Also an Example of Thrift

The effort of the charity organizations to give poor people opportunity to cultivate vacant lots calls attention to the practice of hundreds of family heads in Richmond in cultivating their back lots. The vacant spaces between the houses and alleys are put under cultivation by these thrifty husbands and wives, and hundreds of bushels of potatoes and many bushels of vegetables are garnered.

Many families buy few vegetables at the grocery stores and on the city market because the back lots are made to grow foodstuffs for the table. The sum of money annually saved by these thrifty families makes a handsome amount which they are able to add to their savings accounts. Not only does this work add directly to the welfare of the family, but it also has an educational influence on the children. They learn from observation that it pays to save even in small things. Few husbands look upon the work entailed as a hardship; in fact, they regard it as a pleasant recreation and a fine form of diverting the mind from the day's worry in the shop, store or office.

If all the vacant back yards were put under cultivation this year, the city would gain just that much in tangible wealth. A well-kept garden is as beautiful to the eye as a green sward. The "city beautiful" idea encourages just this kind of gardening.

Practical Education at Tuskegee

The annual report of Booker T. Washington, principal of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, is not replete with pages of administrative detail, tables of students attendance, and discussion of educational problems, such as characterize the usual run of reports, but is devoted to a straight from the shoulder consideration of the economic and moral prosperity of the colored race. The report shows that Tuskegee is training men and women to meet the needs of the south of today along practical lines.

Under the influence which Tuskegee has engendered the colored race is gaining in material and moral goods. In the state of Alabama, the colored man has increased his holdings of farmland by 250,000 acres, or twenty-one per cent within the last ten years. Co-incident with this, has come the entrance of the colored man into trades and industries until many towns, cities and counties of the South attest to the growing influence of Booker T. Washington's school.

Tuskegee is close to the needs of the colored people of the South. It cares little just now for philosophy and other cultural phases of education, and specializes in those departments which will make its pupils more useful citizens, capable providers for families, and able leaders in practical reform. Tuskegee might well be the model for many colleges of the country.

RUSSIANS STRENGTHEN POSITIONS CAPTURED IN CARPATHIAN BATTLE

PETROGRAD, April 21.—With the first phase of the Russian campaign in the Carpathians ended by weather conditions, the Czar's troops are strengthening the positions they have won in the mountain ranges and opening new operations to clear the Austro-German forces from Bukowine and Eastern Galicia.

As soon as this task is completed and normal weather conditions return the main effort—the invasion of Hungary—will be resumed. Minor successes for the Russians about Rostok, forty miles southwest of Czernowitz, are already reported. This shows that the Russians have again crossed the Dniester river and are making a drive toward Jablonica pass, through which leads a railroad to Maramaros Sziget.

German and Austrian claims that the Russians lost 500,000 men in the Carpathian campaign and were defeated were emphatically denied at the war office today.

"On the contrary," it was stated, "our operations in the Carpathians were a complete success. We have taken all the positions attacked despite the terrible difficulties imposed by flooded streams and muddy roads."

ROBERTS' FALSE HAIR COMES OFF IN PRISON

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., April 21.—Mayor Donn Roberts wears a toupee, to be exact he did wear it for it came off when his Bertillon picture and measurements were taken and the rest of the prisoners had their hair clipped. The discovery was not less interesting than his appearance without his false hair. People at home it is said that Roberts had a nice lock of sandy brown hair. Without his toupee he has only two fringes of dark hair running along each side of his head.

Roberts was visibly embarrassed when the toupee was removed. The other prisoners were found to have real hair and they went through the clipping process soon after they were placed in the wardens' hands. After the bath they were clothed in grayish blue suits. Striped uniforms are used here only for obstreperous convicts.

Edward N. Woodruff, Republican, has been elected to a fifth term as mayor of Peoria.

SICK, SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS

"Pape's Diapiesin" Makes Upset Stomachs Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps—head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a large case of Pape's Diapiesin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful; it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Adv.

ALLIES POUND WEDGE OF GERMAN FORCES

PARIS, April 21.—Both sides of the German wedge in France are being pounded by the allies, the British attacking on the Franco-Belgian border and the French pressing home against the German flank.

The fighting between the British and Germans near Ypres in West Flanders is described as almost as fierce as the recent engagement in Neuve Chapelle, when more than thirty thousand English and Germans were killed, wounded or captured.

The capture of Hill No. 60, south of Ypres, where the British advanced three miles, is regarded as an important achievement, for the eminence is a position of strategic importance, being the only commanding elevation in that section of lowlands.

LONDON IN FEAR OF TEUTON ATTACK

LONDON, April 21.—Germany's master stroke against England—a combined attack by sea and air—is believed to be imminent. According to advices received here today the German admiralty is sending against the British coast every available submarine with the intention of crippling the British fleet if possible, planning to follow this attack with another by the most powerful battleships and cruisers, while Zeppelins and aeroplanes co-operate by assailing the coast fortifications and inland towns.

An increase in parasitical diseases among poultry and game birds in England is attributed to the distribution of dust through the air by automobiles.
