

ANNEXATION OF BELGIUM URGED AS ONLY POLICY

Memorandum of Late Governor Bissing Reveals Brutal Plan of Conquest.

COPENHAGEN, (via London), June 13.—The memorandum of the late governor general Bissing of Belgium in which he advocated the annexation of the little kingdom as the sole policy for Germany is published in full in Greater Germany, a review issued by Deputy Reichminister of the Prussian diet, a national liberal and annexationist.

The unashamed nakedness with which the memorandum calls for the dictation of the Belgian royal house, the exploitation of Belgian resources and preparation for a new war to follow the present struggle, shows that the document was never intended for publication.

Counts Value of Booty.
Von Bissing recognizes that Germany can have little hope of making friends of Belgians after this war, reconciliation and calmly counts up the value of booty from Belgium and the advantages of pocketing the country from a military, naval and economic standpoint.

He points out that the offensive prosecution of the present war was possible only through the invasion of Belgium and speaks regretfully of a fact that the German right wing had to squeeze laboriously past the Dutch province of Limburg.

The memorandum says that the strategic aim of the present war is to gain room for the concentration and advance of German armies in a new war against England and France and that, without the possession of Belgium, it is doubtful if the new war could be prosecuted on an offensive basis.

Laments Conciliation.
Discussing the subject of the policy of the iron hand Von Bissing laments the mistakes of a vacillating policy of conciliation, as attempted in Alsace-Lorraine and German Poland and says they must never be repeated in Belgium. He warns against the idea that the establishment of a Flemish state would be adequate to secure German interests, these absolutely requiring the absorption of all of present Belgium.

According to Von Bissing the absorption of Belgium must not be discussed at any peace conference. "Let only the right of conquest speak," at his words. In the Bissing Belgium there would be no room for King Albert and his dynasty and the memorandum quotes approvingly the advice of Machiavelli, that under such circumstances a king or regent should be put out of the way, if necessary by death.

Industry to Live.
Under the Von Bissing scheme, Belgian industry is not to be killed entirely but is to be subjected to such conditions as will permit Germany to use it as a lever for fixing prices on the world market in German interests.

In the same way Belgium's coal supply is to give Germany an economic monopoly on the continent.

Von Bissing foresees the necessity for a continuance of his style of dictatorship for many years and says that "reforms introduced must be based on military might."

Takes the Alarm Clock to Waken E. W. Willard Now

But He Slept Only Five Hours a Night Before Nerv-Worth Came to the Rescue.

Mansfield is one of the Ohio cities where Nerv-Worth was recently demonstrated and sales of the remedy have been quickly followed by the inevitable written and signed endorsements. Here is one of that kind, given by E. W. Minard, a well-known farmer of Bellesville near Mansfield:

"I want to say something about Nerv-Worth. I have had trouble in getting my rest at night. Could not sleep. Would get about four or five hours' sleep. Tired in the morning when I'd get up. Nervousness, which caused weakness and pains about my heart. Poor appetite, no ambition. I have taken about one bottle of Nerv-Worth. Things are much better with me now. I sleep. Appetite good. Rested in the morning. SLEEP TILL THE ALARM CLOCK GOES OFF—ABOUT 8 HOURS. I'm better in every way. I recommend Nerv-Worth to anybody."

KING-of the KHYBER RIFLES

A Romance of Adventure

By TALBOT MUNDY

Copyright 1916 By The Dorn-McNeill Co.

They were at the point where the road begins to lead up-hill, westward, leaving the bed of a ravine and ascending to join the highway built by British engineers.

Below, to left and right, was pit-mouth gloom, shadows amid shadows, full of eerie whisperings, and King felt the short hair on his neck begin to rise.

So he urged his horse forward, because what Rewa Gunga said is true. There is only one surer key to trouble in the Khyber than to seem afraid—and that is to be afraid. And to have sat his horse there listening to the Rangar's whisperings and trying to see through the shadows would have been to invite fear, of the sort that grows into panic.

The Rangar followed him, close up, and both horse and man sensed excitement. The mare's steel shoes sent up a shower of sparks, and King turned to rebuke the Rangar. Yet he did not speak. Never, in all the years he had known India and the borderland beyond had he seen eyes so suggestive of a tiger's in the dark! Yet they were not the same color as a tiger's nor the same size, nor the same shape!

"Look, sahib!"

"Look at what?"

"Look!"

After a second or two he caught a glimpse of bluish flame that flashed suddenly and died again, somewhere below to the right. Then all at once the flame burned brighter and steadier and began to move and to grow.

"Halt!" King thundered; and his voice was as sharp and unexpected as a pistol-crack. This was something tangible, that a man could tackle—a perfect antidote for nerves.

The blue light continued on a zigzag course, as if a man were running among boulders with an unusual sort of torch; and as there was no answer King drew his pistol; took about thirty second's aim and fired. He fired straight at the blue light.

It vanished instantly, into measureless black silence.

"Now you've jolly well done it, haven't you?" the Rangar laughed in his ear. "That was her blue light—Yasmin's!"

It was a minute before King answered, for both animals were all but frantic with their sense of their rider's state of mind; it needed horsemanship to get them back under control. "How do you know whose light it was?" King demanded, when the horse and mare were head to head again.

"It was prearranged. She promised me a signal at the point where I am to leave the track!"

"Where's that guide?" demanded King; and Darya Khan came forward out of the night, with his rifle cocked and ready.

"Did she not say Khinjan is the destination?"

"Aye!" the fellow answered.

"I know the way to Khinjan. That is not it. Get down there and find out what that light was. Shout back what you find."

The man obeyed instantly and sprang down into the darkness. But King had hardly given the order when shame told him he had sent a native on an errand he had no liking for himself.

"Come back!" he shouted. "I will go!"

But the man had gone, slipping noiselessly in the dark from rock to rock.

So King drove both spurs home, and sent his unwilling horse to scramble downward at an angle he could not guess, into blackness he could feel trusting the animal to find a footing where his own eyes could make out nothing.

To his disgust he heard the Rangar follow immediately. To his even greater disgust the black mare overtook him. And even then, with his own mount stumbling and nearly pitching him headforemost at each lurch, he was forced to admire the mare's goatlike agility, for she descended into the gorge in running leaps, never setting a wrong foot. When he and his horse reached the bottom at last he found the Rangar waiting for him.

"This way, sahib."

The next he knew sparks from the black mare's heels were kicking up in front of him, and a wild ride had begun such as he had never yet dreamed of. There was no catching up, for the black mare could gallop two to his horse's one; but he set his teeth and followed into solid night, trusting ear-guesswork, and the God of Secret Service men who loves the reckless.

Once in a minute or so he would see a spark, or a shower of them, where the mare took a turn in a hurry. [To be continued]

Senreco
The double-service tooth paste, keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling it uses gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste—25 cents for a large 2 ounce tube.
