WHEAT SHOWS GAIN AS MARKET CLOSES

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 2.—Wheat closed around the best prices reached today and showed net gains for the day of 1 1/2 to 2 1/2. While the seaboard reported bids for wheat from abroad as still out of line it was said here that some sales were made for export through Chicago houses. There was little wheat offering by the country reflecting the unfavorable weather for threshing and hauling. Carlo reported 2 1/2 inches of rain there but said the wheat was nearly all cut and a great deal of it threshed. Corn closed 1/2 to 3/4 higher and oats were 1/2 to 3/4 cents up. Cash sales of wheat here were 5,000, corn 14,000 and oats, 185,000 bushels.

Hog produces were frantically better all around.

COMPLEX ROUTES ADD TO EXPENSE

Milk-wagon routes in large cities retrace and "crisscross" one another, thus adding to the cost of distribution. This duplication of effort has a direct bearing on the price of milk, as it increases the expenses of the milk dealers. On the other hand, it is also a tax upon the farmer, for it tends to keep down the price paid for milk on the farm. It must be understood, however, that much of the waste in milk delivery under the present system can not be entirely prevented, because there are so many dealers in each locality and competition is so keen. In the department, efforts should be made, nevertheless, by the dealers to concentrate their business as much as possible, so as to lessen the distance traveled by the wagon for each quart of milk delivered, by securing a large number of customers in a small area.

GERMANS RAISE

from concluding a peace that her enemies will be able to break in a few years. In the same honorable and upright manner in which it entered this war, Germany will conclude a peace; Germany will not sheath the sword until it has won a peace that will assure its security for many years. Only through victory for Germany is the world assured lasting peace.

"What is delaying the speedy consummation of this peace? What is prolonging the war? Who is it that through the shipment of munitions is weighing its conscience with the blood of the slain and the tears of orphans and widows? The American must bear the indictment: 'You are unjust because of fear and cowardice; you fear England. Indeed, Americans must say to themselves: Our republic has only enough courage to insist on those rights which Great Britain permits her to enjoy. Alas. Our government has become subservient to England. Can the patriotic citizen watch America enact this role without protest?'

"A resolution against the shipment of munitions was presented to the last Congress. Senator Clapp, of Minnesota, explained to his constituents: 'There is so much money invested in the manufacture and sale of munitions that we were powerless to go ahead with the resolution. Should money have such power here? Should this money kill our conscience and make us hypocrites? Should Germany have the right to say to us: 'You who have boasted so much of Christianity, treacherously made war on us. We lead you to the graves of our sons. They fell through bullets you made.'

"Andrew D. White, Ambassador to Germany during the Spanish-American war said: 'As to the conduct of Germany during our war with Spain—the course of the Imperial (German) Government.'

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ment, especially of the foreign office, under the Count von Bulow and Baron von Richthofen—was all that could be desired. Indeed, they went so far on one occasion as almost to alarm us. The American consul at Hamburg having notified me by telephone that a Spanish vessel supposed to be loaded with arms for use against us in Cuba was about to leave that port, I hastened to the foreign office and urged that vigorous steps be taken, with the result that the vessel, which in the meantime had left Hamburg, was overhauled and searched at the mouth of the Elbe. The German Government might easily have pleaded in answer to my request that the American Government had shown itself opposed to such interference with the shipments of small arms to belligerents and had contended that it was not expected to search vessels to find such contrabands of war, but that this duty was incumbent upon the belligerent nation concerned. This evidence of the fairness of Germany I took pains to make known in my address at the American celebration in Leipzig on the Fourth of July.

"I hold no brief for Germany, but I believe it right that Germany's attitude on the shipment of arms during the Spanish-American war should be known.

"If we could remove the powerful opposition of the commercial side of these transactions, there is no question in my mind but that these shipments would stop and stop at once. I am a firm believer in retributive justice, and every dollar we receive from the sale of instruments of war will do us more harm than good, as they are bathed in the blood of our fellow-men and the tears of widows and orphans."

A vote of thanks was extended the speakers and those who took part by the Alliance.
