

HENRY COUNTY CROWDS CHEER JUDGE COMSTOCK

WILLIAMSBURG, Ind., Oct. 7.—Returning from a very satisfactory tour of Henry county, where he spoke to large crowds in several towns, Judge D. W. Comstock, Republican candidate for congressman, spoke to another large audience here last night, confounding his audience principally to a discussion of the tariff question.

Frank T. Strayer, candidate for prosecuting attorney, also spoke, and made a most favorable impression upon his audience. Judge Comstock's address was repeatedly interrupted with applause.

Judge Comstock stated that the tariff question is one of the major issues of the campaign despite the frantic efforts of the Democrats to turn the campaign upon less important issues.

Judge Comstock stated that even if the Democrats did provide a tariff commission it would be a commission wholly subservient to congress and with little or no authority, such restrictions being required to maintain the Democratic policy of free trade. He said that if the present tariff law was operative at the close of the European war, when our present war-made prosperity ceases, the United States would be face to face with industrial ruin.

HASTINGS TO DO PITTS PUNTING

ANDY HASTINGS.

Most of the punting for this year's University of Pittsburg eleven will fall to Andy Hastings, crack half-back, considered by many critics the most valuable all-around player ever developed in western Pennsylvania; since Ted Fry, full back on the 1914 and 1915 teams, has decided to enter Harvard this year.

Hastings is the best ground gainer on the Pitt squad and is also a star drop kicker and forward passer. From all indications Hastings will be the busiest man on the eleven this year.

DOCTOR ACCUSES GIRL OF BLACKMAIL

DR. C. A. L. REED.

The arrest of Miss Margaret Gorey, a trained nurse, charged with blackmail, in the office of Dr. C. A. L. Reed, a prominent physician here, has revealed a series of attempts to obtain a confession from Miss Gorey by means of the dictaphone. One of these attempts was successful, according to the police.

In a statement, directly following the arrest, Dr. Reed said Miss Gorey had sought employment from him. She had been refused, and following repeated attempts to induce him to employ her, he said, she had threatened to begin a suit against him on a charge of immoral conduct.
