Departure of Ambassador
Anticipates Declaration of War Between Turkey and Allied Powers.

BEDOUINS MOBILIZE

Eight Army Corps of Turkey
Ready to Invade Egypt—
Coast Cities Guarded by Warships.

News Service.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The Turkish ambassador to England was handed his passports today. This was in connection with the anticipation of the declaration of war. He announced that he would leave London tomorrow. He is expected to go to Berlin.

A Reuter dispatch from Constantinople says that Turkey has already invaded British soil. Two thousand armed Bedouins are reported to have entered Egypt.

England has made elaborate preparation to defend the Suez canal.

Eight army corps of Turkish troops are said to have been mobilized for the Egyptian campaign and are stationed in Palestine and along Sinai peninsula.

Ambassadors Leave.

The ambassadors of the allied powers in Constantinople have received their passports. The British diplomat is expected to arrive at Salomika, Greece.

A telegram from Sofia says that he arrived at Dedeagatch by special train from Constantinople, accompanied by members of the embassy staff.

Greece has begun the mobilization of her army upon a complete war footing and probably will put a big army in the field in her newly acquired possessions, according to press telegram.

The following dispatch has been received by the Express from Rome:

"Four hundred thousand Turks are massed on the Caucasus border, and 300,000 more are waiting at Belut, Jaffa and other points for shipment to the Salmai peninsula. The Egyptian ports are said to be well guarded by French and British warships.

News of the mobilization of the Greek army was regarded as one of the most important developments arising from Turkey's advent into the war. It is believed that the Greek army has already been secretly mobilized.

BETTER BABIES

The crusade for better babies has spread from coast to coast, and taken firm hold of American mothers. Few women realize how much the ill health of the mother influenced the unborn child, both physically and mentally. Women who suffer from mysterious pains, backache, nervousness, mental depression, headaches, etc., should refer to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs which for nearly forty years has been the standard remedy for these ailments.—Adv.

of business depression are with the Republicans this year regardless of their politics two years ago.

"The letter circulated here against P. J. Lynch has resulted in a tremendous fight to his standard by both Republicans and Catholics, who wish to repudiate this slander upon the intelligence of Wayne county. The race is entirely between Lynch and Gray. Judge Fox and Lewis Bowman will each be elected by a big majority."

OFFER FINE PRIZES FOR ARTS DISPLAY

Clubs in Federation Announce Nov. 26 as Opening of Exhibition.

Arts and crafts work by women of Wayne county will be placed on exhibit at the high school gallery, Nov. 26, under the auspices of the Federation of Clubs, in an elimination contest to determine the material which will be sent as a part of the Indiana exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco.

Entry blanks for this exhibition can be obtained from Miss Edna Johnston, 1707 Main street, any time after Nov. 15. Miss Johnston is president of the City Federation of Clubs, and is also county chairman, and will have charge of the collecting of the exhibit. All articles submitted must be received not later than Nov. 21.

The exhibit will be judged here, and the best articles will then be sent to Indianapolis for the final elimination, before being sent to San Francisco, as a part of the Women's Exhibit of Indiana.

Offer Good Prizes.

"There will be no cash prizes offered at San Francisco," said Miss Johnston today, "but substantial prizes have been provided for the local exhibit. This will include several special prizes."

Mrs. J. E. Cathell and Mrs. Ada L. Bernhardt, have offered a special prize for the use of the Nasturtium. This prize will be divided in three parts, which includes the drawing of the flower in the natural state, a design made from the Nasturtium, and an oil painting made using that design in a decorative manner. This prize is limited to Wayne township, but all other prizes will be for the county.

REV. DAVIS OPENS REVIVAL SERVICE

Special evangelistic services will begin at the Second Presbyterian church next Sunday evening. Services for the series of meetings, which will last for at least two weeks, will be delivered by the pastor, the Rev. E. E. Davis, The Rev. K. S. Mitchell will have charge of the singing and will direct a large choir made up of members of the congregation. The services will be held each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

PLAN CHURCH SOCIAL

The King's Daughters of the Second Presbyterian church will have charge of the reception to the entire membership which will be given in the church parlors Friday evening. They expect to make this the biggest social event of the year. A detailed program will be planned by the committee at a meeting tomorrow evening.

MAN BEATS SPOUSE

A family row between Richard Schaffer, colored barber, at 440 South Eighth street, and his wife yesterday afternoon led to a report that a murder had been committed and that Mrs. Schaffer had died at the hospital after her husband attacked her with a razor. An investigation was made, and it was found that Mrs. Schaffer and her husband had had differences and that he had beaten her with his fist into insensibility. He told a doctor that a big lump over her eye was caused by a fall when she had a fit. Mrs. Schaffer did not attempt to prosecute her husband and no arrests were made. The police said Schaffer did not have any weapons when he attacked his wife, and there was no cutting.

IDENTIFIES SUICIDE AS ASYLUM INMATE

The body found hanging in a barn near Greensboro Saturday was identified by Coroner Peirce as that of Chauncey H. Fluke, 50, an escaped inmate of Easthaven asylum, who was sent to the institution August 8 from Markle, Wells county.

The body had been hanging two days, Dr. Peirce said. The man was adjudged insane because of his suicidal and homicidal tendencies, but he was in good physical condition. He was permitted to do light work on the farm. He escaped from his ward after midnight October 23.

Contrary to the rules of the asylum, Fluke had four dollars in his pocket. In the few days between his escape and his death he did not suffer from want, although he was believed to be a discouraged laborer at first from the appearance given by a two week's growth of beard. The body was sent to relatives in Wells county.

ASKS TO FREE MATE

On his wife's plea, William Spinner, 332 South Eighth street, colored, was released from police court today. He was charged with assault and battery on Esther Archie, a sister-in-law and his wife.

"When he is sober, you couldn't find a better man, judge," Mrs. Spinner said when she was called to the stand to give evidence to convict her husband. She said he only drank when he was not working.

BOLD THUGS ENTER TWO DRUGSTORES THROUGH GRATINGS

Thieves Get $32 From Thislethwaite Pharmacies After Entrance by Raising Sidewalk Grates.

Two of the boldest burglaries reported to the Richmond police in several years took place some time after midnight, Sunday. The North Eighth street Thislethwaite pharmacy and the Thislethwaite pharmacy at Sixth and Main streets were entered. Twelve dollars was taken from a cash register in the north end store and $20 was taken from a register in the Main street store.

In the glare of a street light the thieves took up a sidewalk grating in front of the North Eighth street store, entered the basement and got into the business room. There they carried the cash register located in the rear of the room to a place behind the prescription counter, looted it of its contents and departed from the building by the same way they had gained entrance.

Enter by Cellar Way.

Some time Saturday night before the Main street store was closed a key to a surface sidewalk entrance to the cellar was removed from a hook where it was hanging opposite the side door, without the knowledge of the employees. Apparently the thieves after their visit to the north end store came to the Main street store and unlocked the padlock to the iron surface cellarway. This they did while standing almost under the street lamp located at the corner of Sixth and Main streets. In this store only the rear register was looted.

Discovery of the burglarious raids was not made until after the employees of the two stores opened up the business Sunday morning and both reported to the police about the same time. There is no clue as to who the thieves are, but they apparently were well acquainted with the two stores. No stock was taken at either store.

BRACE ON TRUCK GIVES WAY AGAIN

The ancient ladder truck at No. 2 house in the city building is again disabled. This time it is an iron bar which supports the rear end of the truck and ladder over the back.

The board of works was called in conference by the fire chief to view the truck. They decided on a method of repair which they believe will be more satisfactory than the numerous previous repairs of the same brace. The truck can be moved but cannot be taken out to a fire call.
