

CHURCHES CONTINUE DRIVE UPON SATAN IN VIGOROUS STYLE

Some pastors of church, federating in the simultaneous evangelistic campaign, plan to bring their drives to a close Sunday.

Other churches will then take up the series.

Attendance and interest last night was well up to the standard in former services.

Special musical features will have a place on the program at South Eighth Street Friends church tonight.

Miss Jeanette Ballard will sing and the Sunday school orchestra will play. Rev. Alexander Purdy will preach and Rev. Charles Woodman of West Richmond Friends church also will speak.

Children's services will be held in this church Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 2:30. Dr. Purdy will preach in the services Sunday.

Brings Social Application.
"The most significant feature of the development of Christian thought in the last quarter of a century has been the social application of Christianity. It is the business of the church to interest itself in labor affairs and social conditions," Dr. Purdy said last night in a sermon on the social program of the church. Mrs. Harry Doan sang.

Two little girls sang a duet at Central Christian church last night. They were Harriet Richardson and Helen Roland. Rev. Thomas H. Adams, the pastor, answered the question, "Is Baptism Essential to Salvation?" He took as his text, "For as many as you have been baptized into Christ have been put on Christ." He will preach tonight on "Indecision."

Must Serve All the Time.
"A Christian must be a continual servant of the Master, during popular and unpopular times, to reap the benefit of his pledges of unflinching delivery," said Rev. U. S. A. Bridge at Grace church last night. Dr. Bridge will preach again tonight in what likely will be the closing service of the series.

A children's service was held this afternoon at Second Presbyterian church and plans for a communicants' class were outlined by the pastor.

Rev. Charles Laing Herald will preach tonight and Sunday. Dr. Herald preached last night. Mrs. Homer Jones and Miss Edith Hilbert sang solos.

WAYNE SURRENDERS LAUREL TO NEIGHBOR

"Wayne county has been forced to turn over its record for having more commissioned high schools than any other county in Indiana to its neighbor, Randolph county," County Superintendent Williams reported today.

This county has twelve commissioned high schools. Up until this year, this was the largest number in any one county in the state. But Randolph consolidated several rural schools recently and established commissioned high schools in connection with them. The neighboring county has fifteen commissioned high schools.

C. D. Jarvis has written a bulletin on school gardening for Uncle Sam's bureau of education. He touches on vacant lot gardening. He writes: "In or about most any city there may be found an abundance of land that may be used for productive gardening. There is sufficient land, if intensively cultivated, to supply the people with all the vegetables and a large proportion of the fruits and flowers needed."

Trained and experienced teachers of gardening should be employed in every city. Such teachers would instruct the children directly and the parents indirectly, with the result that in a few years a generation of capable gardeners would be developed. But the development of strong-bodied, efficient and contented citizens is the real purpose of this work."

The plan of operation adopted in most cities is a combination of the social service and school forces.

HELMS HELPS PURDUE IMPROVE SEED CORN

WHITEWATER, Ind., Feb. 8.—"Corn can be improved through proper breeding," declared J. D. Harper, Purdue university, at the Patrons' day celebration here Thursday.

"Joe Helms, a progressive Wayne county farmer and one of the best known corn authorities, is assisting Purdue university in proving this statement. He is one of the six men in the state who is co-operating with the state university in the experiment. It takes at least three years for a farmer to develop a good seed corn."

MRS. CORA WILSON CALLED TO BEDSIDE OF SICK MOTHER

Mrs. Dr. Moore spent a part of last week visiting at Greenfield and Indianapolis. Howard Mathews and wife spent Saturday in Richmond. Mrs. John L. King was called to Williamsburg on account of the sickness of her parents at that place. Miss Mary Gettingher of Union City who is attending Earlham was the guest of Miss Gladys Fouts over Sunday. Mrs. Linley Morgan is a victim of the mumps. Revival services at the Friends' church are to be continued this week. Mrs. Anna Russell of New Madison, Ohio, is here for several days' visit with friends and relatives. Franklins have moved into the Bowen property, and the Culbertson property is now occupied by a family named Penny. A pleasant surprise awaited those scholars of the M. E. Sunday school, who were brave enough to weather the storm Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Dunbar who spend their winters at Orlando, Fla., sent a large box of the very finest oranges, to be distributed at the Sunday school.

FRANCE REDUCES FLOUR IN BREAD

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Feb. 9.—The government continues energetically to seek fresh ways of economizing the resources of the country. A bill will be introduced in parliament shortly providing for the addition of 15 per cent. of maize, rye or barley flour to wheat used for bread-making. Suppression of night work in bakeries is also proposed or at least the stopping of the sale of fresh bread.

The plan of operation adopted in most cities is a combination of the social service and school forces.

Trained gardeners are provided to direct work of children in model gardens, attached to the schools. Children are helped to establish and conduct back yard gardens and encouraged to assist their parents in vacant lot gardens.

Prizes are given, usually having been donated by interested citizens, and the work of the children is graded carefully.

Richmond takes justifiable pride in her school system. It is understood to be organized for highest service. Its superintendent, J. T. Giles, is a social worker, is president of the Social Service Bureau, and described as a man with a "social vision."

Richmond has a Social Service Bureau, which its citizens have hired to neighbor with its poor neighbors. It is organized to do constructive social work.

Can there be any more constructive work than school and lot gardening? Let us see that these institutions co-operate for the public good and thus live up to their highest opportunities.

A ready response met my article yesterday on vacant lot gardening as a means to eliminate the social waste of poverty. Among those persons who expressed their approval of the plan was Mrs. Henry Goldfinger.

Mrs. Goldfinger translated her interest into action. She offered a one-quarter of an acre tract in Reestown for use of worthy persons under the direction of any organization which will take over vacant lot gardening in Richmond.

A sore throat is a good breeding place for Diphtheria germs. Protect your children by never neglecting a Sore Throat. You can wisely depend upon TONSILINE. Give Tonsiline upon the first appearance of Sore Throat—don't give Diphtheria a chance in that throat in its weakened condition. When TONSILINE is swallowed it comes directly in contact with the diseased surface and induces a healthy condition of the membranes—then the system can better defend the throat if attacked by Diphtheria germs.
