RECOGNITION OF THE STREETS

Requests for the address of Mary Pickford have come to the office. Address letters to 270 Riverside Drive, New York.

So many ask me the question, "Are you recognized when on the streets?" that I thought a little talk today on that subject might please you.

I am recognized constantly, and everywhere, under all circumstances and conditions, and the comments made are very amusing and often pleasing. I am always afraid my appearance is a disappointment. People are naturally so honest that when it is they can't conceal it, and their efforts to act as if I am all they dreamed are awfully funny.

They seem disappointed mostly about my eyes. My hair always pleases. I have never heard any one express any disappointment about that, but oh, my eyes! They will say: "You have brown eyes. I thought you had blue eyes," and look as if an idol had fallen. One young lady said, "Oh, you have brown eyes!" She said it in such a distressed tone I replied, "I am afraid you are disappointed."

"Not at all," she answered quickly, "but I had always pictured you with blue eyes." I know she was disappointed. My eyes are hazel.

A New England Episode. This often happens to me in the stores. The girl waiting on me will look at me furtively while winding the ribbon over her fingers. Then, growing brave, she will venture, "I beg your pardon, but haven't I seen you somewhere before?"

I, sometimes, to tease her, will reply, "Oh, I come in here often." "No," she answers, and I feel that she has caught me, and I may as well confess. "It is not in this store," have seen you somewhere else, and you were not dressed up as you are today. I wonder where it was."

Then I confess, "Perhaps," I suggest, "you have seen me in the pictures." "Mary Pickford," she will cry, letting the ribbon drop from her fingers in her excitement. "Won't you please shake hands with me? Do you know, I thought it was you all the time, but was afraid to say so."

In another minute, making some pretext, she steps to the girl at the next counter and her whispering is not about the price of the ribbon, for the other girl looks interested, and she tells it to some other girl, and I hear as I pass down the aisle, "Yes, it is," "No, it isn't," "I bet you it is, just the same," and when the whisper has reached the girl at the end of the counter she steps forward and settles the dispute by asking me if I am really Mary Pickford.

To their credit, they invariably say they wish they could act like me. Not once does one of them wish she earned as much as I, and I have yet to meet the girl with a trace of envy in her speech or eyes. It is all frank admiration and friendliness, and I love them for it. I have heard there is a national organization called the Girls' Friendly Society, and that it does untold good in cultivating a spirit of friendliness among girls. When my girl admirers accost me, and I get that nice, kind, honest look in their eyes, I feel as if we unconsciously belonged, and I want to take in more members.

I am always being stopped on the street by some one who recognizes me, and always there is a spirit of friendliness that repays me for all the work I have done on the screen to make so many friends. Do you know, this is one of the reasons I could never play the part of a very bad girl; it would hurt me to think that my screen friends all over the world were seeing me when I was misbehaving, and it was disappointing them.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS. Mrs. Q. New Haven, Conn.: Heaven has been so kind to our little family that there are no invalids in it, so I took your question to the mother of a little girl who is wheeled in a chair, being unable to walk. She says she never gave her daughter a nicer birthday surprise than this: She made a cake, large and flat, fed it in white, marked it off the size of dominoes, and outlined it with chocolate icing to look like dominoes; cut it up, and gave it to her. The little girl had great amusement as long as the cake lasted in getting her little friends to look at her box of dominoes and then surprising them by eating one.

CENTERVILLE DINNER YIELDS BIG PROFIT TO WOMEN'S ORDER

CENTERVILLE, Ind., Nov. 27.—Four hundred and four dinners were served by the ladies of the Cemetery association at the town hall on Thanksgiving, a few less than previous years. Twenty more dollars were realized from the sale of tickets than other years due to the increased price. Never in the history of the annual dinner was so great a variety of estates donated. Mrs. Laura Mull was entertained to Thanksgiving dinner by Mrs. Platt, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman McGlothlin who have been in Detroit for the past few months are with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dines for a visit. John R. Moulton and daughters spent Thanksgiving with C. B. George and family. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas of Indianapolis spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Marcella Beitzell and attended the Thanksgiving dinner at the hall. Mr. and Mrs. William Rhodenberg entertained to Thanksgiving dinner Mr. John Brock of Columbus, Ohio, and her daughter and granddaughter, Miss Marie Brock of Columbus, Ohio, and her daughter and granddaughter, Miss Marie Rhodenberg and Miss Catherine Bell Croan of Indianapolis and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Deardorff. Sixty members of the High school and grades and a party of the teachers attended the Old Trails theatre in a body Thanksgiving Day to see "Julius Caesar." Members of the Board of Education were also present. This was a special feature presented to the school by Prof. W. D. Cook, owner of the theatre. Miss Mabel Scott and brother Frank Earl Scott of Milton were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Savage and family north of town.

DINNER NETS $143. HAGERSTOWN, Ind., Nov. 27.—Receipts from the annual turkey dinner served by the Ladies' Cemetery association amounted to $143 Thanksgiving day. Proceeds from the chicken supper served in the evening were $40.

LITTLE PIMPLES ON CHILD'S FACE

Itched and Child Scratched. Could Not Leave Them Alone. Something Terrible, Used Cuticura. In a Month Child Was Healed.

Marie Beach, Mich.—"My little daughter was nearly two years old when she had little pimples come on her face. It was just a little red bump when it first started. I think they must have itched for she would scratch them until they would get to be large sores, nearly as large as a ten-cent piece. It seemed as if the poor girl could not leave them alone; if we held her hands she would try to rub her face on something else. It was just terrible. "I used most everything I could think of and everything anybody told me to use and nothing would help her. I decided to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment and before I had used them one week I could see they were healing. Before a month was up you would never know the child had ever had any sores on her face." (Signed) Mrs. Lewis White, June 22, 1914.

BOMB SETS FIRE TO SHIP?

BORDEUX, Nov. 27.—Fire believed to have been caused by a bomb placed on board the vessel while it was being loaded at New York, broke out in the hold of the steamer Bankdale a few days after the ship left the American port, and was extinguished only after being fought by the entire crew.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers You—Meat Forms Uric Acid.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then, to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. (Advertisement.)

ENFORCE SCHEDULE ON WAGON WEIGHTS

EATON, O., Nov. 27.—Looking to the protection of roads, the board of county commissioners has adopted a resolution which fixes the weight of loads permissible for various widths of wagon tires. Road officials throughout the county are requested to enforce rigidly the schedule, which follows: Three-inch tire, 3,400 pounds; 3½-inch tire, 3,600 pounds; 4-inch tire, 4,200 pounds; over 4-inch tire, 4,600 pounds. In each instance the weight of the wagon is to be included in the weight allowed.

The 100,000 Mile Reliability Car

Have you seen the big blue Studebaker posters we have on the boards all over town?

We are so proud of this car and its record-breaking prices—40-Horsepower "FOUR" Seven-passenger, $885.00, and 50-Horsepower "SIX" Seven-passenger, $1050.00, that we are even using bill boards to tell everybody about these wonderful values. The first 40-Horsepower "FOUR" Seven-passenger in the world under $1000.00. The first 50-Horsepower "SIX" Seven-passenger in the world, of equal car and value under $1450.00.

Studebaker is the car that recently broke all records in the 100,000 mile Reliability Run. The entire country is talking about that performance. Such a car should be of interest to you and you will be interested in seeing it.

Come in and let us show you the 1916 Studebaker.
