Jolly Tommies in Trench

BRITISH SAND BAG TRENCH AT STEROL. (AP Photo)

"Strafing" the Germans, as the Tommies call it, seems grim work from this distance; but the photograph indicates it does not tell on the spirits of the men in the trenches perhaps as much as on the anxious mother and wife at home.

UMPIRE KLEM THE GIANT CHASER

WILLIAM KLEM

Members of the New York Giants are convinced that Umpire Bill Klem "has it in for them." On two separate occasions Klem has chased the entire Giant squad from the bench. The latest bit of banishing came in Boston the other day. Red Doolin was the first to go. Red had grated on Bill's nerves by his coaching tactics. An inning or two later the Giant bunch became a bit noisy on the bench. Bill cautioned them to be quiet. They were—for an inning or two, then the noise cropped up again, after one of the Giants had made a brilliant play. Klem walked to the bench and fired fifteen Giants. That left nine men playing on the field and John McGraw, who wasn't on the bench when Bill fired the crowd. McGraw stuck for an inning or two more and then he, too,

SCHOOLS CLOSE AT CENTERVILLE

CENTERVILLE, Ind., May 1.—The commencement exercises at the M. E. church Friday evening were attended by a larger crowd than has been present for several years. The church was beautifully decorated, and the class motto, "We have reached the bay, the ocean lies before us," was placed in a conspicuous position. The girls of the class wore white sailor suits and black ties. The address by Julia Fried Walker was delivered in an effective and forceful manner. In her subject, "Dreams," she gave the class a "vision" of the future, revealing the beautiful life, as that which is wrought through patiently and well doing the common, everyday duties of life. Especially did she emphasize the necessity of doing things completely and perfectly. The music was furnished by Gates' orchestra. Those who received diplomas were Esther Weiser, Charles Mull, Mary Martin, Mary Garrett, Mable and Ida Moser, Claude Burris, John Spahr, Ruth Darnell, Beulah Bowers, Carrie Chessman, Inez Meek, Audrey King and Bernice Beck.

EATON, O., May 1.—Although he believes a Ford is a good machine, Marshal Armstrong is convinced it is outclassed for speed when it comes to running down motorcycles.

Upon information from West Alexandria, five miles east of here, Marshal Armstrong drove down East Main street Sunday afternoon to round up a couple of Richmond (Ind.) motorcyclists who went through that village at a lightning rate. The riders gave no heed to the marshal's signal, but instead one uttered an oath. They escaped.
