CENTENNIAL FILM SHOWS AT COLISEUM

The historical and centennial picture, "Indiana," which is to be shown at the Coliseum theater this evening, tomorrow afternoon and evening, has the official endorsement of the Indiana Historical commission.

Following a private showing in Indianapolis last week, members of the commission added personal praise to the official endorsement. The exhibition, which was given in the senate chamber of the state house, was to have begun at 8 o'clock in the evening, but owing to a delay, the picture did not arrive until 10:30, and members of the commission watched the exhibition until after midnight.

Dr. Frank B. Wynn of Indianapolis, chairman of the commission, after seeing the picture, said: "I hope the people of Indiana are as pleased as I am with 'Indiana,' for it is certainly a wonderful picture and fulfills all our expectations."

"Indiana" should be seen by every person in Indiana," said Charles W. Moore, another member of the commission, after seeing the picture. "It is a great feature of the state's centennial, and deserves all the patronage it can get," said Mr. Moore.

The picture, which is in seven reels, shows an unusual way the development of Indiana into statehood, beginning with the arrival of LaSalle in 1679, showing the Indian fights and struggles of pioneer fathers and mothers when Indiana was in its infancy.

GETTYSBURG CHURCH HOLDS HOME-COMING

NEW PARIS, O., June 13.—One of the most enjoyable meetings was the home-coming held Sunday at the Gettysburg Presbyterian church. A large number of former residents were present to enjoy the program. The Rev. E. J. Vance delivered the morning sermon, the Rev. C. A. Hunter the afternoon address, and the Rev. J. Rae of Richmond, the evening sermon. The Lee Nusbaum family orchestra and the Reid orchestra of Richmond by their beautiful selections added not a little to the day's enjoyment. Numbers of vocal selections were given, and the remnant of the "owld singin'-skule" of thirty-five years ago gave several selections, with their one time organist, Mrs. A. B.
