REV. FEEGER

lot purchased originally for a church site. After paying off this indebtedness, he took charge of the construction of a parsonage on this lot, South Seventh and C.

Shows Prosperous Year The present church at South Seventh and E, constructed at a cost of $50,000, was dedicated a number of years ago. There are no debts resting on the building. The report of the financial secretary of the church last year showed the most prosperous year in its history.

He has been president of the Wendle Orphans' Home board for many years. The $50,000 structure was built under his administration. He financed this undertaking. No indebtedness incumbers the orphanage.

Besides owning the new church and parsonage, St. John's still holds the original church property on South Fourth street. The lower part of the building is used for a parochial school and the old church auditorium was converted into an assembly hall for the Young People's society.

Decision is Surprize

Announcement of the decision of the Rev. Mr. Feeger to sever his connections with St. John's came as a complete surprise to the vestry which met Thursday evening. No one anticipated that he would make a change and it was a foregone conclusion in the minds of most members that the pastor would end his career in the congregation to which he has devoted the greater part of his life.

Members of the vestry predicted today that the congregation would not let him accept the Dayton call. The Rev. Mr. Feeger informed Christian Drathring, secretary of the congregation yesterday, that his decision would not be changed. Pastoral work prevented the Rev. Mr. Feeger from attending the meeting of the vestry.

A rack that can be hung on a radiator to enable a person to warm his feet has been invented.
