"Will We Give Up All But Beer?" Queries Kenyon in Dry Debate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—National prohibition legislation came up for final action in the senate today with the outcome apparently in doubt.

Dry leaders claim it will pass. Wet leaders claim it will not.

That was the situation today when the senate resumed debate on the resolution for a prohibition amendment to the federal constitution. The senate has agreed to begin voting on all amendments and the resolution itself at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Time Limit Set. Pending was a motion calling for the submission of the proposed constitutional amendment to the states for ratifying by July 1, 1923. Unless thus approved the amendment would become null and void.

If the amendment is passed by a two-thirds vote of the senate and house it will then have to be ratified by three-fourths of all the states.

Few members were in their seats and a small number of spectators were in the gallery when debate on the prohibition measure was resumed. Senator Calder the first speaker, announced that he would vote against the resolution, declaring that in his opinion it was a question to be determined by the states.

Senator Penrose "Agin it" against the resolution "regardless of its merits or demerits."

Senator Kenyon of Iowa, supporting the resolution said: "Why do we prohibit the boys in the army and navy from having booze and insist that those who remain at home shall have it? When they are willing to die for us, should we not be willing to go dry for them? Are we willing to sacrifice everything in the country to win the war except beer? Why waste labor, needed to win the war, to make beer?" Senators Meyers and Cummins both spoke in support of the resolution.

CONFEREES BREAK FOOD DEADLOCK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The deadlock of the conferees on the administration food control bill was broken today and complete agreement reached with the senate conferees yielded and consented to strike out the amendment proposing a congressional committee to supervise war expenditures which President Wilson has opposed.

Central park in New York covers 843 acres, is two and one-half miles long and half-a-mile wide.

ARGENTINE MAY BREAK RELATIONS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Argentina is expected to define her position in the world war within the next few days.

Official reports to the government indicate this and make it appear that the Argentine foreign office will no longer delay a statement of the controversy with Germany over the sinking of Argentine vessels.

A short time before the American fleet visited Argentine waters it was announced at Buenos Aires that Germany had asked that no drastic move be made by Argentina until she had received the German reply.

Argentina had intimated that unless prompt reparation were made, diplomatic relations with Germany would be broken. It is believed that the German answer is of such character that the Argentine government may feel warranted in further discussion of the subject.

The attitude of Mexico is no longer one of great concern to the American government. There has been no report to the state department indicating that the Carranza government is seriously considering the abandonment of its announced neutrality and official reiteration was made today that no overtures for any alteration would be made.

Henderson's Pacifist Activity Vexes British War Cabinet

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The fact that a member of the cabinet, Arthur Henderson, minister without portfolio in the war council, had gone on a mission to Paris with the pacifist Ramsey MacDonald, member of parliament; George James Wardle, chairman of the labor party in the house of commons, and Russian delegates, aroused great irritation among the members of parliament and seems to threaten trouble in the government.

The purpose of the journey is to confer with French socialists in regard to the proposed conference of allies socialists at London and the subsequent international conference at Stockholm.

The crux of the matter lies in the fact that Mr. Henderson since he returned from Petrograd reversed his attitude on the question of the British labor party and socialists meeting the German representatives at Stockholm and now advises them to rescind the former resolution against joining the conference with enemy delegates.

Result of His Visit. Mr. Henderson has not publicly explained his change of views, but it is known to be the result of his visit to Russia.

It is stated that the heads of the labor party officially accepted his advice which nevertheless seemed to have caused a crisis in the party which is now unanimous in its support of Mr. Henderson.

The government has been closely questioned in the house of commons in the last few days on the subject of Mr. Henderson's mission to Paris and the admission of Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, that it was settled without the government's knowledge and that the government was ignorant of what he was doing in Paris has increased the general irritation.

War Cabinet Embarrassed.

Lobby correspondents say that the war cabinet, of which Mr. Henderson is still presumably a member, although his place was taken by George N. Barnes, while he was in Russia, is gravely embarrassed by the turn events have taken.

Mr. Henderson's fellow members of the labor party in the ministry, who are as ignorant as the members of the war cabinet of Mr. Henderson's move, met in the house of commons last evening to discuss the extraordinary situation, but decided to await his return before acting.

According to the lobby correspondents, however, it was at the same time resolved not to support Mr. Henderson. The affair has aroused considerable feeling, largely because of the association of a member of the inner cabinet with Mr. MacDonald and was to be raised in the house of commons today as a matter of urgency.
