

"SAMMIES" SURE THEY WILL SEE KAISER'S FINISH

American Troops Surprise French by Splendid Esprit de Corps.

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP IN FRANCE, (By the Associated Press) July 20.—"Whenever you write home whether in a private letter or to any newspaper tell them we are doing finely and that no army ever had a finer spirit or was more confident of winning."

"I have handled troops for many years and under varied conditions but have never had a finer set of men, never a more enthusiastic lot than now. It has been a revelation to me to see the splendid spirit that has prevailed since we landed and it augurs well for the part American is to play in the war that her troops take hold with a vim that is going to prove irresistible."

Show Esprit de Corps
The first quotation is from a comparatively green trooper, the second from a seasoned officer. Both were made independently to the Associated Press within a few moments of each other yesterday. Both illustrate the wonderful esprit de corps prevailing throughout the first American contingent—an esprit de corps which has evoked the enthusiastic approval of the French.

The American soldiers as one mingles with them do not underestimate the seriousness and earnestness of the task before them but from the newest recruits to the oldest sergeant they are going through their daily drill, performing their daily work with dash, vim and cheerfulness and willingness that has come as genuine to the correspondent who spent the first two years of the war on the German side and with ample opportunity to witness the perfunctory qualities of the German spirit.

None Boasts of Victory
Thus far there has not been one single soldier who boastfully undertakes to underestimate his opponent, but likewise no one has made his appearance who is not supremely hopeful and confident in the final outcome. The fine spirit prevailing is evident on every side. The discipline is excellent and there is an absolute lack of complaint.

The troops are taking their training with cheerfulness and are adapting themselves to the novelty of billeting and living under unprecedented conditions necessarily imposed by living in a stranger's house.

The troops are engaged in work almost entirely strange to them, yet the officers say they have made entirely unexpected progress, which not only a good augury for the balance of the army but is due largely to the enthusiasm pervading each company and regiment.

MAIL TO SAMMIES IS ADDRESSED IMPROPERLY

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The American embassy in London has informed the state and war departments that it is being greatly inconvenienced by persons in the United States who send mail intended for members of the American expeditionary forces in care of the embassy.

The correct form of address, as announced by the war and postoffice departments is name of addressee, official designation of soldier's unit and finally the words "American Expeditionary Forces." The location or station of a military unit if known to the sender should not be included in the address.

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.
There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription ointment—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.
Simply get an ounce of ointment—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it at night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.
Be sure to ask for the double strength ointment as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

"Don't Waste Food" Campaign Waged by British Soldiers

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, June 30.—The British army in the field is consuming about 15 percent less of foodstuffs per capita than it did eighteen months ago.

This is not due to any studied diminution of rations, but to a more careful distribution and the prevention of waste. It is very easy for a generous commissariat to supply an army with more than it can use. In the early days of the war, this practice of generosity was well nigh universal, because it was regarded as wiser to provide too much than too little, and the reaching of the exact mean is not a simple matter. The policy of oversupply was well enough when foodstuffs were fairly plentiful, but nowadays, when the result of the war may depend upon the solution of food problems, nothing is being left undone to prevent waste.

The British soldier is still the best fed soldier in Europe, but the supply departments are gradually rescuing him from the stigma of being at the same time the most wasteful. Stocks of meat and bread are closely watched, and unused allowances must be held over and added to the store for the next meal or the next day.

The private soldier takes more kindly to the "Don't-waste-food" campaign than was expected, for at heart the British Tommy has an aversion to seeing good food going into the waste box—he never did it at home, and it looks like bad business to be doing it in France.

It requires no knowledge of higher strategy to see the good sense of the don't-waste-food idea, and he has taken on the anti-waste regulations with more cheerfulness and less argument than marked the adoption of the steel helmet or the gas mask.

Eighty-five miles of the new Alaskan railway will be built by the end of the 1917 season. The road is to run from Seward to Fairbanks, and will have a total length of 471 miles. It is being built by the government.

On The Boards

STEAMSHIP OFFERED FREE FOR RED CROSS SHIPMENTS

NEW YORK, July 20.—Announcement was made here today that the American Trans-Atlantic company had offered a 5,600 ton steamship to the red cross "free of hire" to carry supplies and workmen to France. The term "free of hire" was explained as meaning that the company donated the vessel, but the cost of operating it was to be paid by the Red Cross. Officials of the Red Cross estimated the loan of the steamship would save about $100,000.

30,000,000 Meals! What's Your Order?

NEW YORK, July 20.—The problem of providing 30,000,000 meals a day for the 10,000,000 people in and around New York city and to have these meals provided at fair prices with food in fair proportion to the supply and demand here and from the allies, is to be worked out by the central committee of the New York food distributors' association.

Present plans provide for the creation of an information bureau to keep the public informed as to prices, supplies and the detailed condition of the markets. It was said an average of 1,100 cars of food arrive daily in New York and the committee plans to record the arrival of all incoming food and report to the public its condition and value.

Two Americans Try To Slay Kaiser, is Report in Holland

AMSTERDAM, July 20.—An attempt on Emperor's William's life by two Americans was reported today by a person who states that he knows the circumstances.

According to his story, two men managed to get near the Emperor at Great Headquarters on July 3, before the emperor went to Vienna. The men were seized by detectives, the tale goes, and were found to be in possession of revolvers.

It is said these men, both Americans, had been promised a large reward by an American millionaire for killing the emperor, and that they were shot twenty-four hours after their arrest.

No names or further particulars are available, and the story has not been confirmed.

The foregoing is an elaboration of a Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam last night, which said the story must be treated with necessary reserve.
