

BENNETT TELLS MINISTERS AIM OF HIS REVIVAL

Evangelist Will Go Before Ministerial Association to Explain Purpose of "Union" Services.

Rev. Rollin A. Bennett of Marion, evangelist, who is conducting a revival at the Central Christian church, will appear before the Ministerial association Monday morning to explain the purpose of his campaign.

He reiterated today that the services being held are not denominational but are undenominational. "If the word 'union' is objectionable to those pastors who misunderstand the situation, we will not use it," said Rev. Bennett. "It is certainly not our intention to create any antagonism. Several churches were represented last night and four ministers were present."

Sin Is Denounced.
"Christ is being preached and sin is being denounced. It is not a Central Christian church campaign."

One of the largest choruses yet assembled was on the platform last night at the service, in charge of R. E. Mitchell, and a song service preluded the sermon by Rev. Bennett.

The evangelist preached on "Rebuilding the Wall."

Tonight Rev. Bennett will begin a series of addresses on the Ten Commandments which will last for three days. The services are attended each night by a larger congregation.

R. E. Mitchell yesterday spoke to fifty-six children who attended the meeting he had arranged. The children's service will be held again at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

JUVENILE AFFAIRS COST COUNTY LESS

Because of the agitation raised by the report of the special committee of commissioners making an investigation into juvenile affairs of the county, it was possible for the county council to clip $4,000 from the budget of expense for next year, as compared with the expenses this year.

Last year it cost the county approximately $7,000 for the expense of orphans. The appropriation made by the council this morning amounts to $3,000. The commissioners in their estimate reported that it would require $5,000 for next year, but this was reduced to $3,000 by the council upon the suggestion of Lee Nussbaum, president of council, who presented a statement showing the number of children now at White's Institute, and the promise of the board of children's guardians to reduce this number at least five. At present there are nineteen children at the home and two of these will be returned to the county this week.

INVESTIGATES SALE OF FOOD BY WEIGHT

At the request of Councilman White a committee was appointed, composed of Steinbrink, Burdall and himself, to determine the advisability of enacting an ordinance requiring all food stuffs to be sold by weight.

Councilman Howells presented a petition for constructing a macadam roadway on North Sixteenth street. The mayor favored the proposed improvement and referred the matter to the board of public works.

Councilman Waldele urged that the city purchase more street lamps. Councilman Waltermann urged an ordinance be enacted providing that gravel should be hauled only in such wagons that will prevent the gravel falling upon the streets.

Councilman White urged that the North Fifth street hill be improved. City Attorney Bond was granted a six weeks' leave of absence to attend the fair at San Francisco.

It is significant that in the matter of tempering steel we are no further advanced than our ancestors of some five thousand years ago.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tiffany Mohr and Her Children, Charles, aged ten, and Virginia, seven. The Mohr murder tragedy has taken an unexpected turn by the repudiation by the three negroes held for Dr. Mohr's murder, of their confession implicating Mrs. Mohr, who was held as the instigator of the shooting of Dr. Mohr in his automobile on the road from Providence to Newport. The three negroes in a statement issued Saturday say that they made no confession and that they had no knowledge of the killing.

COUNTY TO PURCHASE PENAL FARM OUTPUT

Wayne county will co-operate with the state penal farm in the effort to make that institution a self-supporting institution, by purchasing as many supplies as possible from the state farm management.

At the present time, however, the state farm has nothing to offer, but within a few months the stone quarries will be opened and Road Superintendent Jones will be asked to purchase crushed stone from the state farm.

He has intimated his desire to co-operate with the state farm. According to law, the counties of the farm must purchase as many supplies as possible from the state farm. The fact that the penal farm was instituted through Richmond and Wayne county agencies, makes it all the more significant that the county should help in its maintenance.

OPPOSE TAX FERRET

The county commissioners are, opposed to a proposition submitted to them by several "tax ferret" agencies asking the county officials to sign a contract for the purpose of investigating property outside of the county sequenced by Wayne county tax payers. One of the agencies appeared before the commissioners yesterday and made a proposition to do the work for a ten per cent. commission. The officials took the matter under advisement.

PRINCETON, Ind., Sept. 8.—Out of prison on parole, arrested for "bootlegging" and facing suit for divorce, discouraged Webster Slifer to such an extent that he cut his throat with a pocket knife. Falling to end his life in this manner, Slifer begged the sheriff to end his misery by shooting him. They refused to oblige him, but he may die of the wounds in his neck.

SCHOOL STARTS AT ORPHANAGE

The winter term of school for the children of the Wernle Orphan Home, opened yesterday in charge of Edward Mroch and Miss Ricker, the same teachers who taught the subjects last year.

Books recommended by the state board of education and used in the city schools, are studied by the orphans in the institution and the same school hours observed. William Kaminski and Carl Wernle left for Woodville where they will prepare for the ministry.

IN LOVING MOOD.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 8.—Fred Cook, who claimed to have made his living by working around fairs, embraced Daisy Hollingsworth while she was talking to her mother on a street corner. The police magistrate ordered Cook to embrace a sentence of thirty days in the workhouse. Cook said he had been drinking.

SODAWATER TREATS PERSUADE CHILDREN TO DELAY ELOPING

Excitement reigned supreme on South Fifth street about 8 o'clock last evening when it was discovered that little Miss Mary Koorsen, 6-year-old daughter of Henry G. Koorsen, 233 South Fifth street, and Master Joe Hibberd, 7-year-old son of Marion Hibberd, 230 South Fifth street, were both missing.

For over an hour relatives of the two children and neighbors searched for them high and low, but without success.

Then the "gangs" that Joe trains with began to suspect an elopement had occurred and, about ten strong, under the leadership of Billy Norris and Bob Snyder, each about ten years old, they hurried to police headquarters to report their fears into the ears of Sergeant Winters.

"Joe's stuck on Mary, ain't he, kids?" said Billy Norris, and the other youngsters confirmed his assertion. Sergeant Winters assigned every officer on duty to search for the little wanderers, but it remained for Joe's anxious uncle, former Councilman Harry Wessel, to find the eluding sweethearts. Hand in hand he found them about 8 o'clock standing at the corner of Fifth and Main streets, gazing with rapt interest at Main street's night life.

It is said that Wessel had to come across with treats of sodawater and candy before he could induce the eloping couple to indefinitely postpone their honeymoon and return to the arms of their terrorized mothers.

CITY ORDERS SHIELD ON TRACTOR WHEELS

Although City Clerk Becher informed council that the Swayne-Robinson company had notified him that the enactment of an ordinance requiring the placing of shields on all traction engines operated on any city street would greatly handicap the company, council passed the ordinance last night by a vote of 8 to 4.

The Swayne-Robinson company management called attention to the fact that traction engines were constantly being moved across a public street from one of the company's buildings to another. It was also pointed out that under the ordinance the company would have to provide shields for wheels whenever this was done and secure a permit from the city.

HEAT RIPENS STRAWBERRIES.

In Fashion's Realm

It would seem, this season, that the veil, correctly adjusted is actually part of the small hat. And few small hats are complete without a veil. Pictured is a turban of white plush, with a wide band deau of black plush.

Not a single bit of ornament relieves the front but at the back is placed a pompon of white ostrich from the center of which emerge two black shaven quills. A bit of black uncurled ostrich is placed below the white pompon. And drawn up snugly under the chin and around the top of the hat is a dainty black veil of ultra design.

GIVE DAY'S NOTICE

The officials at the court house said this morning that they will wait just one more day for the person who stole the lawn mower from the court house to return it. Sheriff Steen says he knows who took it, and that prosecution will follow unless it is returned immediately. The lawn mower disappeared several days ago.

Joy of Joys! I Found Relief

So Declares Ed. C. Green, Popular Linotype Operator, in Speaking of "Glover's Hairgro."

Lives at 121 S. Third St.

"For more than ten years I have suffered from a constantly itching scalp. The irritation was terrible, and much of my time was spent in scratching my head. My scalp, full of bleeding scratches, looked as though I had been running through a briar patch head on. "One treatment of Glover's Hairgro gave me relief that I had not enjoyed for more than ten years. I will be glad to tell any one afflicted with a similar trouble, just what 'Hairgro' is doing for me, and what it has done for my friends."

Reported Held for Ransom

OFFICERS OF THE MAROWINE

OFFICERS OF THE STEAMER MAROWINE.

No credence is placed in the letter received by a New Orleans newspaper stating that several members of the crew and two passengers of the fruit liner Marowine, believed lost in the great hurricane which swept over Texas recently, were being held for ransom by Mexican bandits on Cozumel Island, off the east coast of Yucatan. The Marowine carried twenty-eight passengers and a crew of sixty-five men.
