

SOCIETY INTERESTS CHILDREN IN SALES OF XMAS STAMPS

Anti-Tuberculosis Body Offers Pupils Per Cent of Receipts — County's Assignment to be 130,000.

To interest schools of Wayne county to enter the campaign for selling Red Cross seals, arrangements are being made by the anti-tuberculosis society to permit the pupils to retain twenty-five per cent of the receipts of their sales for school libraries.

Wayne county's supply of stamps this year is 130,000 although less than 100,000 were sold last year. Dr. S. Edgar Bond, county sales agent for the tuberculosis society, said he believed the wide observance of health day will create a new demand for stamps and most of the supply will be sold.

The Domestic Science has contracted for a supply of the stamps. The association will retain fifty per cent in its treasury. It probably will be the active agent in Richmond for disposing of many of the stamps.

Twenty-five per cent of the money from all stamps sold goes to the state commission or national commission while the anti-tuberculosis society has seventy-five per cent at its disposal. Thus if twenty-five per cent is allowed the schools for selling the seals, it will be profitable to the tuberculosis society and will be the means of the society for next year's work.

The recent revival of the anti-tuberculosis work in this county by agencies outside the anti-tuberculosis society with which the society is co-operating, will be pressed forward and given publicity in order to interest citizens in giving their pennies to the cause through the medium of the stamps.

We have now only ten first class battleships—eighteen counting those under construction."

SENSE OF HUMOR

HELPS MELPOLDER

Charity Secretary Sees Ridic- ulous as Well as Pathetic Situations.

The business of dispensing charity has its humorous side, according to secretary Melpolder of the central bureau. Any one with a sense of humor can get a good laugh from many of the experiences of the charity worker.

The other day Mr. Melpolder provided a family with transportation to return to Virginia. He came from the south, and recognized in the woman an habitual snuff-dipper. He approached the husband about it.

"Your wife is a snuff-dipper, isn't she?" he asked.

Well, no. She used to be, but I broke her of that nasty habit, and now she chews tobacco. That won't hurt anybody," replied the Virginian.

Two or three days ago a motherly looking woman entered the office and told Mr. Melpolder a long story about "her boy" whom she said was no relation to her, but she felt a deep affection and concern for him. She finished by asking for a pair of pants.

"I want my boy to go to Sunday school with me Sunday," the woman explained. "I would not want him associating with the other Sunday school pupils in shabby clothes. But I want him to be a Christian, and he will be embarrassed unless he has some better clothes to go to Sunday school in."

Mr. Melpolder was sympathetic and looked through his card index to see if any trousers were listed. In order to gain some idea of the size required, he asked a few questions.

"How old is your boy?" he asked.

"My boy? Oh, he's 26 going on 27," the woman replied.

Further questioning revealed that the "boy" had been supporting himself for ten years, and his mother for part of the time. He told the woman to send "her boy" to the bureau, but he has not appeared.

NEW YORK FIRM

ASKS FOR WORK

William Mueser, representing the Concrete-Steel Engineering company of Park Row building, New York, appeared before the board of county commissioners today asking that his firm be given the bridge designing business of Wayne county.

As the board retains an expert designer, John W. Mueller of New Castle, the board decided that it would be unnecessary to give the New York firm any business unless there is a special design which is needed for which plans can be secured of the engineering com- pany.

ST. ANDREW'S PLANS GYMNASIUM COURSE

Prof. Joseph M. Richter of St. Andrew's school has announced the plan for fitting up a gymnasium for the school.

The St. John's Berchman Boys' society has volunteered to raise the funds for the purchase of equipment, and active work has been commenced in the matter of selecting the necessary apparatus. A full equipment of floor apparatus and weights will be installed, and it is hoped to have the gymnasium ready for use by the first of the year.

Domestic science work in the school will also begin about January 1. A part of the equipment has been purchased and a rough outline of the course of study has been worked out. In this work Prof. Richter is co-operating with the sisters of the church.

Prof. Richter said today: "The benefits from this new work will be very great, and we expect to develop a complete course as soon as possible. However, we wish to keep the work balanced and do not intend to neglect the other studies. I have experienced several cases where pupils coming from other schools where the vocational studies were carried to extremes, were deficient in their knowledge of grammar and arithmetic. We hope to avoid any such conditions in St. Andrew's."

News From Travelers' Protective Association

By DECO, Post C Writer.

Sam Ford, enroute from the East to his home in Indianapolis, after an absence of two months, stopped off in Richmond Friday and Saturday just to pass a few hours with some of his old cronies in the Post rooms. He is looking well. He always does, and he fairly radiates enthusiasm; energy and youth. Nobody ever thinks of asking how "old" Sam is; rather it is "How young is Sam," and the nearest guess is that he is at least twenty years younger than he was ten years ago.

Being one of the earliest members of the Post, it is natural that the Post and its members should be very close to Sam's heart, and Friday night as he sat in the post rooms conversing with friends, he grew reminiscent and recalled some of the early trials and tribulations of the post soon after its formation. "It was a great day," said Sam, "when we moved into these post rooms away back there in 1895, and the furnishings we had were not exactly luxurious, but they answered the purpose well. Just now I think Post C rooms are not to be equalled in but few places in the country."

Charley Morgan, now residing at Muncie, was in Richmond during the past week and was a visitor at the Post rooms.

Next Saturday night, Nov. 14th, there will be the initial smoker of the season. The postmembers are all expected to be present. Make up your mind now to be there.

The last meeting of the state board at Anderson resulted in Posts O and AA reconciling their differences and amalgamating as one post—viz: Post O. A committee of five from each post chosen by the president of each met jointly with State President Steele as conferees, adjusted an agreement which was formally ratified by the members of each post and post AA surrendered its charter and fraternized with Post O. So ends a somewhat lengthy chapter, which has been a bone of contention in the Indiana division.

Membership reports from every state in which the T. P. A. is represented, are not encouraging. This is a real off year in organization building of every sort, and the T. P. A. with other bodies in the fraternal line, has suffered in consequence. There has been no backward step excepting in the membership, the gains falling way short of last year at this time. Business depression in every part of the country is responsible for the lack of activity in the T. P. A. boosting business, yet there is no time when an organization of this character is called on to do more work than now. There are prospects, according to National officers, for a revival in the membership campaigns by the first of the new year, perhaps earlier. Post C might add a number of names to its roster if the effort is made.

Don't growl if there is something you don't find in the Post news column which you think ought to be there. The Post scribe is not a clairvoyant, therefore is unable to give the news unless it is given to him. Stir around a trifle and leave your offerings at the post rooms with Secretary Hasty and the scribe will gather them in each week.

DANDRUFFY HEADS BECOME HARMLESS

Scalp Dries—Chokes out the Hair And Prevents its Growth.

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will be silky, fluffy, lustrous, soft and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid Arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails. [Advertisement]

STOVALL TO TALK ON CHURCH WOMAN

"The Woman and the Church" will be the subject of Rev. W. O. Stovall at the First Baptist church Sunday evening in a series of sermons on "The Church and Life." This will be a chance for the women to hear what a man has to say about them, but at a time when so much is being said about woman's rights this subject ought to interest the man as well as the woman. It is promised that the service will be brief and to the point.
