BOSTON, Oct. 7.—With the bases full and no men down, Brooklyn staged a rally in the first half of the ninth which threatened to overcome the five run lead which the Red Sox had accumulated.

The game ended with the score of 6-5, the rally netting Brooklyn four runs.

The play by innings follows:

BROOKLYN—Myers up. Photographers being chased from the field. Myers out on a foul to Cady on the first ball pitched. Daubert fanned on three pitched balls. Stengel out, Janvrin to Hoblitzell.

No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.
Shore's feat on retiring the Dodgers on seven balls in the first inning brought a storm of applause from the crowd.

BOSTON—Hooper fanned. Janvrin fanned. Walker tripled to left center. Walker's hit was a terrific drive that went to the fence. Hoblitzell out, Cutshaw to Daubert.

No Hits, One Run, One Left on Base, One Error.
Second Inning.
Brooklyn—Wheat singled. It was an infield hit which Hobby could not handle in time. Cutshaw hit into a double play, Janvrin to Scott to Hobby. Mowrey walked. Olson fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors. One left on base.

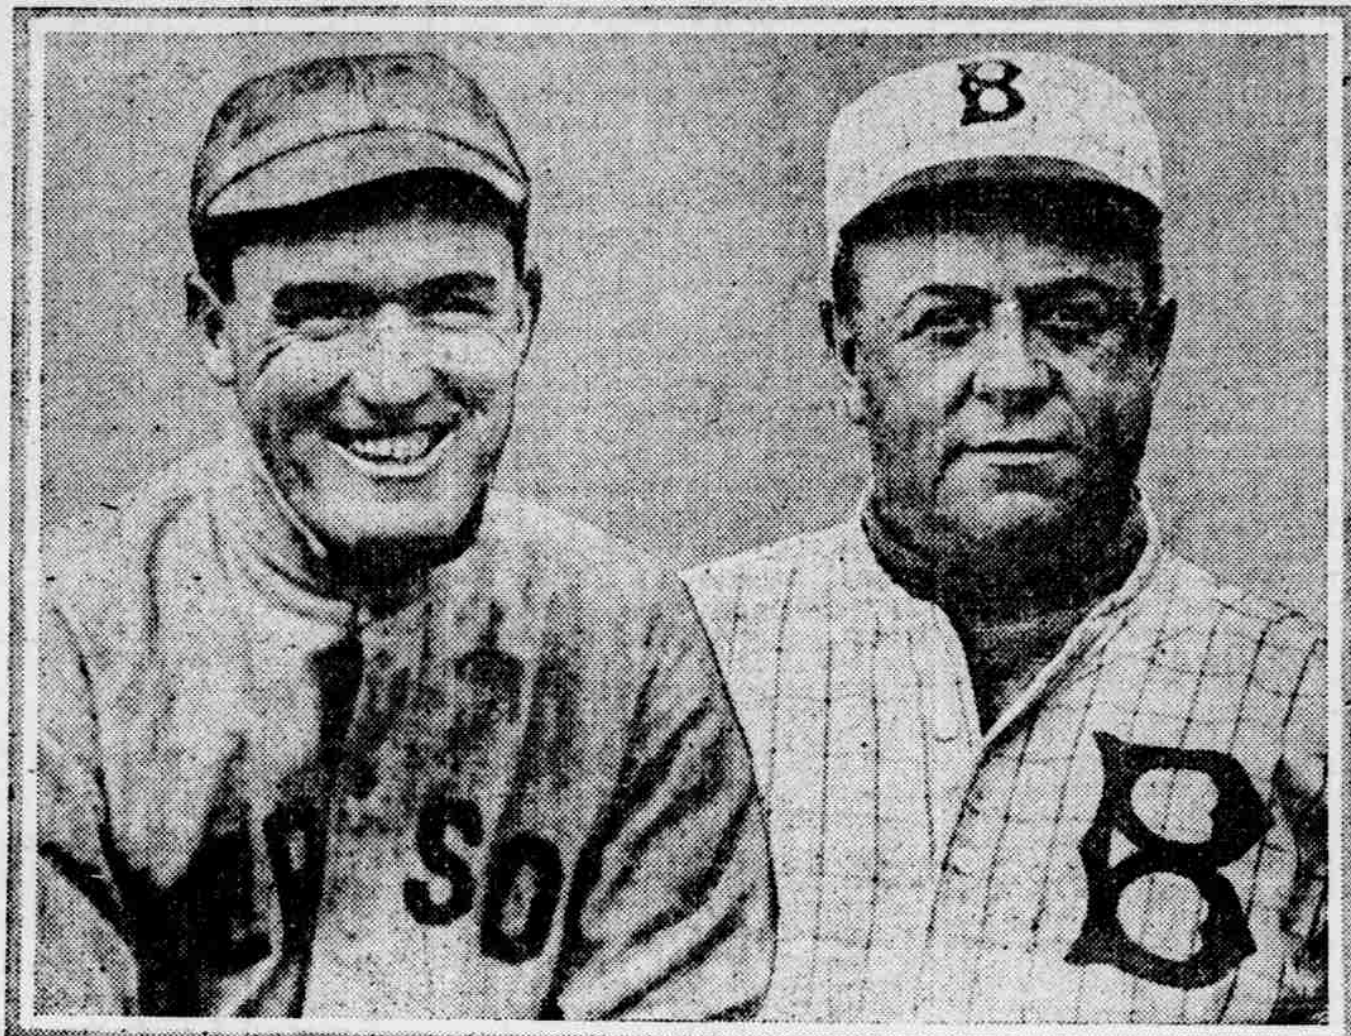

Boston: Lewis walked. Marquard seemed to be afraid to let Lewis get to it. Gardner bunted a single, attempting to sacrifice. Lewis going to second. Meyers made a miserable attempt to get Gardner's tap. Scott out

PARIS, Oct. 7.—Progress for the French, British, Servians and Italians on the Macedonian front was reported by the war office today. The French also reported the driving out of the Bulgarians from Nevoiten by the British. This was reported yesterday by the British. The Italians delivered successful attacks near Lake Bukowo. The Servians moved forward on the western end of the line, while the French, who are operating near the Vardar river, also pressed the Bulgarians back.

GREAT CROWD CHEERS
AS PLAYS OF BATTLE
FLASH ON PAL BOARD

It was the old-time crowd of fans that kept Patrolman Westenberg busy Saturday afternoon keeping the tremendous crowd from blocking traffic in front of the Palladium building. The score board was working in fine trim and play after play was flashed for the edification of the fans who watched the lights and cheered as if they were on the actual war front where Brooklyn and Boston were battling for the mastery.

The crowd was keyed to a high pitch and the struggle of the teams aroused the fans to extreme enthusiasm. Never since the Palladium began receiving returns from the world series and giving the fans up-to-the-minute service was so large a crowd seen in front of the building.

Monday the board will be at the old place, doing the same old service for the same old fans who have come to look upon the service as a substitute for seeing the game in the city where it is played. The board is ideally placed and the sun does not bother the fans, who are on the shady side of the street.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.

Walter Viokey, Cambridge City, who has been in the county jail 21 days awaiting trial on a charge of stealing a horse blanket and several other minor articles will be brought before Judge Fox in the circuit court next week. There is much talk of dismissing the case, it was learned today.

50,000 PERSONS WATCH
RED SOX AND BROOKLYN
BATTLE FOR WORLD FLAG

BRVES FIELD, Boston, Oct. 7.—Under balmy summer skies and before a crowd estimated to be about 50,000 the Red Sox and Dodgers met here this afternoon in the inaugural battle for the baseball championship of the world.

With bands playing, pennants waving gaily and the multitude shrieking its encouragement, the call "Play ball" sounded at 2 p. m. and the struggle was on.

The day was ideal for both spectators and players—warm, sunny and almost breezeless and the throng record breaking in its proportions, jammed every inch of space in the immense stand.

Lineups are as follows:
Boston—Hooper, right field; Janvrin, second base; Walker, center field; Hoblitzell, first base; Lewis, left field; Gardner, third base; Scott, short stop; Cady, catcher; Shore, pitcher.

URGE CITIZENS TO REGISTER

Unless politicians and authorities get together on the registration of voters and work untiringly all day Monday, there are strong indications that a big jumble and mixup will result.

This opinion was expressed by party leaders today. All parties with tickets in the field are planning to cooperate in every way possible to get all voters who must register to the polls.

Those who are uncertain about whether they must register or not Monday are advised to call their party headquarters and find out or go to the registration places Monday.

C. & O. STANDS
FIRM ON LINE
THROUGH CITY

Representing the C. & O. railroad, Harry Starr, Indianapolis, appeared before the county commissioners today and informed them that Mr. Stevens, president of the company, has instructed him to say that the railroad will neither move its right-of-way out of Richmond nor change its tracks to accommodate a level Main street bridge. The protest came as a result of the investigations which have been made by J. L. Harrington, Kansas City bridge expert who will advise the best type of bridge.

"We want to be left alone," said Mr. Starr. "We will not consider making a move which will cost us $250,000 unless the city or county will stand the cost of the change."

Two boys caught in Kincaid home

Making money to finance a bicycle tour of the country by breaking houses along the way was one of the latest systems of thievery unearthed yesterday when Jonathan A. Kincaid upon the return to his home near Jackson park caught two young men in his house, one of whom escaped. They gave their names as Richard E. Young and Harold Wright, St. Louis.

As he approached his home after a visit at Centerville, Mr. Kincaid saw two bicycles standing in front.

He entered the house quietly and caught both boys by the coat collar when they had their backs turned.

While waiting for the arrival of the sheriff, Wright broke and ran. Because Kincaid had to guard his own prisoner he could not follow.

Young drew a gun on Mr. Kincaid, but the bluff did not work. Kincaid took the revolver away from him.

Young is today a prisoner at the county jail.

REPRESENTS WAYNE COUNTY IN PAGEANT AT STATE CAPITAL

One of the features of the "Pageant of the Counties" at the state centennial celebration at Indianapolis yesterday was Wayne county's representative, Paul Hawkins Underhill, 20, a resident of this city and a student at Earlham college.

Underhill was attired in the costume worn by his great-great-grandfather, John Hawkins, on the day he was married in Richmond, in 1817. This costume consisted of satin breeches, blue velvet waistcoat and a coat of finely-woven homespun, ornamented with brass buttons. There were large brass buckles upon the low cut shoes and the hat was tri-cornered and of black felt.

The counties passed before the reviewing stand in alphabetical order. Wayne county's representative ebing near the end of the parade and he attracted much attention and general applause from the thousands of spectators.

Several hundred people from Wayne and neighboring counties attended the state pageant at Indianapolis yesterday.

WAR REVIEW FOR THE DAY

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The first concerted offensive by all allied armies in Macedonia is under way in what may be regarded as a great attempt to drive the Bulgarians out of Greece. Gains have been scored by the British, French, Italian and Servian forces in the latest series of attacks against the German allies.

Efforts are being directed against the Balkans, especially because of the lull which has settled down over the western front. Fighting of minor importance has taken place in France during the past 24 hours, but there has been much aerial activity.

German planes threw 25 bombs on the French fortress of Belfort, but did no damage. The French attacked the new railway station of the Germans' at Vignelles, dropping 35 projectiles.

Two German machines, one an albatros, were shot down by the allied high-angle guns.

On the eastern front where the Teutons are hard pressed counter attacks have been delivered in an effort to check the renewal of the Russian advance toward Lember.

Bucharest officially admits a retirement in Transylvania.

TRACTION FIRM

TO RAISE TRACK

"T. H. I. & E. Traction company is considering raising its track seven inches most of the way from Indianapolis an official of the company informed Surveyor Peacock this week." Deputy Surveyor Horton said while addressing the county commissioners today. The reason for the change has not been explained.

Mr. Horton informed the commissioners that the franchise which was granted the interurban company by Wayne county provides that the company tracks shall be of the same height as the roads. He advised the commissioners to have the county attorney notify the officials that any such change will be fought.

TWO BOYS CAUGHT

IN KINCAID HOME

Because she received a clear deed for the property, Emma F. Mason, Cambridge City, dismissed her partition suit against Bert Allen from the circuit court.

The parties in the suit were formerly man and wife. They held a piece of property valued at $3,000 on a joint deed. The complaint for the partition suit claims that the property was purchased with the wife's money and that Mr. Allen had no legal right to it.

Chalkey Baldwin, of Farmland, who first settled in Richmond about eighty-five years ago, celebrated his hundredth anniversary at the home of L. O. Thornburg, at Farmland yesterday. The aged man was born in North Carolina and came to this part of the country when he was only fifteen years old. Baldwin is proud of the fact that he has never tasted tobacco or whiskey and that he is going to vote for Hughes on Nov. 7.

GOODRICH
FAVORS BUDGET

GREENSFORK, Ind., Oct. 7.—James P. Goodrich, Republican candidate for governor, in his address here this afternoon emphasized his advocacy of the adoption of the budget system by both the national and state governments.

Mr. Goodrich spoke here to a large and interested crowd, mostly farmers, and his demands for the introduction of economic measures in the expenditure of public funds were cordially received.

Favors Budget System.

Mr. Goodrich declared the Democratic party was opposed to the budget system, then related how the appropriation ordinance passed by the last legislature had been drafted by a stenographer and put through the lower house after a consideration by the ways and means committee of only a few hours. In part Mr. Goodrich said: "The budget system has been termed 'the measuring stick of democracy.' When our constitution was adopted, primitive conditions obtained in the state and the cost of state government was but a trifle compared with the [Continued On Page Five.]

FALL FESTIVAL
STAGE ALL SET FOR FIRST DAY

Indications that Richmond's exposition and centennial pageant the week of October 16 will be the greatest event of the kind ever undertaken in the city's history were seen today in the progress of arrangements. The stage is practically set and only such change will be fought.
