State and War Departments
Clash at Sending Ships to Overawe Mexicans at Vera Cruz.

LANSING FOR PEACE

Wants Vessels Diverted and Holds Anti-American Feeling Aroused by Dispatch of Battleships.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—A distinct difference of opinion existed today between the state department and the war and navy departments over Mexico. The state department believes the show of force made by sending the fourth division of the Atlantic fleet to southern waters and the orders to the army to get ready for possible service was a mistake.

Its effect has been to stir up bitter anti-American feeling not alone in Mexico, but in certain Latin-American countries where the belief exists that armed intervention to establish a government for Mexico is planned.

Wants Ships Diverted.
Secretary Lansing told President Wilson that he believed the warships should be diverted to an American port such as Hampton Roads. He also told the president that the trouble in Texas was due to disappointed bandits and former soldiers who were anxious to rob and murder, and that his reports indicated there was no connection between the fighting there and the Mexican revolution.

Lansing brought with him reports received from Consul Canady and Sullivan at Vera Cruz, showing that the Carranza capital was quiet. At this request the navy department was directed to get a report from Vera Cruz, which will be used to check additional reports expected later today from Vera Cruz state department agency.

Causes Resentment.
The attempt on the part of the diplomatic branch to soft pedal all movements by the army and navy has caused resentment in both military and naval circles. There is not the slightest attempt to disguise the serious situation confronting the United States. The conferences between Secretary Lansing and the Latin-American diplomats and the contemplated appeal to the factious to get together, is characterized as another Niagara Falls talkfest that will prove abortive. They privately declare that only armed intervention will result in the establishment of a real government in Mexico.

It can be said, that if assured they would not be court-martialed, every officer in the United States would declare that the Mexican military faction can never be subdued except by force. The chief grievance of the officers is the failure of the United States to stop arms shipments into Mexico. Thousands of cartridges and rifles are being shipped into Mexico each week.

SWINE SPREAD FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE INSPECTOR ASSERTS

The susceptibility of swine to the foot and mouth disease and the failure on the part of swine owners to recognize its symptoms are giving the federal authorities the small amount of worry in their clean-up campaign, said a federal inspector today.

Swine mouth, a common indication of the disease, is an ordinary sequence of hog cholera, and confusions on the feet are frequent in swine which have been driven or shipped. For these reasons little attention is paid by the owners of swine of these symptoms, and unless the herd is located within suspicious territory foot and mouth disease may continue in a chronic form for a considerable length of time before discovery. The danger, of course lies in the ability of these animals to disseminate the disease. Since the first case of foot and mouth disease found in a herd of hogs in Michigan, which later permitted the infection of the Chicago stock yards, fairs more than any other animal have been responsible for the spread of the disease. A few months ago, in the outskirts of Philadelphia, in a district comprising close to twenty thousand swine kept in small lots, several thousand were found to be infected.

FRIENDS CONSIDER MISSIONARY WORK

Departmental heads of the Friends' church held the third of a series of conferences in the office of S. Edgar Nicholson, editor of the American Friend, yesterday. The conferences were planned for the purpose of affording a more general knowledge of the work of the various boards. Yesterday's session for the most part was devoted to a discussion of the Foreign Missionary board.

Following are the names of those who were present: Thomas Jones of Dunreith, secretary of the Young People's board; Charles Tebbetts and Ross Hadley of Richmond, secretary and assistant secretary respectively of the Foreign Missionary board; Professor Allen D. Hole of Richmond, chairman of the executive committee of the five years' meeting.

the company had surrendered its franchise to the state public service commission and was now operating under an indemnity bond of $10,000 for each car, and prohibiting men under 21 to operate jitneys. Muncie has long been known as a safe harbor for "infant industries."

Bond Advises Action.
Bond advised that steps be taken to prevent the Light, Heat and Power company from operating such service lines, even if it was necessary to enter into litigation.

"Under its franchise the Light, Heat and Power company only has the right to use the streets of the city to furnish electric current within the city limits," the city attorney declared. "In my opinion, the city council would have no authority to delegate to the company the right to encumber city streets for the purpose of transacting business outside the city. I have asked Wilfred Jessup, attorney of the company, and Superintendent Nimrod Johnson to appear before the board for the purpose of discussing this question but for some reason unknown to me, they have neglected to do this. I have no feeling against the company in this matter. I am actuated only by my duty to protect the rights of the city."

Means Fatal Blow.
In the event the courts decide that the Light, Heat and Power company cannot use the streets of Richmond for distributing systems to points outside the city, it would probably be a fatal blow to that corporation for the business that company now has with neighboring towns and which it is planning to add forms its greatest source of profit.

Asked if the municipal plant could use the streets of Richmond for constructing distributing systems to points outside the city, City Attorney Bond declared the city had the right to use its streets for any purpose it desired. "On the other hand, the Light, Heat and Power company can do no more than that which is provided in its franchise, and the company's franchise permits it to use the city streets only to distribute its service within the city," Mr. Bond added.

The city attorney based his report to the board today on a protest filed a few days ago by the Starr Piano company against permitting the Light, Heat and Power company placing a distributing system for its Brookville line on South First street. Mr. Bond held that the protest was well taken and that the board had no authority to permit the company to construct such a line on any other street.

112 HOGS SHIPPED

CAMBRIDGE CITY, Ind., Aug. 12.—Ross Cramer and Claude Kitterman shipped 112 head of hogs from here Saturday. The hogs averaged 274 pounds. Neighbors who helped haul the loads to the shipping point were treated to a big breakfast by Mr. Kitterman.

RUNS EXCURSION

For the first time in four years, the Pennsylvania railroad will run an excursion train to Cincinnati next Sunday. The train will leave Richmond at 5:05 a. m. and returning will leave the Ohio city at 7:10. The fare for the round trip will be $1.40.

JITNEYS WIN IN MUNCIE.

MUNCIE, Aug. 12.—Jitney bus owners scored again when Mayor Bunch refused to call a special council meeting to pass an ordinance calling for an indemnity bond of $10,000 for each car, and prohibiting men under 21 to operate jitneys. Muncie has long been known as a safe harbor for "infant industries."

as to whether the county should build an entirely new bridge, I shall wait for the report of the commissioners and the bridge engineer. If a bridge is built it should extend to Second or Third street, if possible, in any way.

Mark Stevens—If the bridge is in as bad a condition as has been reported, I favor a new structure, not merely the patching up of the present one. If the bridge has to cost more than $100,000 bonds should be issued. I have not talked to the commissioners about it, and the matter has never been discussed at a meeting of the council since I have been a member.

Hugh Allen—I have not given the matter any thought. If a new bridge is built it ought not to cost more than $50,000, the cost of the present structure. Jesse Druley—The council should make a thorough investigation before the present bridge is torn down. I am in favor of building a new bridge if it can be repaired reasonably, but the present bridge was a mistake in the first place, and I don't see how it can be repaired. I believe that if anything is done at this time, it should be to erect a new concrete structure. I am in favor of the county appointing several expert engineers before action is taken.

Richard Davenport—I'll favor the purchase of a new Main street bridge, providing the conditions warrant it. I have not had an opportunity to investigate, and whether or not I will vote for a new one to supplant the one now in use, will depend upon the inspection that I will make.

ROBS MUNCIE POLICEMAN.

MUNCIE, Aug. 12.—It takes some nerve to go through a police officer's pockets, but an unknown "dip" did the trick in a masterly fashion, taking an annual pass to the county fair from the pocket of Superintendent of Police McIlvane.

Furnishing the Home.

By usage August has become the month for furniture buying and home furnishing.

It is customary at this season for manufacturers and dealers to encourage trade by favorable prices. Furniture is probably more heavily advertised in August than in any other month of the year. And this same advertising has transformed a very dull month to a very busy one.

If you are thinking of buying the goods for the home this is the right season to consult the advertising columns of The Palladium.

which was the object of the negotiations.

Today it was learned for the first time that the Commercial Club officials had an excellent reason for not making public the name of the concern. These officials do not know what company it is, what kind of products it manufactures nor where it is now located.

The promoter of this project is J. T. Watkins and he is said to make his headquarters at Indianapolis. Watkins has absolutely refused to reveal the identity of the company he is representing, at the present time. Here is the proposition Watkins has presented to the Commercial club directors:

Proposes Meeting.
If the Commercial club is interested in locating in this city, at the Rumely plant, the large manufacturing company he represents, he is prepared to bring to Richmond the members of the board of directors of his company who will personally state their proposition to the Commercial club officials.

sition to the Commercial club officials.

That if the Commercial club, after consulting with the directors of the company he represents, is sufficiently interested in continuing its efforts to secure the location of the company he, Watkins, shall at once receive a fee of $500 and that he will then proceed to carry out plans of his own for financing the deal. Furthermore Watkins stipulates that he shall receive a commission on the money raised by him to secure the location of the factory in this city.

It is understood that the Commercial club directors believe Watkins' proposal to be a satisfactory one providing investigation reveals the company to be a desirable one to be located in this city.

It is also understood that arrangements will soon be made for a conference between the directors of the company Watkins represents and the Commercial Club directors.

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unslightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sentinel tablets"—that's the name—are an entirely vegetable and there's nothing about a dune's worth, and swallowing one at bedtime to rid the system of everything quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.
