A moment later a dark object fell from one of the aeroplanes and as it came closer to earth it was recognized as a human body. It was one of the pilots. A short time later the aeroplane fell to the ground and the other occupant died almost instantly. The aeroplane had the tri-colors painted on its wings. # FELLOWSHIP SHOWN IN SALOON CROWD WOULD MAKE CHURCH MORE POPULAR

Interesting accounts of wholesale arrests of gamblers and raiding of gambling joints in Erie, Pa., and other cities in which he directed the movements of detectives were given by Capt. Owen Ward, president of the National Association of Licensed Detectives, before a crowd of approximately 400 men at the Gennett theatre Sunday afternoon. He declared the worst evils in gambling were the slot machines in the drug store or confectionery, the punch board and the raffles at church affairs, and denounced, too, the saloon business which he said was inseparably associated with gambling. "The gambler always believes he's going to be a winner," said Captain Ward. "Gambling makes crooks because when a man begins a campaign

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Gregerson home. The body was buried in a cemetery at Richmond.
