

PREPARE WELL FOR LIFE RACE LENHAM'S PLEA

The importance of making a proper start in life was impressed upon the minds of a group of two hundred boys at the annual boys' banquet at the Y. M. C. A. last evening by Thomas Lenham of Canton, O., county-chairman of Y. M. C. A. work in Ohio.

"Be a man," he said. "Start now to make good. Do not cheat in your school work, for you will find out in later years that you have only cheated yourself. In the race of life, more depends on the start you make than depends on the race you run after you have started."

He said there are two classes of boys—the selfish and the unselfish classes. Selfish boys grow to be selfish men, and later find out the error of their ways, said the speaker.

"I believe that boys are as much interested in the Bible as older people," he said. "The interest boys take in Bible classes proves this, and it is a good indication of future manhood."

Receive Free Cards.

Eleven boys were awarded free membership cards as reward for receiving the highest grades in Bible study work of the year. The cards were awarded by Superintendent Giles. The following boys received membership cards: Robert Smith, 100; Joseph Sanders, 100; Glen Weist, 99; Earl Church, 98; Howard Dietrich, 98; Julius Tietz, 96; Earl Thomas, 96; Marvin Soper, 92; Everett Sheldon, 94; Paul Allen, 92; Robert Roland, 93.

Seventy-eight diplomas were awarded by Edward Haemmerle of the boys' work committee. Class honors for the largest total enrollment went to the Cherokees, with a total enrollment of 932. The Cherokees also have the largest number enrolled, which is 73. The Leaders had the highest average attendance, 75 per cent. The Leaders also received the highest average grade on their diplomas, 90% per cent. The Pawpaws received honors for the largest number of diplomas granted, 20.

The following program has been announced for the class to begin this evening:

orneys of the other interested parties in any case. In discussing the action of one of the commissioners in presenting Wilfred Jessup, one of the L. H. and P. attorneys, with a copy of the Bond brief, it was pointed out to Mr. Bavis that if it were unfair for the opposing counsel in the condemnation proceedings to have knowledge of the written arguments of the city attorney, then it would be unfair for the attorneys of one litigant in a court trial to be present in the court room while the arguments of the attorneys of the other litigant were being advanced.

"It looks like a subtle action against the interests of the city," Mr. Bavis replied.

Pressed for an explicit reason as to why he thought the public should not be informed at this time as to the contents of the city attorney's brief, in the light of the fact that this brief is now in the possession of the Light, Heat and Power company, the board president said that such action might embarrass Mr. Bond, opening a way to public criticism of the city attorney's arguments by parties opposed to the city purchasing the electric plant of the Light, Heat and Power company, especially by members of the public utilities committee of the Commercial club.

Mr. Bavis had previously intimated, however, that he regarded the brief as flawless for he had described it to newspaper men as a "masterpiece."

RELIEF CALLS CEASE AT TRUSTEE'S OFFICE

"Working conditions in Richmond have never been better than they are today," said Township Trustee Edgeron. "The trustee's office has not had a call to give aid to anyone on account of unemployment for the past three months."

This condition is unusual, according to the township trustee. Practically all the relief given during the summer months has been to persons who are afflicted physically.

Several reasons are advanced by the trustee for this condition. He says that practically all the factories are working more men than they did last spring and in addition to this, the laboring population is becoming adjusted to the condition.

OTHER CREEDS TO SEND MEN TO CONVENTION

Registration of delegates representing Yearly Meetings of Friends from Main to California, who will attend the National Conference of Men Friends, which opens here October 26, now number eighty-one, according to S. E. Nicholson, editor of the American Friend, who is receiving the announcements.

Mr. Nicholson, when arrangements for the conference were started in the spring, declared that if the registration numbered one hundred on the opening day of the meeting, he would be satisfied with the prospects of success of the undertaking. He expressed his belief today that the one hundred mark will be reached by the last of this week.

Thought there are leading speakers who are members of the Friends denomination, four speakers who are not affiliated with the church will assume much prominence on the program. These are Dr. J. Douglas Adams of Hartford, Conn., who will deliver three spiritual addresses not scheduled for general discussion; J. Campbell White, head of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, of New York city, who will make an address on "World Problems and Our Responsibilities"; Geo. Nasmyth of the World Peace Foundation.
