SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's a Simple Recipe That Anybody Can Apply With a Hair Brush.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant. (Advertisement)

USES NAMES OF CLUB MEMBERS TO SELL DOMESTIC ARTS BOOK

Charging that a young man who is selling a domestic science text book is falsely representing himself as an agent for the National Federation of Women's clubs, and is using the names of prominent club women to push the sales of his book, leaders of the Domestic Science association and the Home Economics club of the Columbian Farmers' association, today voiced a vigorous protest against the methods of the salesman.

The women assert that the salesman appears at the door and says that he is representing the Federated clubs, and has been referred to them by leading club women as being interested in women's club work, and would like to help them in their club activities. Later he produces a copy of the book and attempts to make a sale.

Sells Books.

Representing that he had been sent to them individually by Mrs. A. D. Cobb, an active local worker in domestic science club work, he succeeded in selling a number of books to members of the Columbian Farmers' association yesterday. Later, when the women compared notes, they found he had told different stories to each of them, and had made false statements to a number. Since he had been successful in collecting in advance from some of the women, they feared that he was not reliable and took steps to prevent his further activity in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Cobb today denied that she had ever given him permission to use her name in connection with the sale of the book, and said that she had forbidden him to use her name. She further said that he had told the country women that she had purchased a book from him, but denied the purchase of the book.

Mrs. A. W. Roach, president of the Domestic Science club, said: "I never gave this man permission to use my name to sell his book, and have written to the firm which he is supposed to represent, to find out if he is a reliable person."

Mrs. E. E. McDivitt, president of the local Federated Clubs, said that she knew nothing of the book, and had never given the man permission to say the he represented the federation in any way whatsoever.

A MEDICINE OF MERIT. A proprietary medicine, like everything else that comes before the public, has to prove its merits. The law of the survival of the fittest applies in this field as in others. The reason for the tremendous success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is because it has been fulfilling a real human need for forty years, so that today thousands of American women owe their health and happiness to the marvelous power of this famous medicine, made from roots and herbs—nature's remedy for women. —Adv.

Crippled with Rheumatism Another Bad Case Cured

"My wife was crippled and unable to walk as the result of rheumatism. She fell off in weight from 160 to 115 pounds. Doctors and various remedies failing to help her, we lost all hope of her recovery. Dr. Jones' Liniment having been highly recommended, we tried it as a last resource. Nine bottles entirely cured her."
