Scene In Capital Of Poland

THE MARKET PLACE AT WARSAW.

Scene in the market place of Warsaw, the capital of Poland, upon which the Germans are rapidly closing in from three sides. It is expected that Warsaw will fall at any time. A report from Berlin states that Grand Duke Nicholas, in command of the Russians defending the city has made plans to put it to the torch rather than allow the Germans to capture it.

County Deaths

CLARK S. BAKER.

CENTERVILLE—Clark S. Baker, 51, former resident of this county, died at his home in Nottingham, Ind., Thursday afternoon. He was well known in this county as he was born in Centerville and lived there many years. His death was due to a complication of diseases. The funeral was held Sunday at 10 o'clock from the home of his brother Frank Baker, Centerville. The Masonic lodge had charge of the services. Burial was in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mr. Baker is survived by his widow, one son, Ed Baker, of Centerville and a daughter, Mrs. George Crummet, of Los Angeles, Cal.

WRITES IN SLEEP.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Aug. 2.—In the footstep of Coleridge, who is reputed to have written "Kubla Kahn" in his sleep, E. B. Baker of this city arose at midnight in the middle of a dream and penned a poem which he called "Tithing." Here is one stanza chosen at random:

But some when they read the law
Of Giving to God the tithe,
Just wrinkle up their faces,
And squirm and twist and writhe.

Frequent newspaper dispatches testify to the growth of a vigorous prohibition sentiment in France.

GRECIAN MONARCH HONORS DOCTORS

VIENNA, Aug. 2.—Prof. Kraus of Berlin, and Prof. Eiselsberg of Vienna, the two famous surgeons who saved the life of King Constantine of Greece, have been decorated with the grand cross of the Order of the Saviour by their royal patient.

After the operation performed by them the surgeons were offered $10,000 each for their services. Both declined pay, stating that they were not entitled to any remuneration as they had been sent to Athens by their sovereigns as members of the medical staffs of the German and Austrian armies. During their stay in the Greek capital the professors treated a large number of private patients. All fees received by them were turned over to the Greek red cross.

Lines marking safety zones on Main street have been painted on the asphalt pavement under order of city council. Traffic ordinances will be strictly enforced henceforth.

DON'T ALL APPLY FOR COOLEST JOB

With the thermometer registering 95 degrees in the shade, a search was made today for the man who had the coolest job in the city, and he was found at the Independent Ice company's plant, at Sixteenth and G streets.

He works a good part of the time in the big ice box where the ice is stored. In there it is never warmer than ten degrees below zero, and to stay there for any length of time one would need an overcoat and mittens.

The walls are lined with ice-coated pipes through which the ammonia and salt water is carried that freezes the ice. Huge cakes of ice in blocks of two and three hundred pounds are on every hand, and all thoughts of the hot sun outside are soon forgotten.

USE AUTO LIGHTS.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Aug. 2.—In order to hurry an uncompleted job of threshing, Oliver Kline place his automobile in range of the threshing outfit and turned on the lights. Work continued until 10 p. m., the surrounding being brilliantly lighted.

LISTEN TO THIS.

GREENFIELD, Ind., Aug. 2.—W. T. Smith, driver of the sprinkling wagon here, announces that if people don't quit leaving their automobiles under the standpipe from which he gets his water supply he is going to fill the automobiles with water, turn them to the railroad track and abandon them.

THREATENED BY BLACKMAILERS

Mrs. HAROLD LEE JUDD.

The police are searching for the writers of the blackmailing letters to Mrs. Harold Lee Judd, who was formerly Mrs. Charles G. Gates.

Her husband with two detectives waited all night in their apartment on Spruce Place in an effort to catch the blackmailers.

Two letters were received by Mrs. Judd at her residence in Minneapolis. The first, received a week ago, requested that she leave $20,000 at the entrance to the Spruce Place apartments or "something would happen."

Mrs. Judd paid no attention to the letter.

Tuesday a second letter was received, saying that the money must be left at midnight. The letter was turned over to the police.
