WHEAT ADVANCES; CORN CLOSES LOWER

CHICAGO, April 3.—Wheat closed with an advance of  $\frac{1}{2}$  to  $\frac{1}{4}$  cents and while the best prices were not fully held there was an undercutting of strength. This was in the absence of reported business in cash. Corn closed  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent lower to  $\frac{1}{4}$  higher and while oats for May were  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent lower, the July was unchanged. Hog products were up  $\frac{1}{2}$  to  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent and still the closing rates were below the highest levels.

GEOGRAPHY CONTEST ATTRACTS PARENTS

About 200 patrons and pupils of district schools of the county attended the contests in reading, arithmetic and geography today. More than 100 mothers and their daughters examined the sewing exhibit at the county superintendent's office this morning.

Fifteen contestants completed the geography contest at the court house today. It was a written examination and the winner will not be decided until later. Oral arithmetic and reading contests were held in the high school auditorium this afternoon.

The Center township school on the National road near the Wayne township line brought a pack load of pupils to the city. It is the only school of the larger townships which has two pupils represented in the county contests.

BOYS FOR OFFICERS IN ENGLISH ARMY

LONDON, April 3.—"More ammunition and more officers." That is the call of the British army. Earl Kitchener has publicly voiced the need for more munitions and the demand for officers only a little less urgent. Boys are being used to fill the places of officers who have fallen in battle. A glance through the "killed in action" column of the Times shows many fallen officers who were only 19 years of age. This shows how the grim mill of war is eating out the manhood of England.

SNOW SPOILS EASTER IN EASTERN CITIES

PHILADELPHIA, April 3.—Snow and dark skies greeted the early risers in the city this morning, putting a damper on plans for the Easter parades both here and along the sea shore resorts. At 8 o'clock the temperature was near 30 and the indications are that the snow will continue all day and probably tomorrow.

SNOW IN BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 3.—Despite the weather man's prediction yesterday that summer clothes could be worn here on Easter, snow began falling about 8:30 o'clock this morning. A high wind accompanied the snow. The temperature stood at 38.

CLAIM PRINZ EITEL ESCAPED IN STORM

WASHINGTON, April 3.—With all wires down to Newport News, Va. Secretary of Navy Daniels today ordered Admiral Beatty, commander of the Norfolk yard to report by wireless concerning the Prinz Eitel. Rumors were afloat that she had taken advantage of the storm to dash to sea. With the North Atlantic storm swept and thick weather about Newport News the chances for the Prinz Eitel to escape the five ships waiting for her off Hampton Roads were considered good.

"With the bums that inhabit the jail it would be a poor plan to have it equipped with mahogany furniture, iron poster beds, vases filled with roses and oil paintings on the wall," Mr. Wenger announced. "We have had enough time keeping those bums from wrecking the concrete floor. The jail is well heated and kept as clean as I will admit."

STILL HOLD SWOBODA

PARIS, April 3.—Every attempt of friends to communicate with Raymond Swoboda, arrested on a charge of attempting to destroy the French liner La Touraine has failed. Inquiry at police headquarters elicited the statement today that Swoboda had been turned over to the military authorities. At military headquarters it was stated that he is still in the hands of the police. A rumor was current that Swoboda had been secretly tried and found guilty of being a spy but this was not believed.

CONNERSVILLE MAN ORDERED FROM CITY

Adam Hufuegal, who claims Connorsville as his home was ordered to leave the city and take his wife with him when arraigned in city court today. Both were arrested last night at the C. & O. station, the man quite drunk. Mrs. Hufuegal informed the police before being sent to the Home for the Friendless that her husband had been going from one place to another and that she was getting sick and tired of one night stands. If she ever learns that hubby informed the mayor in city court that he was sober last night but that his wife was so drunk he could not induce her to board a traction car Hufuegal was considered good.

BOARD POSTPONES OPENING FOR PARK

Directors of the lake and park company have not decided on a spring opening for the park. This question will be taken up later when the committee to arrange a lot sale has completed its plans. The committee may suggest that an opening day celebration be held in conjunction with the lot sale. Probably nothing elaborate will be given if the committee decides in favor.

Since James A. Carr has let his contract for a bungalow on the north side of the lake a number of other property owners have decided to erect cottages. No construction work has started.

PETRY BREAKS ARM

Harvey Petry, an employee of the American Seeding Machine Company had his arm broken while operating a machine in the factory this morning. The break was of a minor nature and was set at the factory.

WILSON PLAYS GOLF

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Despite a blizzard which at times was almost blinding President Wilson awoke to a golf course early today and played 18 holes with Dr. Grayson.

The United States has been supplying horses to the countries of Europe recently at the rate of 2,000 a week.

STANLEY SAYS ROBERTS "SMART AS THE DEVIL"

INDIANAPOLIS, April 3.—"You may go home with your wife and children and remain until I send for you," Judge Anderson told Fred Morrison, who today changed his plea in the Terre Haute election fraud cases to guilty.

Morrison has worked in the engineering department of Terre Haute as a laborer. On election day he was inspector in precinct C of the Sixth ward where he operated the voting machine and co-operated with a man on the outside in paying voters.

He was in court with his wife and a small daughter. When they left the court room to go home all of them were smiling.

"I'm much happier now," his wife said.

Attorney Stanley completed a defense of each of the twenty men with an eloquent plea for Mayor Roberts and Judge Redman. He expects to finish this afternoon to be followed by Attorney Dailey, who will close for the government. Stanley blames Holler and Nugent for the crooked work he admitted was done, and said Roberts while campaigning for governor did not know what they were doing. He referred to Roberts as the master politician of Vigo county, smart as the devil.

Judge Redman he said was absolutely outside of the organization and while not excusing his borrowing money of saloon men and alleged improprieties on the bench, he said he was ignorant of the conspiracy. He referred to his as "Poor old Judge Redman, poor as a church mouse."

"Conspiracy bungled." "If Donn Roberts had been in charge of this conspiracy," said Stanley, "you would have found the work less bungled. You would have found it more widely distributed. Take Ramsey's testimony. He testified that out of the registration a total of 560 found their way on the books and only 131 were outside Taylorville and the red-light district.

"Doesn't it show the strongest proof that this work was not done all over the city, a city of 60,000 people, but that it was done in the precincts in which Holler and Nugent ruled as iron masters, going to gamblers, keepers of brothels and saloon men who were open Sunday, demanding large sums of money from them."

Mayor in Campaign.

"What was the mayor doing? He was seen to be a candidate for office out campaigning over the state. Why should he not assume the police were doing their duty? There is not a ray of evidence or proof that any one ever went to Roberts and said that Holler and Nugent were not doing their duty."

He admitted that there was fraud but always put the blame on Holler and Nugent and said that Roberts did not benefit from the slush fund. He called the false registration scheme a "darnable scheme."

He said the allegation of the government that Roberts had instructed the inspectors to operate the machines to fool the voters was not true and that it was absurd and ridiculous.

"Did this master politician start a scheme and tell twenty-eight inspectors to follow it when it votes no one. Why if Roberts had planned this scheme there would not have been any need for repeaters?"

He asserted the inspectors were regularly appointed, that Roberts obeyed the injunctions of Judge Cox and that the regular inspectors did not serve and that when Joe Jeffers shot up Fayetteville he did it without the orders of Roberts.

Stanley attacked the testimony of co-conspirators who testified for the government and accused them of animus for the men on trial. Nugent and Holler, he
