

JUDGE REDMAN IS GIVEN A GRILLING; HE DENIES FRAUD

INDIANAPOLIS, March 31.—Judge Eli H. Redman who, next to Mayor Dean Roberts, is the most prominent among the twenty-eight defendants in the Terre Haute election trial, underwent a grilling cross-examination by Attorney Dalley for nearly two hours today. Redman was elected by ten votes over Charles Pulliam for the Vigo circuit judgeship. At times Redman became confused, but most of the time he answered in clear, strong tones. Redman admitted he borrowed money from saloon men and gamblers while he was a candidate, but denied every charge of fraud which government witnesses made against him.

Admits Haats.
Under a severe grilling by District Attorney Dalley, Judge Eli Redman admitted that his trip to the governor's office the day after election to get his commission indicated undue haste. Redman acknowledged that the governor declared he had numerous telephone calls complaining that there had been frauds and protesting against the issuance of the commission and that he (Redman) did not receive his commission until a few days later.

Dalley asked Redman about the sending of Charles Clogston, editor of a Terre Haute newspaper, to jail for contempt in asserting that the grand jury impaneled in Terre Haute to probe the election was a "gang picked" affair. Redman admitted that Clogston was summoned to appear within twelve minutes' time to answer the charge. Redman's memory was bad on many details of the Clogston case. "Anything particularly wrong with your memory today?" asked Dalley.

Clogston was sent to jail within two hours after he was brought before Redman, but he denied that he was not given ample time to answer the charge.

"Why you know that a hand picked grand jury was called for the one purpose of calling government witnesses who had flocked to Indianapolis, to prevent their records being taken," said Dalley. Redman denied this.

Dalley told Judge Anderson that on Redman's grand jury, ostensibly called to investigate the election in Terre Haute, were three inspectors in the "rotten precincts," one a bartender, and one the son of a road house keeper. Redman denied that Frank Fippen, arrested in Indianapolis on a charge of passing bogus checks, was attorney or him, but Dalley showed three documents which were signed by Fippen as attorney for him. Redman subsequently admitted he had been at a conference at the Dennison hotel when Fippen was present and later acknowledged that Fippen was the survivor of three special judges appointed by him to decide his contest with Candidate Pulliam, whom Redman defeated by en votes.

'BANISH' DAUGHTER TO ACTOR HUSBAND

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph J. Muller, of Castle Muller, Monticello, N. Y., parents of Alma Muller Wapperman, have announced that they have banished her from their home for one year and put her off in their wills. They say they forced her to join her husband, Frank Wapperman, nephew of Mrs. E. H. Harriman, and an actor in a stock company in Savannah, Ga. Mrs. Wapperman is with her husband in Savannah playing a part in the same company. She announced there that nothing will separate her from him again. Immediately after their marriage Mrs. Wapperman deserted her husband and said she never would see him again.

FACTORY GIRLS LIVE ON 25 CENT MEALS

ANNE S. PECK

Recently Miss Annie S. Peck, mountain climber, author, explorer, big-game shooter, announced that any one could live on 25 cents a meal—that she did it, and managed to keep healthy and strong enough to surmount lofty peaks and make muscle-wearing ascents. Now several shop girls and factory employes in New York have corroborated Miss Peck, as is shown in evidence taken before state investigation committees, when the girls quoted Miss Peck often, and said her menus for 25-cent meals were practicable and satisfying.

POSTPONES VISIT.
That the coming of the Honeywell party to Richmond for an evangelistic meeting, will be indefinitely postponed, seems probable following a meeting of the local Ministerial Association this morning to discuss plans for the meeting. It became known that on April 12, the date set for the Honeywell meeting, the local Presbytery will have an all day meeting at the First Presbyterian church. For this reason the ministers failed to reach any definite decision today, and the committee of which Rev. James is chairman, will try to arrange for another date for the Honeywell meeting.

FEAR FOR AMERICANS.
WASHINGTON, March 31.—Much concern was shown over reports from London that Leon Chester Thrasher, an American mining engineer, was among those who went down when the Falaba was sunk by a German submarine. Diplomats were of the opinion that the case would come directly within the warning sent to Germany when the Kaiser announced his war zone decree. This note made public February 11, informed Berlin that the United States would hold Germany to strict responsibility should any lives be lost through the actions of her commanders.

SAVE CHILDREN FROM HUMAN WASTE PILE

"Paramount questions before the American public today are Mothers Pensions and Social Insurance," says Miss Julia Lathrop, head of the United States Children's Bureau. "The poorhouses where poor children are relegated are fastening centres of misery, ugliness, immorality, and are social sores. They are human waste baskets in which to throw man scrap. Mothers' pensions are a step toward the time when every child shall be given the protection and care it deserves."

BODY FOUND IN SHOP

CHICAGO, March 31.—The mysterious death of Eveline Furry was the subject of police investigation today. The girl was last seen alive last night by a chum with whom she worked in the Eugene Dietzden company factory. Miss Furry, for many months, has been entrusted with the closing of the rooms on the second floor. She was always the last of the girls to leave. Last evening she bid her chum good bye and this morning her body was found lying on the floor.

BEVERIDGE BACK FROM WAR ZONE

INDIANAPOLIS, March 31.—Following his trip through several European countries gathering material for war articles former Senator Beveridge returned to his home in this city today. After spending some time at his home he went to his office in the Newton Claypool building. Several articles sent from the warring country have appeared. He expects to write others telling some thing of conditions in the war zone.

RAY SCHALK IN ACTION AT SPRING TRAINING CAMP.

This picture of Ray Schalk, who happens to be one of the most important cogs in the White Sox machine, was taken at the spring training camp one afternoon recently as he was about to hurl the ball to second. Schalk's injury some days ago, which put him out of business temporarily, has interfered with the plans of Manager Rowland.

NEWS MIS-STATES CONTENTS OF NOTE

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Indignation today was expressed in official circles over an alleged summary of the American note on the British order in council sent to London by a news agency and in which it is stated the United States threatens "various and drastic action."

It was suggested that this summary is entirely false and that an investigation may be made into the source of the dispatch as well as reports that the summary was sent out as part of a conspiracy to arouse ill feeling between Great Britain and the United States.

TO HOLD SERVICES.

Preparatory services for communion services tomorrow night and Sunday, will be held at the First English Lutheran church this evening. Rev. E. G. Howard will preach on the subject of "A Bad Bargain," and Mrs. F. J. Bartel will sing.

SPEAKERS TO CONTEST.

Four speakers will contest tonight to represent Earham in the peace and prohibition oratorical contests to be held respectively at Vincennes and Richmond. Howard Nixon and Gilbert Shambaugh are candidates for the peace oratorical while Fred Hollowell and Harold Taylor will speak for the prohibition contest.

Canadian import duties have been increased.

GOODWIN COMPLAINS.

Chief Goodwin said today that he had filed complaint with the Columbus, O., police officials in regard to the action of a Columbus police sergeant advising Mrs. May Durydea not to return to Richmond to answer a charge of grand larceny unless a requisition was issued. The woman is alleged to have stolen $50 from Mrs. Thomas, matron of the Home for Friendless Women. Mrs. Durydea took the sergeant's advice.

Dr. Charles Seymour Describes Follies of Queen Elizabeth to High School Students—Queen Ruled.

A series of interesting lectures on famous queens of history was given at the high school yesterday and today by Charles Walton Seymour of the University of Wisconsin. Dr. Seymour addressed the students of the school yesterday afternoon on Marie Antoinette of France and on Elizabeth of England this morning. This afternoon he spoke to the teachers and their guests on Catherine III. of Russia.

Dr. Seymour, who is known as one of the best lecturers of the day on historical subjects, told of the personality of these famous women, and the effect which they had on the history of their countries.

In spite of the fact that Elizabeth was a wise and influential ruler, Dr. Seymour said that she was a vain and foolish woman.

GOES TO MARRY FATHER'S DOUBLE.

NEW YORK, March 31.—In quest of a husband whom she has never seen, Miss Iris Pearman of Springfield, O., sailed for Santo Marto, Columbia, today. According to the terms of her father's will, Miss Pearman must marry a man resembling as closely as possible her father in order to inherit an estate worth $1,500,000. Miss Pearman advertised and soon had on hand nearly 4,000 volunteers. At last a picture arrived from Santo Marto, the likeness of Jose Hermida, who resembled the late Mr. Pearman.

BANK INSTALLS NEW MACHINES TO KEEP BOOKS

A piece of lifeless machinery that thinks, and thinks accurately, that renders mistakes impossible, a machine that seems to be possessed of a sense of moral consciousness, so honestly and conscientiously does it work, has just been purchased by the First National bank, and will be in operation in about two weeks.

This machine, which operates by electricity, will post the ledgers and make out statements for customers, taking the place of the old method of posting pass-books. Under its operation, the customer's pass-book is not posted or used, except as a receipt for deposits made.

A customer desiring to know the state of his account will not have to wait while the clerk posts his pass book, or return another day to get his pass-book—his statement is ready for him the day he calls for it, and is ready again the next day if he wants it, or next week, month or year.

Canceled checks together with a true copy of the account are ready for delivery whenever the customer calls, without wait or delay. The machine does away with the end-of-the-month rush to get pass-books ready for customers, for they are always ready. The machine is made by the Burroughs Adding Machine company, and is known as an adding and subtracting machine.
