

MRS. SEDGWICK WAS LEADER IN MANY WORTHY MOVEMENTS

The death of Marcia Sutton Sedgwick, wife of Richard Sedgwick, removes from a number of circles a most faithful and devoted friend and co-worker.

Mrs. Sedgwick was a woman who worked quietly in the avenues which opened to her and as she saw the need, recognized her responsibility and with enthusiasm performed her duty so far as lay within her power.

The Home for the Friendless appealed to her—she became interested in its work and was honored by her election to the first vice-presidency of the woman's board of managers, and served the board with zeal.

Belonged to Aid Society. She was a member of the Ladies' Aid society of the Reid Memorial hospital and at one time a member of the board of the Margaret Smith Home.

When able to attend to the duties of these organizations it was always a pleasure born of the interest in the welfare and comfort of others.

When the Young Men's Christian Association was built, Mrs. Sedgwick was active in the organization of the Ladies' Auxiliary, was chairman of the house committee which rendered such indispensable aid in caring for the interior of the dormitory.

For four years she was the financial secretary and treasurer of this society. Mrs. Sedgwick was raised in the Quaker faith, being a member of the East Main street Friends church. During the ministry of the late Dr. Alexander Gilchrist, over the United Presbyterian church, prior to the building of the Reid Memorial church, she, with her husband, united with this denomination and followed later by her entire family.

Active in New Church. Mrs. Sedgwick immediately became identified with the activities of her new church home and was most thoroughly interested and in accord with the work of the Ladies' Missionary society and was for three years its honored and capable president.

Her love for children led her into the work of the Sabbath school, where she for years maintained a most successful class of little ones, being present with them the last Sabbath she was alive.

In all her activities Mrs. Sedgwick was a most harmonious worker, choosing to work quietly and earnestly with a zeal inspired by a fidelity to purpose, giving with pleasure of her strength and ability.

It is not generally known that in the palatial residence of the Sedgwicks, are many pieces of her handiwork most beautiful, and that she found time also to create many pieces bearing the stamp of genuine artistic ability, which are now possessed by her friends.

To her friends she confided her failing strength, which necessitated, in the recent months, the withdrawal from some of her chosen duties.

She went to her operation in the full expectation that she would be returned to her home, renewed in strength and ready again to lay her talent upon the altar of service with her friends.

At 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the funeral services will be held in the Reid Memorial church. Friends may call at any time at the Sedgwick residence, West Fifth street.

PRICES OF BREAD CAUSING CONCERN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Reports of actual increase in bread prices in various parts of the country reaching here today, caused serious concern at the offices of the Federal Trade commission. The apparent certainty of a nationwide advance in price of the country's principal food made it clear that consideration of the problem by Federal authorities must be hastened.

It was stated that the members of the commission now on vacation would hurry back to Washington.

Agents of the commission in co-operation with the department of justice are preparing a survey of the bread price conditions throughout the country.

MRS. MARY WITTE DIES AT HER HOME AFTER LONG ILLNESS

One of the oldest members of the St. Andrews Catholic church, Mary Louisa Witte, aged 87 years and 9 months, died at her home, 242 South Fifth street, yesterday morning at 11:50 o'clock. She had been an invalid for some time and death was not unexpected.

About two years ago Mrs. Witte suffered a fractured hip in a fall. A little later she was stricken with paralysis. She never recovered from the double affliction.

One of the first and truest members of the St. Andrews church, Mrs. Witte was known and loved by members of that congregation. She was a member of both the St. Anne Ladies' Society and Poor Souls Society of St. Andrews.

Five daughters and one sister survive. The daughters, Mrs. William Torbeck, Mrs. Edwin Berhaide, the Misses Louise, Bernadina and Anna Witte, all reside in Richmond. Mrs. Harmon Hellman, of Covington, Ky., is a sister. Nineteen grand children and fourteen great-grand children also survive.

The funeral will be held from the

Keeps Her Children In Perfect Health

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin the Family Laxative for Many Years.

Mrs. Aug. Doellefeld of Carlyle, Ill., recently wrote to Dr. Caldwell, at Monticello, Ill., that she has used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in her home for a number of years, and would not be without it, as with it she has been able to keep her four children in perfect health.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that acts on the bowels in an easy way, and regulates the action of this most important function. Nearly all the sickness to which children are subject is traceable to bowel inaction and a mild, dependable laxative such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should have a place in every family medicine chest. It is pleasant to taste and children like it, and take it readily, while it is equally effective for adults.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold in drug stores everywhere for fifty cents a bottle. To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure you get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

COUNTY ATTORNEY

Up to the present time it has been the general supposition that the county would have to bear the cost of property damage caused by a level bridge.

"I have examined the statutes of Indiana and have come to the conclusion that Wayne county has absolutely no right or authority to condemn property in the city of Richmond for the purpose of changing or affecting a street in the city because I find no statute giving the county or its board of commissioners such authority, and for the further reason that a statute touching municipal corporations reads 'That every city shall have the exclusive power over the streets and bridges within such city and may prescribe the height, width and manner of construction of all bridges and open, straighten and otherwise alter and improve streets,' Mr. Hoelscher informs the bridge expert in his letter.

Could Condemn Property. "The city of Richmond undoubtedly has the power through its board of public works and if necessary through its council by ordinances to condemn for the use of such city any property real or personal to open, change lay out or affect any street within such city. Of course in the case the Main street bridge there will be no physical taking of property, the property taken will simply be easements of ingress or egress, of view and of light which are held to be property. It would take the city from four to six weeks to make such assessments.

Mr. Hoelscher points out that it would not be advisable to start work on a level bridge until after all appeals from the awards of the board of works were settled by the circuit court. If any property owner should be not satisfied with the damage awards granted he could appeal to the court. In case the court would decide upon damages which the city considered unreasonable, it would have the right to drop all proceedings and the property owner could file an injunction against the bridge.

City Could Refuse. The city also has a perfect right to refuse to assess the damages to property or to agree to make the street open for a level bridge.

"You will also see that before anything can be done towards building a level bridge or deciding to build a so called level bridge, the city must first proceed to condemn the easements or the ingress and egress, light and view heretofore referred to, that is we must wait and see if the city will succeed in making such condemnations," Mr. Hoelscher says in his conclusion.

CONTEST COMMITTEE THANKS MANY AIDES

In appreciation for services, the contest committee of the Social Service bureau which had charge of the Richmond Better Baby contest has sent letters of thanks to all who assisted in the competition. Special letters of appreciation were sent to the physicians of the Wayne County Medical association, who made the examinations and to A. C. Brown, elevator man at the court house, who directed the mothers to the Social Service bureau rooms.
