YARDS MAY RE-OPEN FOR TRADE MONDAY

Will Renew Activity Unless Clem Traces Stock Disease to County.

Following the order to close the Glen Miller stock yards yesterday, Dr. Clem received instructions to close the yards at Fountain City and Hagerstown. The shipment of hogs from this county, which made up part of a load that developed foot and mouth disease in Jersey City, consisted of three carloads. One load was sent from each of the yards closed.

Dr. Clem has obtained the names of the farmers who had hogs in each of these shipments, and will visit all the farms to look for indications of the disease. He visited several farms in the vicinity of Richmond yesterday but found no trace of the malady.

The work of disinfecting the Glen Miller yards was commenced yesterday afternoon, and will be completed today. All the pens were sprayed with a strong solution of whitewash and carbolic acid, and all litter removed and burned. Unless the disease is traced to some local farm, the yards will be open for business on Monday.

WHEAT CLOSES $1.63 WITH OPENING POOR

Corn and Oats Off With Trading Light and of Bearish Temper.

[BY LEASED WIRE.]
CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Opening trades today showed losses of 1½ to 2½¢ from last night's closing, the range for May being $1.63½ to $1.62½, and July $1.40 to $1.39½.

Corn and oats were ¼¢ lower. Provisions were steady.

Trading was not large, brokers evidently being unwilling to take large commitments in the short session with the Sunday holiday ahead.

After the flurry at the opening and its consequent depression, the market remained steady with slight price changes, the closing being about 1½¢ to 1¾¢ lower on wheat. The trading was light with the temper bearish owing to a comparative lull in export call.

Corn was off about 1½¢ and oats ¼¢. Provisions closed stronger and about fifteen cents higher.

SALE OF FINE HOGS ATTRACTS BREEDERS

Pike and Jones Receive Uniformly High Prices for Pure Bred Herd.

A crowd of farmers and hog breeders attended the sale of bly type Poland China hogs held by the firm of Jones and Pike at their farm north of Centerville today.

This is the most modern and up to date hog farm in Wayne county and the quality of the animals offered attracted buyers from several states.

The sale was held in the large sale pavilion which has a seating capacity of over 400 persons, and is so constructed that there was no delay in getting the animals into the ring.

All the animals sold had been immunized from cholera, and in prime sale condition. For several years this firm has had hogs of unusual size at the head of their herd, and they have produced a strain of hogs that are uniformly large and of excellent quality. Their present herd now weighs about 900 pounds.

As in the case of other sales held recently, the effects of the foot and mouth disease were noticeable in the number of buyers from points outside of the county, and the majority of the animals went to local buyers which kept the price down somewhat, but the fifty head sold averaged about $40.

CHOICE OF MUELLER MAY LEAD TO SUITS

Court action may result because the county commissioners voted to retain Bridge Engineer Mueller for another year. The commissioners were informed today that they are required to have the court pass on the regular employed county surveyor before they can retain any other engineers.

The law in this case, according to the information given the commissioners, requires that the judge of the circuit court must declare the surveyor unable to handle the designing of bridges and superintending of their construction either because of other duties for the county or for any other reason.

FOX ORDERS BOY TO QUIT SMOKING

"Stop smoking cigarettes, boy. They're worse than whiskey."

This was the advice of Judge Fox in circuit court today to Everett Koenigkramer, nineteen year old boy who was caught last week robbing Y. M. C. A. lockers.

Koenigkramer is charged with petty larceny, the lightest charge which could be placed against him. He will not be released from it, but as long as he does not hear anything of the affidavit against him, Judge Fox said.

WOMAN'S SCREAMS SCARE NEIGHBORS

When the police reached the home of Jelliah Fields, colored, last night they thought Leonard Sanders, colored, was attempting to exterminate her. The woman's yells froze the blood of the neighbors. So Sanders was locked up. Today both the woman and her physician stated that she was on a rampage last night and Sanders was merely trying to prevent her running amuck. Sanders was then released. He says the woman was trying to carve him with a razor.

CONNERSVILLE SETS DATES FOR ROACH

The Connerville Business Men's Athletic club basketball team is all "het" up over Roach's "Y" team concealing their game because of the fact that they did not want to make the trip in an automobile truck and to show Roach that they are not afraid to play his team have offered him a game for either Feb. 18 or 20. A. G. Trusler, treasurer of the club, in his letter to Roach says, "We may not beat you but we will assure you a good game." It is not known whether the local team will arrange for the game or not.

SUES FOR SUPPORT
