

S. SOLDIERS MEET BIG GUNS OLD COMRADES

American Soldiers in France
Are Delighted With Monster French Weapons.

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP IN FRANCE, Wednesday, Oct. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Not far behind the American field artillery, which has been in training in a rugged section of France for the past two months, have come the man of the heavy. They are veteran gunners and many are familiar with the big guns at home and they greeted almost as comrades the monster French weapons which they are now grooming for eventual use against the Germans. Some of the guns with which the American artillerymen are training are wonderful and ponderous examples of the French gunmakers' skill and daring. They are from the 155, nervously effective up to the staggering 400 that hurl huge explosive shells weighing thousands of tons. The 60's are more potent than the Big Bertha ever were in their days of destruction.

In calibre the guns range from the short, squat mortars, which sit upon their haunches like giant frogs, up through the various members of the Howitzer family to the truly sinister naval rifles with their long tapering barrels.

Delighted With Weapons. The Americans are delighted with their French weapons and are busy studying every detail and adapting themselves to the use of French material. Most of the heavy gunners are men of long experience and do not need much actual firing practice before taking their place in line against the enemy. They have been a little surprised to find that with the big land guns used here speed is not a great factor. These heavy weapons digouts and other enemy defenses that cannot run away. Accuracy is the great goal of all heavy gunners. Asked if his men would not find it difficult to shoot without direct observation, the general commanding the heavy artillery contingent replied:

"We will have direct observation here. The only difference will be that the observer, instead of standing beside the gun will be sitting aloft in an airplane. You can depend upon it that each shot we fire at the enemy will be watched and recorded."

The wireless branch of the heavy artillery service is one of great importance. At schools already established radio pupils are being specially trained in communication with airplanes and observation balloons. Officers Complete Study. Scores of reserve officers from Plattsburg and other training camps are completing their technical education in the artillery schools here. The officers, individually, selected for the artillery service because of their education in higher mathematics and engineering, are proving a great joy to their commander and instructors. It is predicted that all will make splendid officers in active service.

The American gunners have been much interested in the big 240's which are hauled by caterpillar tractors, but the real pets with the gunners from overseas are those aristocrats among the heavies which command special railroad cars. Some of these rulers of the cannon world are so important and so valuable that an entire artillery train is devoted to them. These trains are a strange looking affair in their fantastic paint, resembling at a distance a mammoth rattlesnake. Even the engines are included in the camouflage and may resemble anything from a brick house to a giant hedgehog. The French sense of humor cannot be suppressed by three years of war. French officers have named one of the largest guns turned over to the Americans "Moustique" which means mosquito. "It is a compliment to any of your artillerymen who may have come from New Jersey," said the French commander who said he had spent ten years on the eastern coast of the United States. The French guns although large and apparently unwieldy are balanced easily, one man being able to elevate and deflect a weapon weighing fifty tons or more.

Why Actresses Never Grow Old

Nothing concerning the profession seems more puzzling to the dear old public than the perpetual youth of our feminine members. How often we hear remarks like, "Why saw her so Juliet forty years ago and she doesn't look a year older now?" Of course allowance is made for make-up, but when they see us on the stage at close range, they need another explanation. How strange women generally haven't learned the secret of keeping the face young! How simple a matter to get an ounce of mercolised wax at the drug store, apply it like cold cream, and in the morning wash it off! We know how this gradually, imperceptibly, absorbs old cells, keeping the complexion new and fresh, free from fine lines, sallowness or over-ripeness. We know, too, that this mercolised wax is the reason actresses don't wear mesh patches, liver spots, wrinkles and the like. Why don't our sisters on the other side of the footlights learn the reason, and profit by it?—Theatrical World.

How To Relieve Catarrhal Deafness or Head Noises

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmit (Double Strength). This will not cost you more than 90c. Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc. should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucous drooping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. If nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh, there must be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple home treatment. Clem Thistlewaite can supply you.

Eaton Orders Coal Through Columbus

EATON, O., Oct. 12.—Coal shortage in this city has reached such an alarming state that members of council have been stirred to action, and an order for six carloads has been sent to Attorney General McGhee by Mayor Foss. According to advices from Columbus, the order will be filled. Council plans to place the consignment in the hands of local retailers for distribution. Sales, however, will be limited to not more than one ton to a customer.

The Japanese are producing annually 20,000,000 tons of coal from the mines of Japan and southern Manchuria.
