

MENTION OVERMAN FOR APPOINTMENT AS CITY DEPUTY

Bert Overman, formerly the cashier of the Richmond Municipal Electric plant and, at the present time, deputy county treasurer, is being considered, it is stated, for appointment as deputy city treasurer in the event that council creates that office so that the county treasurer will practically be relieved of all his duties in connection with handling the city's financial affairs. Ed. J. Weldner, county treasurer-elect, in the capacity of city treasurer, would have the authority to appoint the deputy city treasurer although the deputy would receive his salary from the city. Thomas Ahl has been appointed deputy county treasurer by Mr. Weldner.

RED CROSS SEAL STAMPS PLACED ON SALE TODAY IN CITY AND COUNTY

With the opening of the Red Cross Seal selling campaign here today, an agitation was started for an open air school which will take concrete form soon. Red Cross Seal stamps were placed on sale today, Richmond entering into competition with Fort Wayne for state and national medals by adopting the campaign slogan, "Seven Seals Per Capita."

Within a few days a meeting will be held with Superintendent Giles and others to learn what steps the school board is willing to take toward the establishment of a fresh air school. Some children are reported out of the schools as the result of a tubercular trend which has kept them from associating in closed school rooms with other children.

Data is Collected
The suggestion was made more than six months ago and has been discussed in the Wayne County Anti-Tuberculosis society several times since. The association visiting nurse, Miss Mary Kennedy, chairman of the Red Cross seal committee, has collected data which will be presented to the school superintendent, showing the success of outdoor schools in other places.

The campaign will be more aggressive this year than ever before since the association, with Wayne county well organized by the visiting nurse, has many more things to work for. The first will be the extension of visiting nurse work which proved to be

LEANDER BUNKER FUNERAL AT CHESTER

CHESTER, Ind., Nov. 22.—The funeral of Leander Bunker was held at the Friends church here Thursday afternoon at 1:30. The deceased lived about one and one-half miles north-east of this place and spent his entire life in that vicinity. He was born February 13, 1854 and departed this life November 14, 1916. The widow, Mrs. Mary Bunker, and one son, Albert, two grandchildren, Mrs. Blanche White and Mr. Earl Bunker, and one great grandchild, all of this vicinity, survive. The funeral sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Woodman of Richmond. The pall bearers were William Morrow, James Webster, Oliver Boerner, Rufus Newman, Michael Kendall and Jack Knollenberg. The burial was at Earlham cemetery. Mr. Bunker's death, which was very sudden, was caused by heart trouble. Mr. Ed Morrow and Mr. George Joy of Packer City motored to this place Thursday and attended the funeral of Leander Bunker. Mrs. Will Clements of Fountain City spent Thursday with William Morrow and family.

successful beyond expectations this year, the establishment of a county tuberculosis hospital, and the fresh air school.

Send Out 1,000 Letters
Before the end of the week, 1,000 persons will have received letters containing Red Cross seals in 100, 200 and 500 lots for their convenience in purchasing. The letter sales method of selling will be tried for the first time and is expected to be the most successful sales method which could be used here. Other forms of campaign will be used incidentally, including a campaign through the schools, seal stations in stores and later in the post office lobby, and sales to wholesale firms and manufacturers.

THANKSGIVING EDITOR WILL GIVE RECIPES

A Thanksgiving meal for $4 in attractive menus suggested in Tuesday's Palladium by L. E. Rauchman, steward of the Westcott hotel, caused great comment among women last night and today, food prices being the mooted question in most households. At least two women clipped the menus and the price list and sent them to their grocer to be filled. Many others called grocers and asked if the dinner could be supplied at those prices. They were told the orders could be filled at the published price list.

Mr. Rauchman has other suggestions for Thanksgiving dinners and has recipes for side dishes and desserts. Any questions addressed to the Thanksgiving editor of the Palladium will be answered in the columns of the Palladium. Recipes will be furnished in the same way.

FAVORS BOTH BRIDGES

"There is little doubt that appropriations for the South G and Main street bridges will be passed by the county council next Wednesday," Jesse Druley, county councilman, said today. Mr. Druley voted against the appropriations in September.

Mr. Druley explained that he believed the council will favor having construction work begun on both bridges at the same time. If it is possible to build both bridges at the same time, then the Main street bridge should be erected first, Mr. Druley believes.

VISIT GREENSFORK SCHOOLS
County Superintendent Williams, Wayne township Trustee Edgerton and New Garden township Trustee Reynolds, were visitors at the Greensfork schools today.

MIGHTY NIMRODS SUFFER

Walter Evans, center for the Richmond polo team last year, and Harry Winters and Ralph Landwehr, his hunting companions, have drawn a laugh from their friends here by a recitation of their difficulties this week when hunting north of Greensfork, caused chiefly by a farmer's mistaken impression that they were stealing chickens. He shot at them from the rear and none of the trio missed the stinging sensation, they said. Evans will wear three pairs of trousers next time he walks along a lane in the dusk, he said.

TRACTION MEN MEET

Alexander Gordon, superintendent of city lines of the T. H. I. and E. Traction company, left here on a special car at 11:30 o'clock today to attend the annual convention of the Central Electric Railway association at Toledo. He will return Monday. The special started at Indianapolis, loaded with traction company officials. It will pick up a trailer at Dayton.

MANY ATTEND SOCIAL GIVEN AT ST. ANDREW'S HALL

Attendance at a benefit social held in the basement of St. Andrew's Catholic school building on South Fifth street last night was so great that plans for the entertainment were called off. More than 250 persons were crowded into the room. The social was given by the ladies' auxiliary of the Knights of St. John. Favors were given to Mrs. Henry Korves, Constance Pardeck, Annie Meyer and others.

HIGH SCHOOL PAPER BOOSTS PRICE 1 CENT

The war, paper shortage and the high cost of living are mentioned by the managers of "The Register," the Richmond high school newspaper, when asked about the one-to-two cent change which went into effect when the issue came off the press today. The students took the boost stoically—they like their parents, are familiar with price aviation tendencies of the present day.

"At one cent per copy we were losing money," explains Benjamin Null, faculty director of the "Register." We are paying exorbitant prices for print paper and can't make ends meet. It's a case of raising the price or filling an involuntary petition for bankruptcy.

SOCIAL BUREAU TO GET AMOUNT ASKED

From a canvass of committees late this afternoon, it was found that the amount subscribed to operate the Social Service bureau next year probably will exceed the required $4,000. Before the campaign started yesterday noon to raise $2,500, there had been subscribed through the mails, $1,400. Solicitors are encountering no difficulty in getting subscriptions. No effort is being made to get more than the required amount but it is impossible to tell when the $2,600 has been raised since there are several committees at work. The extra money will be placed in a sinking fund.

Tomorrow noon the sixty business and professional men who are assisting in the campaign will meet at the Y. M. C. A. for a luncheon and they will turn in the subscriptions secured.

GRAHAM OPPOSES MILITARY TRAINING

"They must have been out of their heads," said Robert Graham, president of the Richmond Trades Council, today when informed that the convention of the American Federation of Labor at Baltimore had, this forenoon, passed a resolution favoring the military training of all public school children.

"I was not able to attend the convention but if I had been there I most certainly would have voted against
