

HOMER HAMMOND HEARING GOES TO JURY LATE IN DAY

Motion to dismiss the case of the State of Indiana against Homer Hammond, former president of the board of works, who is being tried in the circuit court for failure to support his wife, was made by the attorneys for the defendant this morning.

The motion was made on the grounds that since Mr. Hammond has been a citizen of Ripley county since May 19, 1915, the Wayne circuit court has no jurisdiction over him.

Judge Considers Motion
The motion will be considered by Judge Fox after the jury has returned its verdict. In case the motion is sustained by the judge, the findings of the jury will come to naught.

The case went to the jury late this afternoon after a three days' trial.

Relief Makes Charge
In arguing for the dismissal this morning, Prosecuting Attorney Reller accused Mr. Hammond of paying more attention to other men's wives than his own.

"At one time Mrs. Hammond, crippled as she is for life, begged her husband to give her fifty cents so that she might pay the installment on her life insurance which will go to pay her burial expenses when she dies, and he refused her plea," said the prosecutor.

"Another time, Mrs. Hammond because of a sprained ankle could not move, yet of nights Mr. Hammond would leave her alone and dependent upon assistance from the neighbors. There may have been an excuse for him staying away through the day while working but there was no reason for his staying away after night.

Begs for His Return
"Mrs. Hammond loved her husband. After she left him in Ripley county because she could not stand the way in which he slighted her, Mrs. Hammond begged her husband by many letters to return to Richmond and to leave the other woman who was living under the same roof with him. No response ever came to these letters."

Dozens of people gathered in the circuit room today to hear the trial. It is considered as one of the most pathetic that has been tried in Wayne county this year. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hammond are practically invalids.

Mr. Hammond is fighting the case on the grounds that he is troubled with heart disease and is physically unfit to earn enough to support his wife.

INDIANA FLORISTS CLOSE SUCCESSFUL SESSIONS IN CITY

One of the most successful recent monthly meetings of Indiana florists was held here today by about 90 members of the Indiana association and visitors. Every greenhouse in Richmond was visited today.

Arrangements were gone into detail for the annual show of the American Carnation society at Indianapolis in January. It will be one of the biggest events in the state for the first month of the new year.

Elmer Smith of Adrian, Mich., one of the leading chrysanthemum growers of the country, was one of the guests. Another was the owner of the Davis Vegetable Farms near Terre Haute. There were about 25 visiting florists from Cincinnati and suburbs, prominent among them J. A. Peterson, a well known plantsman.

Will J. Vesey of Fort Wayne is president and O. E. Steinkamp of Indianapolis, secretary of the association. No election was held here.

All the florists arrived before noon, some reaching here early this morning. An inspection was made of the greenhouses of the E. G. Hill and company on Eastaven avenue and those of Joseph Hill, across the street.

At noon today a chicken dinner was served in the Pythian Temple. Tables were decorated with a profusion of Pom Pom chrysanthemums and roses.

"DOC" ZIMMERMAN'S SON ENTERS RACE FOR BOY MAYOR

Candidates for Mayor of Boytown have steered clear of the suffrage questions. Not one announced his stand on this vital issue in the platforms which were announced today.

Owing to other duties, Paul Allen has withdrawn his nomination.

Other candidates for the race have announced the platforms as follows:

"I think there should be cleaner alleys, better streets and better lawns. Every boy should try to make Richmond a better city and help to get more animals for Glen Miller park."

PAUL BENHAM.

"The Junior Government is a thing that every boy in Richmond should be interested in. It not only gives training for the boys in Richmond a practical understanding of the Senior government. I as one of the many boys who are running for mayor, would like to have the hearty co-operation of every boy in Richmond. I will do everything in my power to make the Junior municipality a great success."

JOSEPH SWEARINGER.

"If I am elected mayor I will enforce the laws that Boytown has adopted."

"I will see that the health officer keeps the town clean and healthy. I will work for larger playgrounds, so that boys and girls might grow morally and physically."

MAHLON WINDSOR WALLS.

"As I have been nominated for the Mayor of Boytown by the choice of Warner school, I wish to state that:

INSPECTOR WARNS DEALERS OF THEIR VIOLATIONS OF LAW

"That section of the weights and measures law which requires that all commodities not sold by standard weight or measure shall be marked with the net weight or volume of contents on the package, is being persistently violated," reads a warning to commission merchants made public today by City Inspector of Weights and Measures McKinley.

"This is to advise you that all packages, such as baskets of grapes, bags of potatoes, onions, turnips etc., hampers of beans, baskets of peaches and all other commodities except those shipped in the standard barrel or standard bushel measure, shall be marked with the net weight or volume of the contents. In the case of potatoes, onions, turnips, parsnips and sweet potatoes the bushel shall contain the number of pounds fixed by law."

In a warning to retail grocers, issued by Inspector McKinley, he calls attention to the fact that all Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, onions, turnips and parsnips sold by the measure must be labeled the actual weight. He points out that a peck of Irish potatoes weighs 15 pounds; that a peck of onions weighs 12 pounds and that 13 3/4 pounds is the weight of a peck of parsnips, turnips or sweet potatoes.

PROBING ALLEGED GROCERY COMBINE

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Investigation of an alleged combine of grocers and jobbers was started today by H. G. Claybaugh, head of the local bureau of the Federal department of justice following the revolutions which he said indicated an attempt to control prices in at least four states in the Middle West.

In a warning to retail grocers, issued by Inspector McKinley, he calls attention to the fact that all Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, onions, turnips and parsnips sold by the measure must be labeled the actual weight. He points out that a peck of Irish potatoes weighs 15 pounds; that a peck of onions weighs 12 pounds and that 13 3/4 pounds is the weight of a peck of parsnips, turnips or sweet potatoes.

RECEIVES PARDON BUT MUST SERVE SENTENCE IN JAIL

Because of the insistent appeals of his aged mother who lives on Fort Wayne avenue, Herbert Eschenfelder, now in the State Prison, Michigan City, serving a sentence of one to eight years imposed upon him by the Wayne circuit court, June 12, 1912, for petit larceny, was paroled by Governor Ralston yesterday.

But Eschenfelder does not go free, the parole was made on the condition that he begin serving a sentence for having escaped from the Clark county jail two years ago while he was serving as a trustee at the State Reformatory at Jeffersonville.

Union to Obtain MORE CARPENTERS FOR LOCAL JOBS

A campaign to bring carpenters to Richmond to reciprocate for the action of the contractors' association for voting union recognition in August, was inaugurated last night by the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local No. 912.

C. A. Gruffy, recording secretary of the local, declared there is more work in Richmond than there ever has been and despite the fact that there are more carpenters here, there is danger that work will be held up for lack of skilled men to do it.
