

AVIATOR MAY FLY IN EXHIBIT HERE

There is a possibility that William J. O'Connell, of Youngstown, O., an aviator and sportsman, may make a flight in Richmond in the near future. Mr. O'Connell has been visiting Dan Lynch on South Twelfth street for the past week and will leave tomorrow, but has been urged to return later.

O'Connell has not been a professional aviator, having entered the game for sport. He has made a number of flights near Youngstown. Probably if arrangements can be made to reimburse him, he will bring his airplane to this city.

Society

To Improve Expression As Well As Complexion

No face is really beautiful that lacks expression. Do you realize that continual use of powders and creams tends to spoil pliancy of skin and elasticity of expression? Why not quit cosmetics, use something better, which won't clog the pores or make the skin dry, pasty or oily? Ordinary mercerized wax acts quite differently from any cosmetic. It wonderfully improves any complexion, giving it life and expression. By gradually, harmlessly peeling off the thin veil of surface skin, it brings to view a pure, soft, spotless complexion, delicately beautiful and youthful. Every druggist has this wax; it is seldom more than an ounce is needed. It is spread on nightly like cold cream and washed off mornings. In a week or two the transformation is complete.

Wrinkles do not of course enhance the expression. Neither do the pasty things many use to eradicate them. A treatment free from all objection is made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered exfolite in 16 pint witch hazel; use as a wash lotion. This soon removes even the most obstinate wrinkles.

CHURCH HONORS

assistant priest, V. Rev. Celestine Sander, O. S. B.; deacon, Rev. W. J. Cronin, sub-deacon, Rev. Frank A. Roell, and master of ceremonies, Rev. M. Gorman.

Father Cronin delivered the sermon at mass, opening with personal references to the jubilarian, paying a glowing tribute to his piety and goodness, and congratulating him upon the success of his work here, and then pointing out the aims and influence of priesthood upon the Catholic church. He pleaded for the co-operation of all members of the congregation in the labors of the priests.

Following the sermon, Weigand's mass was sung by the male choir of the church, with the exception of Ecce Sacros by Rayl and Asperges by Huebner, which was sung later. While the male choir sang the second part of a musical program, the Procession of the blessed Sacrament was made in which the priests marched in the aisles of the church carrying the consecrated wafers in monstrances. They were preceded by twelve little girls who scattered flowers as they walked. The state dinner at noon, held in the paragon, was attended by all the priests who were present at the high mass.

Reception Follows:
The reception to Father James Ziegenfuss was held at the auditorium of the school in the evening. A committee of ladies of St. Ann's society of the church arranged the reception, and the Sisters of St. Frances had personal supervision in the rendering of the program.

The exercises opened with a song of welcome in chorus by pupils of St. Andrew's school, which was followed by a dialog, "Der Blumenstrauß," by Misses Bertha Haring and Catherine Brucker. Carl Huth delivered an address of welcome on behalf of the school.

Father Celestine, who is one of the authorities of St. Meinrad's college in Spencer, in his "Greetings From Home," tendered the congratulations and best wishes to Father James from the faculty of the school.

A humorous recitation on "The Advocate of Hopeless Cases," by Miss Irene Johnson, followed the address of Father Celestine. It was one of the interesting numbers of the program. Twenty-five senior girls, carrying tinsel silver bells, gave an interesting drill after the chorus sang, "Silver Bells, Ring."

Miss Hildegard Bussen made appropriate and well rendered remarks in a recitation on the "Jubilee Ode." Her address was followed by "Twenty-five Silver Links," (rhymes) in which twenty-five children bore rhymes of events in the life of the jubilarian in their march on the platform.

Father Roell gave an interesting talk on "Reminiscences" of his acquaintance with Father James dating back twenty-five years. He recalled incidents in the latter's life beginning with the arrival of Father James at St. Meinrad's college while he was a student there. Father James was much older than the other students, but nevertheless began at the bottom in his study for the priesthood with the humility, simplicity and gentleness which have characterized him. In closing his address with congratulations, Father Roell presented Father James with a cane. This, Father Roell, jocularly expressed, was to assist him on his way in future travel. A tableau, in which little girls of the school participated, was given, and Father James closed the program in an address, paying tribute to Richmond and the congregation of St. Ann's church. He expressed his pleasure in the acquaintance and the friendship of Richmond's parishioners and his regret that he leaves soon for another field of labor.

CHIROPRACTIC
The first aid to nature. Chiropractic is a method which removes the cause of disease.
Your nerves must be in perfect condition, free from pressure, or you can not remain well.
If the spine is right the man is right.
People with so-called incurable diseases have regained their health by Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments. Chiropractic adjustments given by a trained expert are mild and practically painless.
On the recuperative power of the patient depends the time required to regain health.
Every Chronic Disease is the result of an abnormal spine. By examining the spine the cause of any chronic disease or weakness can be located; pains about the head, face, eyes, neck, back or limbs; diseases of the brain, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or special organs of sex; lowered vitality, irritability, insomnia and inability to think or work, are some of the conditions where Chiropractic Adjustments remove the cause.
I do not treat or cure. I remove the Cause, Nature Cures. Investigation costs nothing and may mean your health and happiness.
