side spans, would be able to build both cheaper than if one were constructed this year and the other at a later date.

"As a citizen I am for the level bridge, but as a city official with the legal question of approaches to the Main street structure undecided, I must oppose the idea, as I do not believe the city should be plunged into further debt to build the street approaches to the bridge," argued Mr. Bavis.

Tells of Improvements.

He went on to say that the city administration would go on this year with its policy of permanently improved streets. At the very outset of his speech Mr. Bavis defended the merger of the two electric light plants.

County Attorney Holscher said he believed the association ought to prevail upon the commissioners to determine the location of the south side bridge this year.

New Members Accepted.

The new members accepted last evening were: Fred Hartman, J. E. Fawcsworth, George Watson, H. J. C. Lawson, Walter Dunning, Henry Griese-wald, Dr. C. E. Duffin, Luther M. Feeger and Albert Bavis.

The auditing committee composed of Albert Morel, Conrad S. Heet and Henry J. Dietrich presented the following report:

Balance in social fund $1,215.47
Balance in overall fund 747.83

Total $1,963.30

Beallview fund deficit 1,940.02

Balance in all funds 23.28

Defers Further Action.

The committee recommended setting aside a sum from the social fund to reimburse the Beallview fund for the use of buildings and grounds, and that a certain amount of Beallview stock be turned over to the social account to properly benefit the Beallview enterprise, but the organization deferred action on the recommendations.

W. F. Bockhoff of the National Automatic Tool company reported that 200 men were employed and that his weekly pay roll is in the neighborhood of $3,000. He denied emphatically that any machinery which his factory built was for concerns making ammunition for the allies. He called attention to the fact that he was forced to have many castings made outside the city.

Lee B. Nussbaum said the best dividends declared by the association was the location of new factories and the bringing of new men to the city.

President Blickwedel, in preface to his report, said that the report he intended to present a year hence would show the deplorable condition of south side streets and alleys when the South Side organization was organized and the improvement it brought about in beautifying the city in this respect. His 1915 report follows:

The fiscal year ending Jan. 1, 1916, shows that we made 1915 the banner year. A brief outline of what we have accomplished follows: The Veneer Door factory was turned over to the Richmond Listing and Adding Machine company, employing 35 skilled workmen. The prospect is encouraging and soon we will have at least 150 at work.

The National Automatic Tool works has increased its force from 45 to 200 and is erecting two new additions.

Good Labor Employed.

The Collar and Pad factory put on four additions and is employing a good class of labor.

The Indianapolis Glove factory which was located in the south side through the South Side Improvement association has now built its own factory and has increased its employees from 100 to 204. It is located directly south of the C. & O. depot. It is a two story structure well lighted and conveniently arranged. Its pay roll will be $75,000 this year. It is the most modern factory building in Eastern Indiana.

The glove factory is now owned by the South Side Improvement association and is occupied by Messrs. Braden and Walters. They are doing a nice business repairing and refinishing autos. We spent $600 on repairs before Braden and Walters went in. The Fry brothers' planing mills, also located by the South Side Improvement association, are manufacturing auto bodies and are employing twenty men.

Some More Progress.

The old handle factory, assigned to W. N. Johnson, is doing three times as much business making fenders as the old handle factory ever did.

The Richmond Forch Shade company occupying the old chandelier and art brass works, is doing excellent business.

The Indian refining company is very busy.

Two good factory sites are left in Beallview which will be donated by the South Side Improvement association.

The plat of Beallview shows 303 lots; 643 sold; unsold 138. Every working man in the city can afford to buy one of these lots, as they are good and are sold cheap. It will also be a good investment to build houses, apartments or flats for renting purposes, because the housing of the increased number of workmen is a serious problem. Twenty-two lots are used for park purposes and contain the pavilion and the headquarters of the association.

The extension of the street car line to South N. street adds to the value of Beallview. We have a fifteen-minute service. A concrete waiting room was erected west of the pavilion.

Want Young Members.

An especial appeal is made to young citizens to become members of the association for the dues are small and the whole city derives the benefit.

Young business men are urged to become interested in the association in order that the work may continue, and we may develop a more prosperous city. There are 305 social members who pay $2, making $610 annually, which can be spent for locating factories. They own 201 shares of stock in the holdings of the association.

The meetings last year were well attended and the interest was intense. Meetings are held on the first and third Tuesday of each month.

I extend my thanks to the board of directors, the standing committees, the secretary, and members of the organization for their hearty co-operation. I thank you for electing me to serve in 1916, which makes my thirteenth consecutive term in this office.

TENDER and soft or clear and ringing, breathing the rich sweetness of the 'cello or thundering out an orchestral passage in all its tremendous power—the tone of Columbia Records is always flawlessly true.

Every quality of voice and instrument is brought out with force and clearness—perfectly preserved and superbly expressed, unmistakable even in the harmonious confusion of orchestral music. To hear Columbia Records played on the Columbia Grafonola—or on any other instrument—is a revelation of what tone-perfection can be.

Ask the nearest Columbia dealer to play your favorite orchestral selections. Note how you can listen for the recurrence of the theme—how beautifully distinct is the thread of harmony carried by each individual instrument.
