WHEAT IS IRREGULAR ON CHICAGO MARKET

[BY LEASED WIRE.]
 CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Wheat rules irregular during the day, and was quite strong late, more because of small offerings in the pit than of any urgency in the demand. The net gains for the day were 2 1/2 to 4c.

Cash sales of wheat here were very small, and they were reported as small at the seaboard.

Corn closed at 2 1/2 to 2 1/2c higher, and oats were up 1/4 to 1/2c. Cash sales of corn here were 795,000 bushels, with 500,000 bushels for export.

Hog products were higher.

VETERINARIANS FAVOR CHOLERA QUARANTINE

The blame for the widespread ravages of hog cholera was placed largely on the farmers, by the veterinarians in the state in the third annual Hog Cholera Conference at Lafayette.

Dr. Lee C. Hoover of this city attended the meeting and said that the reports from all over the state indicated that cholera was still prevalent, and that in most localities little progress had been made because the farmers were too skeptical, and would not help stamp out the disease.

He said that the veterinarians who attended the meeting were in favor of the passage of quarantine regulations that would make it possible to quarantine a farm where cholera was present, just as effectively as for the foot and mouth disease. Then the farmer would begin to wake up, and something could be accomplished.

FARM BRINGS $10,200

Another big real estate transaction, made a matter of record today, brought the record of the past week to the highest in a year. Wilson B. Fouts sold his 120-acre farm to Cleo Oler for $10,200 cash. The farm is located on the Economy-Williamsburg pike in Perry township. The deed required $10.50 in war revenue stamps.

Y. M. I. ASKS WOMEN TO FORM AUXILIARY

Women over eighteen years from both St. Andrews and St. Mary's Catholic churches are invited to mass meeting which has been scheduled for the St. Andrews' Lyceum tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock to organize an auxiliary to the Gonzaga council of Y. M. I.

Speakers from Indianapolis and members of the grand council of the Y. M. I. and of the ladies auxiliaries will attend. After the organization meeting a reception will be held.

Mrs. Sarry Barrett, grand president of the auxiliary, will be the principal speaker. Other addresses will be made by her secretary Miss Bennett, and Thomas Carroll, Brazil; Robert Riley and Mr. McCarty of Indianapolis. It is probable that other persons from Indianapolis will accompany the speakers.

HOLD SUSPECTED MAN

A man giving his name as Charles Thompson and who said he lived in Oklahoma was arrested on a charge of being a suspicious character this afternoon following his attempt to pawn some clothing which was practically new. When arrested Thompson had a .45 calibre revolver on his person. Chief Goodwin says he does not suspect the man of having committed the recent burglaries in this city. His record will be thoroughly investigated.

MARION LAWRENCE

Marion Lawrence, commander-in-chief of North America's organized Sunday-school forces, will speak to the citizens of Richmond, Wednesday, March 17, concerning the great war on the liquor traffic now being waged by the International Sunday School association. He will tell also of the strategic position occupied by the Sunday School army for the upbuilding of the nation's future. Mr. Lawrence believes that the Sunday-school is a stronger guarantee of peace than all the armored cruisers in existence. The particular occasion of Mr. Lawrence's visit to Richmond, March 17, is to help the International Adult Bible Class Four Party, including W. C. Pearce and Bert Cashman (of the International Staff); George W. Bond, projectionist, and Dr. Geo. W. Lau, director of the May Festival Chorus in Detroit, Michigan. The four party will hold a series of educational and inspirational meetings for the uplift of Adult Bible Class Work in the Sunday school.

DR. KELLY MODIFIES SUSPENSION PENALTY

Four of the seven students of Earlham college who were "fired" from school several weeks ago following a hazing episode, will return to school sometime within the next month. At the time of the suspension President Kelly ruled that six of the students would not be allowed to return to college until next semester, but this action was reconsidered.

GETS PRISON TERM

Homer Staley, 24, was sentenced to from one to seven years in Jeffersonville reformatory, fined $5 and costs and disfranchised for one year by Judge Fox today for false pretense. Staley had no defense. Township Trustee Edgerton had the records to show that Staley had been receiving charity under false pretenses. The heavy sentence was given according to the law and partly as an example.

MILLS DEFENDS SALARIES PAID TO OFFICERS OF ROCK ISLAND ROAD KILL 115 BILLS IN 15 MINUTES

[BY LEASED WIRE.]
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Directors of many big corporations generally are too busy personally to inquire into details of operation and financial of the concern, and depend largely on the officers for such information. Ogden Mills of New York today told the Interstate Commerce Commission in its inquiry into the finances of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway.

Mills, who is a director in the railroad, personally holding a million dollars' worth of its stock and representing large holdings of relatives in addition, testified that he did not have the time to go into all details of the affairs of the railroad.

Asked by Chief Counsel Folk whether he considered the big salaries paid officers of the Rock Island proper, Mills assumed the officers were entitled to what they received.

The fire of James Speyer, the New York banker, was aroused when Counselor Folk asked him if his house had ever agreed to buy suit cases from the Rock Island and later had declined to keep the agreement.

"That is an insulting question," said Speyer. "That would be a dishonest action."

"I care very much about public opinion of New York bankers," said Speyer. "So much has been said against Wall Street and its methods I think someone should say a good word and set the public right."

Members of the family of the Rev. Joseph Beck, 130 South Seventh street, are convinced that some one got into the house about 6 o'clock last evening while they were at supper, but was frightened away before he had an opportunity to secure any valuables.

"We carelessly left the front door unlocked," the Rev. Mr. Beck said today. "While we were at supper we imagined we heard some one walking about the second floor. Investigation failed to find any trace of a burglar, but a window in a bedroom, which we knew to have been closed, was found open."

A member of the family of W. B. Dye, 123 South Seventh street, telephoned to the police, but the officers were unable to find any trace of the thief. The neighborhood was greatly excited by the report.

ASSASSORS RECEIVE FINAL INSTRUCTIONS

About seventy assessors and deputy assessors will come to the court house Monday to receive supplies. They will also be instructed on a uniform system of assessing farm land and city property.

There are thirty-four deputies in Wayne township under Township Assessor Howarth. Other townships have an average of two deputies.

BECK HELPS PARTY CUT DOWN EXPENSE

Postmaster Beck will assist Democracy in reducing expenses, wherever possible, to the extent he can in the post office, according to a statement he made today.

There will be a general curtailment of expenses, the postmaster said. No new men will be taken on although probably the first of next year, he said extra help would be needed in the money department.

"There will be nothing new and no changes while this war lasts," the postmaster said. "I will not ask for an automobile for parcel post delivery as I had decided to do, but this will be needed too before long."

DR. KELLY MODIFIES SUSPENSION PENALTY

At the time of the suspension President Kelly ruled that six of the students would not be allowed to return to college until next semester, but this action was reconsidered.

Carroll Edwards of Indianapolis will return to the college after two weeks' suspension, and Harris Cox of Indianapolis, James Hutton, Brighton, Md., and Wendell Wildman of Selma, O., will return to college following the Easter vacation.

It is understood that the other three students, although granted the privilege of returning within the next month, will not re-enter college.
