A Neat and Practical Design

1669—Ladies' Apron and Sleeve Protector.

This model has several good features. It is made with a waist portion over the back, which joins the skirt at the belt, and so holds the apron snug and trim in place. The sleeve protector is most serviceable, covering that portion of the dress or waist sleeve which is most easily soiled.

The Pattern is good for gingham, seersucker, lawn, drill, percale, mohair and saten. It is cut in 3 sizes: Small, Medium and Large. The Medium size requires 5-8 yards of 36 inch material for the apron with 3-4 yards for the protector.

Penn's showing so far this year has been nothing wonderful, yet Coach Joe Wright is confident that the Red and Blue oarsmen will give a good account of themselves in the big race. The Penn crew has been slow in rounding into form, but is going at top speed now.

REGULARS BRACE

half the delegation jumped on chairs to lead the cheering.

A delegate with a toy elephant swung over his head started a parade through the aisles. Oregon delegates joined in, and the Oregon banner swung in behind the baby elephant. Vermont was next. Through aisles went the procession with a steady "We want Hughes, we want Hughes," ringing out above the general tumult that swept the big hall from pit to dome.

Ohio and Indiana refused to join the uproar. The Hughes delegates from New York did their utmost to keep the demonstration going.

"Hughes and whiskers will beat Wilson and watchful waiting" yelled the delegates as the procession swept through the hall. The favorite son delegate stood the strain well and seemed amused by the efforts of the Hughes boosters among the delegates to get real support from the galleries.

Someone in the gallery yelled "Hurrah for Roosevelt," but it got nowhere if it was an attempt to capture the ovation.

Manager Hitchcock of the Hughes boom from a place of vantage on the floor viewed the demonstration with approval and nodded encouragement to the various Hughes delegations.

Harding Denies Plea. After the yelling had lasted fifteen minutes a Root man in the New York delegation suggested from his seat that "we get busy," but chairman Harding simply smiled at his plea and shook his head.

on the basis of their participation in the demonstration it was claimed that the claims of the Hughes managers that they had the vote to put Hughes over on the first ballot, were not well founded. Less than a majority of the delegates participated in the parade or the cheering. There were about 300 delegates in the demonstration.

At 12:30 when the demonstration had lasted 19 minutes, Chairman Harding began to use his gavel to restore order and the demonstration ended after 21 minutes.

CHANGES MADE IN MANY BILLS FOR ASSEMBLY

Several additions and changes in the chautauqua program were made known today by the chairman of the program committee, Charles Jordan.

The Florentine musical company has been substituted for Boston Symphony Sextette.

Tuesday, August 29 will be Democratic day and Wednesday, August 30 will be Republican day. The speakers have not yet been arranged.

Rev. J. G. Benson, Brazil, teacher of the largest Sunday school class in the world, will have charge of the morning programs during the entire first week.

Some woman suffrage speaker will be included at some time during the chautauqua session.

Byron W. King, president of the King's school of Oratory, Pittsburg, will read and lecture, Sunday, August 27.

The Mallory players are another feature attraction which has been added to the program. Clifton Mallory and five celebrated players will present a play from Mr. Mallory's own pen, "Thrill."

The play illustrates the effects upon morals of the working classes and of home. It portrays a sweet, simple story that grips.

The Wolverines musical numbers, scheduled for August 27, have been cancelled.

Only five open dates remain to be filled and Mr. Jordan said that the committee hoped to fill these within the next few days.

LEARNER WILL SPEAK

Ellis M. Learner, Y. M. C. A. secretary, will address the brotherhood meeting of the First Baptist church next Tuesday night.

At this meeting, committees for the coming year will probably be announced. Rev. W. O. Stovall announced today.

The Roosevelt Republican delegates who had been in conference in the Auditorium left there for the Coliseum under instructions to whom it up for "Teddy." Senator Fall had been instructed to make his speech for the Colonel as soon as possible.

A hurried call was sent out to friendly state leaders to find out whether it would not be possible to get some state well up on the list on the alphabetical order to yield to New Mexico so that Fall could get Colonel Roosevelt's name before the convention as soon as possible.

The committee made no recommendation whatever. It put the whole thing squarely up to the convention.

SOUTHERN DELEGATES FIGHT AT CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 9.—All the scuffling attendant upon the two conventions here is not confined to convention halls. Isaac P. Mann, of West Virginia, a Republican delegate, was nursing a sore jaw today as a result of an encounter with Governor H. D. Hatfield of the same state. Mann, it is said, objected to the governor's announcing the state chairmanship, and in the argument which followed the governor swung on Mann. Friends separated them.
