

COMSTOCK CHEERED BY LARGE CROWDS ON SPEAKING TRIP

Walter Bossert, Republican district chairman, is enthusiastic over the reception which has been accorded Judge D. W. Comstock, candidate for representative in congress, in Franklin county, hitherto regarded as a rock-ribbed Democratic stronghold. Judge Comstock has made a thorough canvass of Franklin county this week and in ever town he has addressed large and interested audiences. Bossert predicts a Republican victory in Franklin county in November, a unique event in the district's history.

Saturday afternoon, this week, Comstock will speak at a "pole-raising" celebration in Dalton, Wayne county. Monday evening, October 2, Judge Comstock will deliver the preliminary address at the Henry J. Allen meeting in Cambridge City. The next three days he will be in Henry county, speaking at Kennard, Tuesday, New Lisbon Wednesday, and Knightstown Thursday.

Friday evening, October 6, Judge Comstock will speak at Williamsburg, Wayne county.

On October 11, 12 and 13 Judge Comstock will campaign in Rush county.

SMITH CORRECTS ERROR OF REPORT

"Is it true that your brother is bringing $250,000 of new gold to this country from Alaska?" Arthur Smith, of the Second National bank, was asked today.

"It is not," he answered emphatically.

Mr. Smith's brother, Lynn Smith, formerly of New Castle, is in the jewelry business at Ruby, Alaska. The presence of F. Smith and his wife at Seattle with one-fourth of a million dollars' worth of gold dust brought there led to the mistake. The gold dust was brought on the steamer Victoria from Nome, Alaska.

INSURANCE COVERS LOSS

WEST ALEXANDRIA, O., Sept. 28.—Several buildings belonging to the Bickel coal company burned Monday evening. The loss was largely covered by insurance.

SEPTEMBER GAINS AS WEDDING MONTH

With the end of the month drawing near, the race between June and September for the title of "The Month of Brides" is drawing closer. The score today, as it is kept by the number of marriage licenses issued by the Wayne county clerk is, September to date, 42 licenses; the total for June, 47 licenses.

With the Reel People

Hedda Kuszewski, who saddened the hearts of composers by accepting an offer from the Lubin Company to create one of the principal parts in the feature photoplay production of "The Light at Dusk," in which the evolution of a Russian peasant furnishes the novel theme, is the victim of the loose suspicion of the average American editorial skeptic who believes that nothing can happen to an artist without the connivance of a press agent.

Mr. Kuszewski arrived in New York and reported at once at the Lubin studios in Philadelphia. The following day she made a visit to the shopping section and lost a valuable solitaire diamond ring, a gift from a nephew of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Edgar Lewis, who directed "The Light at Dusk," at the Washington tonight, volunteered to advertise at once for the lost jewel, but, to his surprise, the Russian artist put an emphatic veto on the proposal.

MUSICAL MATINEE COMES TO THEATRE

The Musical Matinee will be prominent on the bill at the Murray starting tonight. Six musicians, five of whom are attractive young women, will be heard in a series of vocal and instrumental numbers.

Other features to be offered the last half of this week are Harris and Florence in their comedy act, the Skunktown trio, singers and banjo players, the Human Seal, and Clayton and Linnie, the vaudeville entertainers. This bill promises to be exceptionally good and deserves capacity houses.

BEREAVED FRIENDS OF MRS. SEDGWICK ATTEND FUNERAL

Reid Memorial church was filled with sorrowing friends and relatives of Marcia Sutton Sedgwick whose funeral services were held yesterday afternoon.

Eliza Hiatt and Naomi Harrison Jay, both very dear friends, and members of the Friends Meeting, joined in the service; Mrs. Hiatt paying a beautiful tribute to the deceased in the recount of her life as it came under her personal knowledge. Mrs. Jay followed with a few well-chosen remarks bringing to a close with a season of silence which was broken by the singing of "Nearer My God to Thee," by Miss Ruth Harris.

The service of music was very effective in the use of the organ by Miss Garmelle Hazeman during the gathering of the friends and in the playing of several familiar psalms and hymns passing them away in the soft and distant strains of the echo organ.

Flowers came from friends in great profusion, completely covering the pulpit.

Rev. J. S. Hill pastor of the Reid Memorial United Presbyterian church brought a helpful and comforting message using a basis of thought, "Previous in the sight of the Lord is the 116 Psalm. The services were concluded at the cemetery.

B. B. Myrick, D. W. Scott, Gurney Hill, Horace Kramer, Frank Sutton and Wm. Furnace, were the pall bearers.

COMMITTEE ASKS CITY TO CONCLUDE CAMPAIGN

The last general appeal of the industrial development campaign committee is appended:

To the Citizens of Richmond—Tomorrow is the final day for the $100,000 campaign. Sixty public-spirited and progressive citizens have put in two weeks of hard work raising this fund for a Greater and Grand Richmond. The fund today stands at approximately $85,000. We believe that everyone in Richmond desires to see the $100,000 fund completed tomorrow, and the news go broadcast that Richmond has succeeded in its great preparatory step for a national campaign for industries.

These loyal men who have given so unselfishly of their time and money to the city cannot be expected to keep up this work indefinitely. It is an imposition upon their generosity. So the campaign committee is going to ask the citizens of Richmond to co-operate with the committees tomorrow, and help them to complete this fund. If a committee calls upon you, subscribe to the best of your ability. If no committee calls by noon, call upon the Commercial club and state that you desire to subscribe, and a blank will be sent by messenger. Subscriptions to any amount of $10 and over will be received.

The completion of this fund means much more than the mere raising of $100,000 and the securing of more factories. It means progress in everything that builds communities; it means a new spirit of progressiveness; it means a bigger, better and busier city.

The committees will make their final report at 6 p. m., tomorrow and

SHOPS NEED LABOR

"Not one able bodied man in Richmond will need to be out of employment this fall," John Melpolder, secretary of the Social Service bureau, said today. Mr. Melpolder has found that most of the large shops in the city will need more men during the winter than they will be able to secure.

all subscriptions should reach the Commercial club before that time.

Yours for the Greater Richmond,
CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.
John M. Lontz, Chairman.
Henry Gennett.
S. E. Swayne.
Adam H. Bartel.
James A. Carr.
Wm. H. Romey.
Edgar F. Hiatt.

WHOLESALE MEET TO EXPAND FIELD

Wholesalers will be called together within two weeks of the completion of the industrial development fund campaign and will organize to protect and develop the city's commercial interests while efforts are being made to expand industrially.

Secretary Haas of the Commercial club said today wholesalers expressed eagerness to follow a trade expansion program outlined at a recent club directors' meeting, but decided to put their interests in the background and co-operate in raising the industrial fund.

DISPENSARY BOARD NAMED BY SOCIETY

E. M. Haas, A. D. Gayle and Mrs. William Dudley Foulke were appointed as a committee to have general charge of the dispensary to be established at the Day Nursery, by the Anti-Tuberculosis society and for which Mrs. William Dudley Foulke recently donated $600.

This committee was appointed at a special meeting of the association yesterday afternoon and upon the recommendations of Doctors Ross, Marvel and Morrow.
