

CRASH KILLS THREE

[BY LEASED WIRE.]
GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Oct. 12.—The wrecking train clearing away the debris 18 miles east of here, where three persons were killed and 14 injured in Sunday's wreck, found little to do. A twenty-ton boulder which had rolled down the mountain and wrecked the train had itself cleared away the most of the wreckage. Two steel cars had been crushed like cardboard and the fragments hurled into the Grand river.

What Would You Do?
There are many times when one man questions another's actions and motives. Men act differently under different circumstances. The question is, what would you do right now if you had a severe cold? Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and know its value. Mrs. O. E. Sargent, Peru, Ind., says, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is worth its weight in gold and I take pleasure in recommending it." For sale by all dealers.
