

WASHINGTON SHOWS COLORS; PATRIOTISM RUNS RAMPANT

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 2.—President Wilson's address was sent to the public printer early this morning and he held himself ready to deliver it as soon as the house had been organized. Meanwhile the president went golfing, but arranged to return to the White House before noon, the hour set for the convening of congress. He made no engagements for the day.

Having already recited to congress in previous addresses most of the incidents leading up to the present situation, it is understood that the president now will deal with Germany's acts broadly, refer particularly to the present situation in the world and deal with recommendations to place the United States on a war footing.

Favor Open Declaration.
Congress assembled with a majority openly in favor of a declaration of a state of war, if not actually a declaration of war.

Beset on one side with large delegations of pacifists praying for peace and besieged on the other by large numbers of "patriotic pilgrims" who demand the country's entrance into the war, congress waited to hear the president outline the long history of German aggressions against American lives and rights and the predatory violence of her submarines.

Administration officials consider Germany has been making war on the United States for some time. A large majority in congress takes the same view. The minority is divided between those who think a state of armed neutrality is sufficient for the present and the very few who openly favor peace at any price.

The capitol was arrayed in a war spirit as congress assembled. The pacifist delegations wearing white bands on their sleeves or white streamers across their breasts, paraded the sidewalks in numbers, filled the house and senate galleries and made calls on their congressmen. They moved about without demonstration and there were few evidences of hostility against them.

Patriotic Pilgrims Wear Flags.
The patriotic pilgrims were hard to distinguish among thousands of citizens who went about the day's work wearing American flags. The national colors fluttered and rippled from buildings, automobiles and almost every point of vantage. The street car companies placed them on their cars. Every traffic policeman's "go, go" sign had a flag fluttering from its peak. The capitol was a wave of color.

Chairman Simmons, of the senate finance committee, conferred with Secretary McAdoo on the amount of money needed immediately by the government. It was agreed not to go into details until after congress takes action defining the attitude of the United States and then Secretary McAdoo and Baker and Daniels will again discuss the question with Senator Simmons and also with house leaders.

Senator Simmons said he thought the credit to be granted to the president by congress should be a large one. The amount, fixed, he added, would not mean that all of it was to be used or that much more might not be asked for later.

Senator Simmons said there was no longer any doubt that war with Germany would be declared to exist, although the form of the resolution had not been determined upon.

BREAD AND WATER DIET FOR WOMEN WHO MADE ESCAPE

Olive Gates, who played a prominent role in the grand jury's recent investigation of vice conditions in Richmond, and Elizabeth Culbertson, who has also figured prominently in police affairs in recent months, perpetrated an April fool joke at the Home for the Friendless, Sunday.

After being released from their cells as "trusties" and assigned to some household duties, both girls escaped, walking out of a rear door.

Today the joke was on Olive and Elizabeth. While they were walking on South Eleventh street, near South D street, presumably enroute to the south end C. & O. station, the police machine drove alongside them and they were inside of it before they had time to recover from their astonishment.

Both girls have been returned to their cells and have been placed on a bread and water diet. They were sentenced in city court, March 19, each being fined $50 and costs and given a fifty days' jail sentence.

Foulke Analyzed City Government

William Dudley Foulke analyzed the city manager and commission forms of city government for the benefit of the Constitutional Forum in the high school auditorium Sunday afternoon.

He suggested the constitutional convention the form of government optional with each city in the state.

L. S. Bowman presided yesterday and music was furnished by the Garfield school orchestra. About 200 persons attended the meeting.

Another meeting will be held two weeks from yesterday and will be addressed by John Lapp, of Indianapolis, who is state house librarian. Lapp also is head of the legislative bureau. He will speak on "Tax Reforms."

RUSSIANS DEMAND KAISER'S OVERTHROW

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, April 2.—The German Emperor and Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg were bitterly denounced by Deputy Skabelloff, vice president of the council of workmen, soldiers and delegates, during a demonstration in front of the Damm building, according to a Petrograd dispatch to Reuters.

Deputy Skabelloff, addressing the thousands of soldiers and civilians who took part in the demonstration said: "To the hypocritical greeting sent the Russians revolutionists by Wilhelm and Bethmann we can only reply with the bayonet. We cannot shake hands with the German people until they have rid themselves of the cursed Hohenzollern and Bethmann-Hollweg."

SALOON OPERATORS GET LICENSES FOR REMAINDER OF YEAR

Wayne county saloonkeepers, whose licenses expire in April and May, technically were licensed today to conduct their businesses on Sundays, holidays and election days.

It came about in this manner. Liquor licenses can be issued only to the time in which they are effective. The county tax is $200 a year.

Costs Are All Pro-rated.
Instead of subtracting all Sundays, holidays and election days from the yearly total together with the days after April 2, 1918, Auditor Bowman pro-rated the fee on the basis of 365 days a year.

Thus, if a license can run four days less than one year he subtracted the fee for four days from the total yearly fee. The daily fee is 54 cents and eight mills.

Severe retail and two wholesale licenses were renewed this morning. The retail licenses were those of Luke H. Bowing, 405 Main street; William Patterson, 14 South Ninth street; J. H. Schell, Twelfth and North F streets; C. W. Jessup, Ninth and Saylor streets; Martin E. Brokamp, 312 Main street; W. H. Thomas, 501 North Eighth street; Klein and Klein, 618 Main street. The Minck and Jung Brewing companies received renewals.

Capitol Decked in Old Glory; Flags Are Worn

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Pacifist and anti-pacifist pilgrims besieged official Washington today in an eleven-hour effort to influence congress toward their respective views of impending war with Germany. Street parading was denied by both police forces, but the program of each called for unorganized sidewalk processions to the capitol, where senators and representatives might be canvassed for their peace or war ideas.

Simultaneously thousands of telegrams from all parts of the country poured in upon the capitol and white house, either praying for peace or urging drastic action to uphold American rights and honor.

Flags floated from nearly every window in downtown Washington, from houses in the residential sections, and all automobiles carried red, white and blue banners. Men and women wore flogs on their coats and children carried them to school. The day was marked by a show of patriotism seldom equalled in Washington, even on independence day.

It is charged that Holland forced the child to the rear of the North End Mission and then attacked her. Holland has been bound over to circuit court.

MUELLER'S ABSENCE NECESSITATES DELAY IN BRIDGE CONTRACT

[BULLETIN]
Engineer John Mueller arrived late this afternoon. The Commissioners indicated that they would approve his bridge plans and would advertise for bids at once.

Failure of John Mueller of Newcastle, county bridge engineer, to appear before the board of county commissioners, at the session of that body this afternoon, with plans and specifications for Richmond's proposed two new bridges prevented the board from acting on the bridge question.

It had been planned by the board to consider the Mueller plans and, if they were satisfactory, order the advertising for bids for the construction of the bridges. The board will meet again Wednesday, at which time Mueller is expected to be in the city.

HOT PLATE CAUSES HEAVY FIRE LOSS AT SCHNELLE HOME

A fire starting from a hot-plate threatened the destruction of the home of Mrs. Lena Schnelle, 633 South Seventh street, this morning. Mrs. Schnelle is a widow. A large part of her household goods were damaged by chemicals and water. She carried no insurance on this property. The building is owned by a Cincinnati man.

Mrs. Schnelle started a fire on her hot-plate, standing next to a kitchen partition, placed a washbowl on the fire and then left the house. When she returned a few minutes later she saw the roof of her home ablaze, smoke pouring from the doors and windows.

The hot-plate fire burned into the partition and the flames worked their way to the roof. Three fire companies soon had the blaze under control. Chief Miller estimates the property loss at about $200.
