

MODE OF LIVING GIVEN AS CAUSE OF HIGH PRICES

Senator W. G. Harding, of Ohio, Calls on Auditors to Realize Opportunities America Affords.

The difference in the standard of living from an economical simplicity fifty years ago, to an astonishing extravagance by the American people is the cause of the "high cost of living" according to United States Senator Warren G. Harding of Marion, Ohio, who delivered an address at Chautauqua, yesterday afternoon. He said it was modern high living and not the high cost of living which accounted for the existing social unrest and discontent. The latter phrase was termed fallacious by the senator and to prove his theory, he stated that essentially nothing manufactured had been materially increased save the products of the farm and this was due to the growth in urban population.

Senator Harding addressed a crowd of approximately 4500 people, some of whom sat or stood under the big auditorium tent with umbrellas raised to prevent becoming wet from the rain which leaked through many creases of the canvas.

Audience Remains.

Notwithstanding the discomfiture of many of his auditors, the speaker was given close attention.

Senator Harding made an eloquent appeal for the awakening of American intelligence to the advantages and benefits and opportunities which exist in their land of liberty.

His subject was "Alexander Hamilton, Prophet of American Destiny," and while he paid a tribute, rich with eloquence, to the statesman of early days, he added brief references and discussions of the European War, the new Currency Law, the high cost of living, partisan politics and other topics. Honesty, plain and common, practised in the home, in the schools, in business and from the pulpit, press and platform, is a remedy suggested by Senator Harding to relieve the present industrial and sociological ills of the American people.

"There is no bigger fraud" declared Senator Harding, "than the outcry against Big Business. We need Big Business. Honestly conducted there is nothing we need more."

Defend Opportunities.

"Let me cry out, too, in defense of American opportunities. There was never a time in American history when brains and genius commanded so great a reward as today."

"We do not need more. We have unalterable ability and we are immeasurably matched."

"We are the first nation in finance and are progressing in art and in education. We are moving in the spirit of loyalty and patriotism. 'What will it take to hold us for us?' I don't know. No one does. I believe all residents in the United States who were born abroad should have sympathies for the cause of their mother countries in the European war but nevertheless should be American first and prepared to give all for this country."

Society

QUESTION CLEARED UP

Richmond Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

Again and again we have read of strangers in distant towns who have been cured by this or that medicine. But Richmond's pertinent question has always been "Has anyone here in Richmond been cured?" The word of a stranger living a hundred miles away may be true, but it cannot have the same weight with us as the word of our own citizens, whom we know and respect, and whose evidence we can so easily corroborate.

Governors Demand Better U. S. Defenses

GOV. JAMES F.
FIELDER.

M. C.
RILEY.

Governor James F. Fielder of New Jersey, and M. C. Riley, secretary of the conference.

Forty-eight governors from as many states are assembled here for the Governors' conference which extends until August 31. Miles C. Riley, secretary of the conference, said that while the executives had no fears that the United States would be drawn into the world conflict, they felt that the time was ripe for the adoption of immediate steps to develop a stronger and more efficient citizen soldiery. For this reason the subject, "The Relation of the State to the National Defense," has been given a prominent place on the program. Governor James F. Fielder of New Jersey, will be one of the prominent speakers on this subject.

CHAUTAUQUA LEADERS COMPLIMENTED UPON SEASON MANAGEMENT

Edward Sher, W. O. Wissler and E. R. Helmick were being complimented yesterday on the able and efficient manner in which the headquarters at Chautauqua had been conducted this season.

There was no friction and very little trouble of any kind and the difficulties that did arise were amicably adjusted.

Mr. Wissler said that the past Saturday was the best Saturday the Chautauqua ever had and that there were 1,120 single admissions and 2,500 others passed through the gates.

He complimented the young people on their behavior this year and said that there had been absolutely no trouble with them.

The kindergarten, which was a new feature, proved very successful and had an average attendance of fifty.

Richard Sedgewick, president of the Richmond Chautauqua, said that he was highly gratified at the success their efforts had met with and referred in the highest terms of praise of the work done by the men at headquarters.

He stated that he thought that the program was the best ever seen here and that the weather was the worst.

ASKS NEW STUDENTS TO MEET WEDNESDAY

All pupils who will enter the high school for the first time this September are asked to report to room 20, Wednesday morning, September 1, at 9 o'clock. This announcement is meant to include pupils entering from country schools, other high schools and the Garfield junior high school. Final selection of studies will be made, and the new plan of organization in the high school will be explained.

Pupils who cannot report Wednesday morning may do so later, but every effort should be made to enroll before the opening of the fall semester, September 13.

Unsightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a clogged skin and a splintered blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which result in temporary relief, as is the case with salves and ointments. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy to be found in any drug store, as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sentinel tablets"—that's the name of the medicine. It is the only safe habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one or two tablets in the morning, nothing more good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so sooth ing, and instead of a weakening after-dinner you are truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most effective treatment for the common difficulties of the character" mentioned.
