

NOLTE'S ACTION WRECKS PLANS OF NEW BLOCK

Refusal to Permit Removal of Small Rear Store Room
Frustrates Contemplated
Move of Lee Ashley.

PROPOSITION, IS MADE

Lessees of Wakefield Block
Proposed to Make Improvement Calling for an Outlay of $20,000.

Plans for the construction of a $20,000 business building on the southeast corner of North Ninth and Sailor streets in the rear of the main street building occupied by the Light, Heat & Power company, Emmons Tailoring company and the Nolte Carpet company, have been abandoned.

Refusal of George Nolte to permit the removal of a small frame structure in the rear of his store room was the cause of abandoning the plan to erect the proposed business block on North Ninth street, to occupy the site on which two one-story buildings now stand, sheltering a barber shop and feed store, fronting Ninth street, and a blacksmith shop fronting Sailor street.

Ashley Gives Reason.
The reason for abandoning the building plans was assigned by H. L. Ashley, who holds jointly with Al Brown a ninety-year lease on the property which was proposed to be razed to make room for the new building, and the main street block occupied by the Light, Heat & Power company, the Emmons and Nolte companies.

The Nolte company, Mr. Ashley stated, had a lease on its room which is operative for more than two years longer. The proposed new building was to have a sixty-foot frontage but the frame store room of the Nolte company extends thirty feet into the lot on which this structure was to be erected. "I wired Mr. Brown today that no further effort would be made to secure Mr. Nolte's consent to removing his frame store room and that I had arranged to rent the old building which until recently has been used as a feed store," Mr. Ashley said. "I offered to give the Nolte company a second floor room above the store for storage purposes and to charge no rent for it. I also agreed to buy all the stock he now has in the frame annex in the rear of his store. He would not consider such a proposal and I ended the negotiations."

The rear of the main street property under lease to Ashley and Brown is regarded as a dangerous fire trap by Building Inspector Hodgins. They are a series of flat roofs and winding stairways resembling the abodes of the ancient cave dwellers. Hodgins recently ordered owners of properties at 910 and 912 Main street to remodel the rear end of their properties to eliminate the fire hazard.

CARR ESTIMATES

heads each month, one shift, for similar field pieces.

Six thousand four hundred diagrams each month in one shift for the same field pieces.

Accompanying the estimate, Mr. Carr enclosed a letter saying that the American Seeding Machine company was a fairly well equipped plant with foundry and forge shop but had few lathes or other tools for machine work as the company was engaged in the manufacture of agricultural implements.

"In making the estimate," Mr. Carr wrote, "we have endeavored to keep carefully within the lines of what it is possible for us to do, hoping to do better if the emergency arose. At the end of thirty days after receipt of an order we could be producing 25 per cent of the maximum output contained in the estimate and at the end of two months we could reach the maximum output."

Could Double Output.
Mr. Carr this morning said that he believed the possible output of the factory could be doubled over the estimates if the United States was compelled to enter war and the company would be expected to do its part.

General Crozier in writing to Mr. Carr said that prior to the outbreak of the war, the ordnance department had compiled the best data then available of probable output of ordnance material from the establishments in the United States in the event of war but that the European war had demonstrated to the department heads that the estimates they had on the reserve supply and the facilities for increasing output during war, were too low. A larger production would be necessary, he said.

He enclosed blanks in his letter to be filled in with information pertaining to the output of the factory of shrapnel cases, shrapnel heads, the common steel shells, parts of fuzes and brass cartridge cases. General Crozier added that provision would be made, if a contingency required it, for the entering of the capacity of the plant for forging without machine work only and for the furnishing of the articles complete.

The increased demand for war materials as a result of the war abroad, the writer said, has resulted in a marked expansion in many commercial plants in the United States, but added that a number of plants were not so engaged.

DISCOVER TWO BODIES IN SUNKEN SUBMARINE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Two more unidentified bodies were taken from the submarine F-4 at Honolulu yesterday, Rear Admiral Boush, naval command reported today. This makes three bodies that have been taken from the craft, according to official records here.

SUES FOR $5; COURT COSTS TOTAL $27.15 AND END NOT YET IN SIGHT

Who would have believed that $5 could have caused all this trouble. Within the last two days there have been two jury trials in Justice Frank Strayer's office. The first jury disagreed and the verdict of the second one probably will be overruled by the judge, because it is "contrary to evidence." The case is still unsettled, and all the contention is over the payment of $5 to a housemaid.

Here is the story:
Leota Mason, colored, had been working as housemaid for Mrs. Harry Lantz. She had worked for one week and was paid a salary of $5 a week. The next week she worked until Wednesday morning and then because of misconduct, she was "let off." Mrs. Lantz offered her $5 as payment for the two days work. The colored girl objected to being "let off" so suddenly and demanded that she be paid a full week's wages. To this Mrs. Lantz objected.

Files Suit To Collect.
The girl filed suit in Justice Strayer's court to collect $5. She admitted that Mrs. Lantz had offered to pay her $5 for her work the two days. It was also shown that Mrs. Lantz later offered to pay her $5 in order to keep out of court, but Miss Mason's anger had risen, and she intended to make her employer pay the court costs in addition to her salary.

COUNTY WOULD ERR IN FIXING SEPARATE HOME FOR CHILDREN

The construction of a separate orphan's home for Wayne county, as was suggested in the report of the board of county charities and corrections, would be a big mistake, according to Amos Butler, secretary of the state board of charities. This statement was made in a letter received today by Secretary Melpolder of the Social Service bureau.

"There are not enough orphans in Wayne county to warrant a home for them," writes Mr. Butler.
Efforts of the Social Service bureau in co-operation with Mrs. Elizabeth Cammett's orphan home in Terre Haute, is under the management of H. Petersdorf. Mr. Goldfinger announced today that Richmond would remain headquarters for his stores, and that all business would be transacted from this city.

OPENS THIRD BRANCH

Henry Goldfinger, proprietor of the Palais Royal, has returned from Terre Haute where he opened up the third of his string of stores. Mr. Goldfinger's latest branch consists of three floors of the most completely furnished women's ready-made goods in Terre Haute. It is under the management of H. Petersdorf. Mr. Goldfinger announced today that Richmond would remain headquarters for his stores, and that all business would be transacted from this city.

ALL CHURCHES

whoever makes a confession during the meetings will have the privilege of joining the church of his choice, has been adopted.

The evangelistic party will be composed of Rev. Mr. Bennett and Mrs. Bennett of Marion, R. E. Mitchell of Ironton, Ohio, singer, and Miss Echo Roland of Fountain City, pianist.

Has Wide Experience.
Rev. Mr. Bennett has had many years' experience as an evangelist and has held meetings in Terre Haute, Muncie and other Indiana cities. He was affiliated with Rev. Lyons for some time in evangelistic endeavor and union tabernacle meetings.

R. E. Mitchell, who will have charge of the chorus singing has had fifteen years' experience.
Because many pastors are out of town on their vacations, choir leaders have been difficult to reach by the music committee of which Mrs. Mitchell is chairman. It is hoped that all members of choirs in the city will communicate with the committee to expedite organization of a large chorus. It is planned to use local talent in any way possible. Soloists, and group singers too, are requested to assist the committee. Already the orchestra consists of fourteen pieces.

The revival will be financed through free-will offerings and individual contributions only. No church will be asked to obligate itself in assuming any of the expenses.

Held Special Meeting.
Members of the Central Christian church will hold a congregational meeting on Friday night to hear Rev. Bennett and his party outline the work.

Later Mr. Bennett will be assisted by three speakers who will come at different times. Their names are not known to the committee.
On Saturday night, Mr. Mitchell will meet at the church with various choirs and singers and the organization of a large chorus will be begun.

Five hundred hymn books have been shipped from Chicago.

Glen Cruse as chairman of the executive committee, has general charge of the arrangements. Mrs. George Mansfield is chairman of the entertainment committee, Mrs. George Christman and George Wilcoxen have charge of personal work, Charles Roland is chairman of prayer meeting committee and Mrs. Motley, of the music committee.

The case was brought to trial Tuesday and after hearing the testimony the jury, of which George Hostler was foreman, agreed to return a verdict of $3. It was shown by evidence that Mrs. Lantz had offered the girl this amount before trial, so that the verdict would be contrary to evidence, as the plaintiff would be required to pay court costs although the verdict was for the amount that had been offered out of court.

Jury Is Sent Back.
The jury was sent back for further deliberation with more detailed instructions. One of the jurymen, it is learned, figured out that if a verdict were not given the girl, the jurymen would not receive their pay, so he held out to give the girl the verdict completely in her favor, so that Mrs. Lantz would have to pay the court costs. As a result of this argument, the jury disagreed and the case was to be retried Wednesday.

A compromise verdict was rendered yesterday in which the defendant was to pay $4 for the services of the colored girl. The question of tender arose again, and Justice Strayer announced this morning that he probably will have to overrule the verdict.

So far, the case has cost $27.15, so that whoever wins the suit will have to pay that amount before settlement. And all this for the sum of $5.

REPORT ON

thoroughly as it is in the case of dairies.
The only known result of the complaint the local ice cream plant manager made to the mayor was to RE-LIEVE DR. CLEM OF THE DUTY OF INSPECTING ALL BUSINESS PLACES SOUTH OF MAIN STREET, and assigning that work to George McKinley, whose entire time has practically been taken up performing the duties of weights and measures inspector and marketmaster.

It was learned today that following the meeting Tuesday night, the members of the committee investigating the Clem charges called upon a local veterinarian to question him as to what he knew about the present administration of the office of dairy and food inspector. This veterinarian, however, declined to impart any information, stating that if he did he would be accused of being "jealous" of Dr. Clem because he had secured the appointment. He said, however, that he did not believe some of the dairymen who had testified at the hearing that night had given authentic evidence. He suggested to the committee that they call upon the various dairymen and other business men who have official dealings with Inspector Clem.

Some veterinarians were interested in having a layman deposed as inspector and a veterinarian appointed to the office," it was remarked to a member of that profession today.

"Yes," he replied. "We did that, but we are sorry now."
Jerome Shurley, manager of the local stock yards, who testified in favor of Dr. Clem admitted to a newspaper man yesterday that he really did not know just why Dr. Clem should inspect his yards after he had been reminded that all live stock received there was not for local consumption, but to be shipped to points outside the city. Tuesday night Mr. Shurley testified that Inspector Clem spent the greater part of every Saturday conducting investigations at the stock yards.

Six north end and east end meat market proprietors were asked by a Palladium representative as to how Dr. Clem investigated their places of business. Two of these men said Dr. Clem had never inspected their shops, one said Clem had made one inspection and the other three said he inspected their places every now and then. A Main street confectionery, where ice cream is manufactured, has never been visited by the dairy and food inspector.

BUREAU HELPS 368 FAMILIES IN YEAR

The annual report of the Social Service bureau, which completed one year's work August 31, will show that 368 families have been helped. This includes the families assisted by the associated charities but does not include any of the help given by the township trustees or the other agencies for relief.

A meeting will be held by the executive board Monday, September 13, at which time the annual report will be prepared and made public. It is estimated that a total of 700 families have been assisted during the past year by all the relief agencies of the city.

"During the past year, we have only laid the foundation for what we intend to do in the future," said Secretary Melpolder this morning. "I am well pleased with the cooperation given us during this first year and can promise greater things in the future."

More than 1,415,000 Canadians are doing military service. Of these it is ascertained that at least 75 per cent. are physically fit.

PLANS "LOVE FEAST"

The date for the "love feast" of Republicans of the Sixth district, will be decided tomorrow by a special committee of Republicans. It will probably be held the middle of October. County Chairman Bowman, the district chairman and the state chairman will agree upon the date before it is announced. It will be held in Richmond.

Many Wayne county Republicans will attend the Rush county "get-together" meeting at Rushville, September 15. The program for the meeting has not been arranged, but it is probable that several Wayne county men will be asked to make addresses.

MINISTER RETURNS

Rev. L. E. Murray, pastor of the First Christian church, has returned from a three weeks' vacation at Indianapolis and Ladoga. The Rev. Mr. Murray announces that services at his church will be resumed next Sunday morning and evening.

IRATE MAYOR HANDS DOWN HEAVY FINES

Stiff punishments were meted out by Mayor Robbins in police court this morning when Edward Lindsay, William McGee, Ernest Kelly and Charles Laxwell were arraigned on charges of intoxication.

Lindsay was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to thirty days on the penal farm, and McGee and Kelly each drew a fine of $50 and costs. Laxwell was fined $1 and costs. It was his first appearance in police court.

The police record showed Lindsay was arrested on July 29 and August 19 on intoxication charges. He was arrested on each occasion. He was convicted on each occasion. He was arrested yesterday on Main street.

McGee and Kelly were also arrested twice before and were fined and warned against re-appearance in court.

Clyde Slifer Delivered from Land of Baldness

Discards Toupee Which He Has Worn for Years!

Thanks Glover's Hairgro for Natural Transformation

Clyde Slifer, genial member of the Slifer Packing Co., known to every man, woman and child for miles around as the kindest man the "sun e'er shone on," has discarded his toupee.

Several weeks ago Mr. Slifer purchased a bottle of "Hairgro," feeling doubtful as to whether it would actually grow hair—especially on his head, after being bald for so many years.

"Baldness runs in our family," Clyde argued to Druggist Thistlethwaite Tuesday, and I was afraid I was a lost mortal as far as growing hair on my head was concerned, but look at the crop of the real thing I have now," added Mr. Slifer, as he exhibited the fast-growing adornment—real hair. "It tickles me to think that after all these years of baldness I am now getting hair and at a total cost of 50 cents, when in the past I spent hundreds of dollars on worthless preparations. If any of my friends—the baldheads—want to know what Glover's Hairgro has done and is doing for me, they only need call me on the telephone or come and see me."

If you are bald, have eczema or milk crust of the scalp, suffer from falling hair, get a 50-cent bottle of "Hairgro" at The Thistlethwaite Drug Co., 6th and Main Sts., today. Almost a whole year's treatment in each bottle. Out-of-town customers supplied by Parcel Post.
