Bockhoff's Argument

If County Councilman Bockhoff bases his whole fight against the bridge appropriation on the chance that the C. & O. will some day change its right of way through Richmond, obviating the Main street viaduct, he is indulging in a bit of speculation that is pretty visionary. If he is using this argument to swing other councilmen to his view, in order that they might defeat the wish of the people, he also is indulging in a dream.

Mr. Bockhoff ought remember that the whole county is sick and tired of the bridge squabble.

The Main street bridge must be replaced without further delay. The people want action, and they insist that the county council take action at once. The sentiment of the county is strongly against a level bridge with a consequent outlay of thousands of dollars. Sentiment also is against Bockhoff's desire to patch up an old span that is eaten with rust and never will be able to stand the load demanded of it. His theory of repairing the structure has few supporters.

No one can understand why Mr. Bockhoff should be so keen to have the old span, condemned by competent men, repaired. No one can understand why Bockhoff waited until the last minute to spring the idea. During the many weeks that the problem was under consideration, Bockhoff had nothing to say, and then, shortly before final action was imminent, he, with Councilman Druley, thwart the wish of the whole community.

In the meantime, the whole city and county are made to suffer inconvenience. If Mr. Bockhoff has insisted weeks ago that the span be repaired, if he had taken a stand at that time, the whole county would not be looking askance now at his efforts to postpone a settlement of a controversy which every one wants ended.

The members of the county council when they meet again to take up the question ought bear in mind that this community will not tolerate dilatory tactics, neither will it be satisfied with wasting thousands of dollars on an old structure that will have to be replaced in a short time. This county wants a new bridge, whether Bockhoff and his friends like it or not.

Sportsman Launches Sub Chaser

'SUBMARINE CHASER.'

©INTL. FILM SERVICE.

This country is not going to be caught unaware by an enemy submarine if Herman Oelrichs, millionaire sportsman, has anything to say about it. Mr. Oelrichs, who is a particular friend and chum of Vincent Astor, has just built one of the latest type of submarine chasers.

The vessel is a sixty-foot patrol boat, developing a speed of thirty-five miles an hour, sufficient to overhaul any submarine, it is said. On the rear deck is a rapid-fire gun large enough to put a submarine out of business. Patrol boats of this class are being used extensively by England in the present war, and are said to be effective.

In the picture Mr. Oelrichs is standing on the forward deck of the chaser. Several of these boats are being built for private individuals, who will hold them in readiness for government service in case of war.

BOSTON WOMAN RECOMMENDING IT TO HER FRIENDS

Popular Boston Lady Says Tonoline Has Proven a Godsend to Her.

It is always interesting to listen to the statements of our friends, and especially when you know they are sincere and honest in what they say. Added interest is created in a statement coming from one who has spent a lifetime in Boston, where she is well known socially.

Such a person is Annie Stewart, who resides in Boston, and is possessed of the respect and confidence of her associates, and is willing for anyone to call on her to verify the following signed testimonial:

"I had dizzy spells and headaches, and after I ate a little food it would ferment and cause gas to form in my stomach. I had pains all over my body and was chronically constipated. My liver was torpid and I felt generally miserable. I had doctored and had been in the hospital, but received no permanent relief. I was so nervous and restless that at night I could scarcely sleep. The gas pressing under my heart caused palpitation, and when I arose in the morning I was just as tired as when I retired. About two weeks ago I began to take tonoline, and I can truthfully state that it has done wonders in my case. I am feeling like a new woman and can eat any kind of food. I sleep the night through and have no more aches or pains; in fact, it has cured me, and I am recommending it to all of my friends as it has been a God-send to me."

M. J. Quigley's drug stores sell and guarantee tonoline.

There are numerous symptoms of this trouble that tonoline can relieve. In fact, any of the following may denote affections of the stomach: Indigestion, dyspepsia, belching of wind, bad breath, sick throbbing headache, poor circulation, night sweats, that tired feeling, costiveness, coated tongue or a poor complexion.

Caution: As tonoline is recommended as a flesh builder those not wishing to increase their weight 15 pounds or more should not take it continuously.
