

MRS. JOHNSTON PLEASES WITH TALK ON FAIR

Before an audience that numbered more than 250 persons, Mrs. M. F. Johnston, former president of the Richmond Art association, delivered her illustrated lecture on the Pan-Pacific exposition in the high school auditorium, last night.

The audience was considerably larger than was expected in view of the heavy rain storm. Many tickets had been sold by members of Art Study club under whose auspices the lecture was given, to persons who were prevented from attending by the inclement weather.

About sixty stereopticon slides were shown by Mrs. Johnston while she gave her discourse on the world's exposition held at San Francisco last year. The most interesting phases of that fair were discussed by the speaker who held the close attention of all of those who were present.

The photographic reproductions were highly colored and brought into prominent view the beauty of the architectural, sculptural and landscape gardening designs and buildings of the exposition. Views of the art exhibit of which Mrs. Johnston was senior docent were also shown.

The amount of proceeds which will be added to the fund to defray the cost of the association for the purchase of the William M. Chase self-portrait, is uncertain at this time, but it is estimated that approximately $75 was realized. Mrs. Johnston's services were volunteered for the occasion.

NEW SPRING OUTFIT SHOWS DEPARTURES

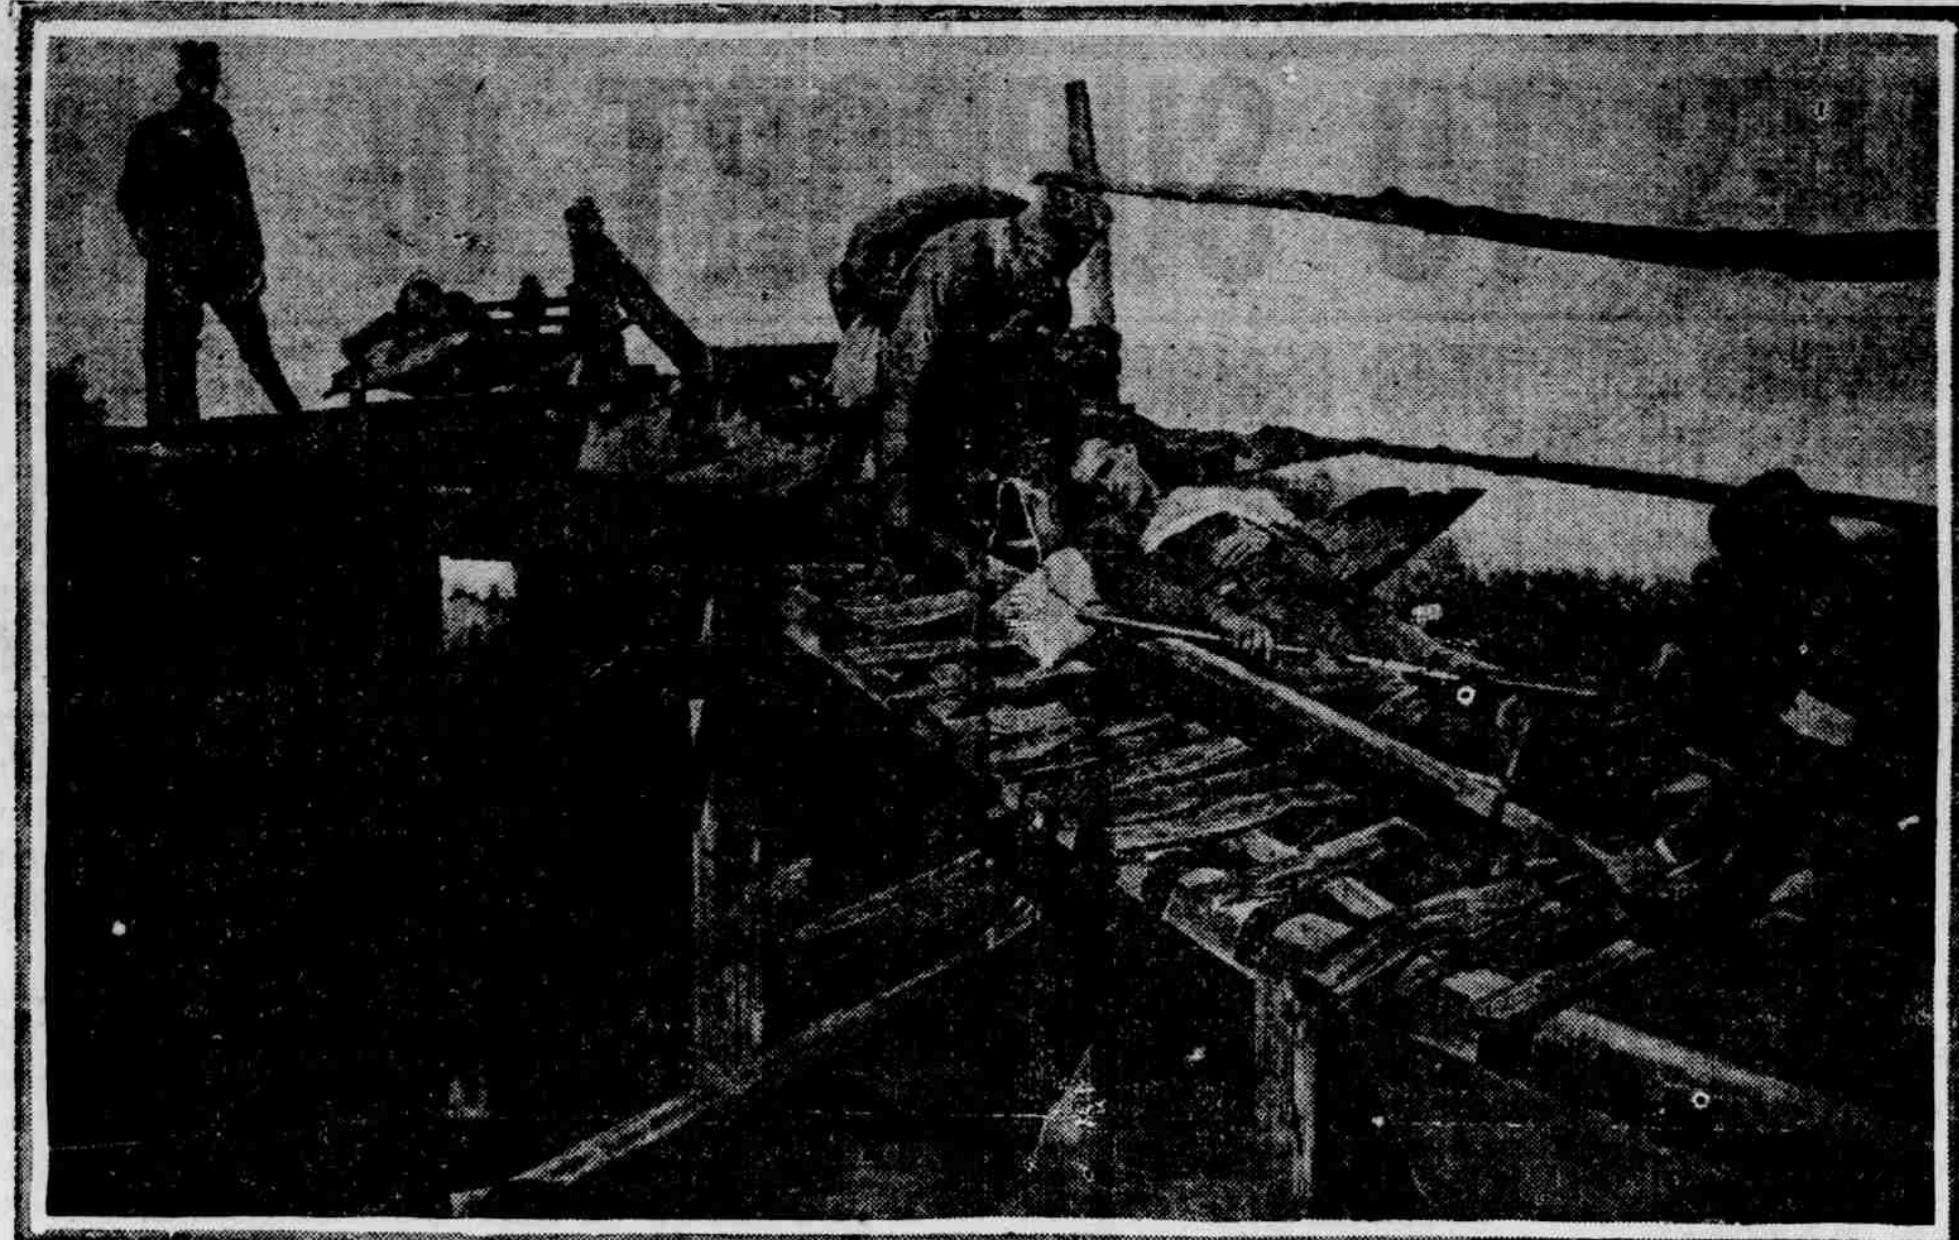

Higher spats and more buttons are higher of the newest features of the spring outfit. A smart costume of black and white check flannel seen recently had a coat with a pointed circular flounce, a fuller skirt, and the suit boasted of sixty buttons. The spats were of the same material as the suit, and were twelve inches high. A black straw sailor completed the outfit.

WORSHIPS ON INTERURBAN

LEBANON, Ind., Mar. 7.—There being no church handy, Mrs. Daisy Barr, evangelist, held a shop meeting in an interurban car. There were seats for but a small portion of audience and the others hung onto the straps.

MEN FRIENDS HEAR EARLHAM ORATOR SPEAK

Seventy-five representatives of the men's unions of the Whitewater, West Richmond, East Main street and the South Eighth street Friends' churches were present at a joint meeting in the last named church last night when Donald B. Snyder of Earlham College delivered his address on "Military Education in the Public Schools."

Snyder carried off first honors for his college with this address at the recent Indianapolis state oratorical contest. It has been given a number of times since then.

Routine business of the South Eighth street Friends' union was dispensed with except the notice given the nominating committee to bring the names for a ticket to be elected upon at the annual meeting in April. The nominating committee is composed of C. F. Hoeffer, William J. Hiatt, W. B. Martin, William Wickett and Rev. F. C. Ancombe.

John H. Johnson presided at last night's meeting.

BROWN WILL INVITE GOSSIPERS TO ATTEND REVIVAL SERVICES

County commissioners have been informed by County Attorney Hoelscher that they cannot legally pay any of the witnesses who appeared before the board in the bridge engineer litigation although Frank Osborne, salesman for the Indiana Bridge company, announced his intention Saturday of filing a claim for his expenses.

Mr. Hoelscher informed the commissioners that when the hearing was announced, the commissioners realized they had no legal right to demand witnesses to appear and consequently they made no appropriations. Any witness who did appear, did so at his own expense and of his own free will, he said.

The hearing will be continued tomorrow when Alvin Threewits, of Abington township, will testify. As far as is known, he is the last witness to testify in behalf of the contention made by Peacock that there are irregularities in the work of Bridge Engineer Mueller. Mueller will take the stand in his own behalf Wednesday. The hearing will begin at 10 o'clock.

The most remarkable engineering accomplishment is a well in western China, bored to a depth of 3,600 feet with a rattan cable.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these organs, properly working, products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, never really sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face."

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evils, naturally, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient known as 'sentinel'—Mr. Muller's 'sentinel'—which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though, of course, it is not to be classed with the real calomel. The active ingredient is a morning constituent in 'sentinel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these have the power to enable one to import tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

The Constipation Curse

Constipation—clogged bowels cause pain and sickness; 95 per cent of our ills, say the authorities. Sentinel laxatives bring quick relief. All vegetable laxatives contain no calomel. Ten doses for a dime at any druggist. Physician's sample free, upon request, if you mention this advertisement. The Sentinel Remedies Co., Inc., 800 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

CLASS IN COOKING FORMS AT MISSION

Reports, indicating that satisfactory progress is being made in shaping the affairs of the North Fourteenth Street Mission, were made at a meeting of the executive committee in the Y. M. C. A. last night. Five of the seven members of the committee were present. W. O. Mendenhall, president of the administration board presided.

The churches to whom appeals have been raised have pledged $73 a month to the budget of $80 necessary to maintain the Mission and four churches are yet to report.

Miss Wolford, domestic science teacher, is allotting two hours a week to the teaching of class in cookery at the Mission and a Mothers' club will be organized Friday afternoon. A Boys' club has been organized and the attendance of the Sunday school increased to more than ninety. It was formerly about fifty.

WITNESS MUST PAY EXPENSE IN HEARING OF PEACOCK CHARGE

Four Sick Men" is the special subject to be discussed by Evangelist Roy L. Brown at the First Christian church revival tonight.

R. Leighton Brown, Jr., is assisting with the musical program each evening and a big double chorus has been organized. The junior chorus will be one of the attractive features of the meeting. There were between forty and fifty in the children's chorus, the first night and every seat in the adult chorus was occupied. Last night a splendid audience was present.

Prayer meetings were held in various parts of the city yesterday with a large attendance. Prayer services will be held again tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock.

Evangelist Brown is gratified with the enthusiastic start in this campaign, and predicts a great meeting. Live subjects will be discussed. He expects to preach a sermon shortly when he will give a special invitation to liars, hypocrites and gossips. He says he will speak mighty plain so that all will understand. The song service begins at 7:30 each evening.

reading without discussion. It will again indicate if it will be defeated because quite a number of councilmen think the entire length of the street should be paved or no section of it so improved. City officials were also informed that in council's opinion there were several other streets which needed permanent improving much more than Fort Wayne avenue.

Raps Property Owners.

Councilman Howells took a rap at Fort Wayne property owners. He said rents on that street had always been above the average and property values wholesome, but that public spirit among the property owners was at such low ebb that no sidewalks, curbs and gutters had ever been petitioned for.

The ordinance for the paving of Richmond avenue from West Fifth street to the bridge passed second come up for final action at the next council meeting.

Councilman Carter, chairman of a special committee, reported an ordinance appropriating $1,500 for the purchase of a combination ambulance-patrol, motor driven, for the police department. An effort to pass this ordinance on suspension of the rules was defeated, on second reading, when three councilmen, Walterman, Weishaupt and Howells, voted no. A unanimous vote is required to suspend rules.

At the next meeting this ordinance will again come up for the second reading. Some of the councilmen oppose this expenditure unless the touring car now used by the police is disposed of. The police board, however, is demanding the retention of the car now used. Some of the police officials are wondering how an ambulance-patrol can be acquired for $1,500.

Talks About Hospital.

Councilman Waldele, who has for about a year been calling attention to the careless methods of maintaining the city detention hospital and its tenant house, resulting in almost the ruination of the two buildings, once more broached the subject last night. "The board of health says it has no money to make necessary improvements and I think it is about time for the city to find out where it can get the money before the two buildings collapse," said Waldele.

"Those buildings should be improved at once or torn down," declared Steinbrink.

The mayor instructed the board of public works to report at the next meeting on a plan for repairing the buildings.

Councilman Carter reported that the No. 5 hose house was in a very poor state of repair; that the men's sleeping quarters were in particularly bad shape and that the building needed painting. Councilman Steinbrink also reported that the No. 4 hose house also needed painting badly. These improvements are to be made in the spring.

Council adopted a resolution introduced by Howells for the purchase of two stop watches for the police department to be used in the prevention of auto speeding. Howells said that reckless driving was now a positive menace in this city.
