

FOOD DEALERS GIVEN WARNING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—A warning to food dealers subject to regulations who have not applied for licenses that they may find themselves in serious difficulties was issued today by the food administration. Those who have not forwarded their applications are directed to do so immediately.

One of the regulations under which business must be done was announced by the food administration today as follows:

"No licensee shall knowingly buy any food commodities from or sell any such commodities to or handle any such commodities for any person required to have a license who has not secured such license and complied with the provisions of this rule."

CAMBRIDGE CITY

J. W. Harper has been appointed head manager of the Lipplincott Co., of Cincinnati, assuming his new duties Wednesday. Mrs. Harper and daughter Hazel, will for the present remain in this city. Mr. Harper has been a traveling salesman for the company and the new position is in the line of promotion. Mrs. R. P. Lindsay is spending a few days at Martinsville with Mr. Lindsay, who is taking treatment at one of the sanitariums. Ralph Luddington has gone to Indianapolis, where he has a position in the office of the Nordyke-Morman automobile factory. Mrs. J. W. Moore and daughter, Dorothy, spent Thursday in Richmond. After an absence of twenty years, D. M. Hebel, of Shawnee, Okla., is visiting friends in this community. Mr. Hebel states that crops were good in that part of the world, watermelons selling at six dollars per ton, while peaches were so plentiful that there was comparatively no sale for them, the best grade retailing at not more than fifty cents per bushel. One quarter of the globe, at least, where the high cost of living had not materially affected the prices of all eatables. Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hughes moved to Jamestown, the latter having come into possession of a piece of property through her father, and where they expect to make their future home. Mr. Hughes will engage in the undertaking business. Mrs. T. H. Bird is improving, after an illness of several days. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hotmire and daughter, of Winchester, are visitors in the home of Mrs. Hotmire's brother, Joseph Moore, and family. The schools closed Wednesday evening for the remainder of the week. Superintendent A. H. Hines, and his corps of teachers going to Indianapolis Thursday to attend the session of the State Teachers' Association. Mrs. Taylor Crook has gone to Stroh to see her mother, who is in ill health. The latter will return with Mrs. Crook. A pleasant family gathering was that of Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ferguson in observance of the former's birthday. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, the former's sister, Mrs. Rose Barrett, of Knights-town, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Wright and son, Miss Esther Ferguson, Olin and Paul Ferguson. Mrs. James Clark and daughter, Miss Ruth Donovan, have returned after a week spent with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ray, of Indianapolis. Among the jolly Halloween parties was that given Wednesday evening by Miss Mary Catherine Wilson, at her home on Front street, when she entertained a company of eighteen merry boys and girls. The large rooms were gaily decorated in black and yellow, black cats and witches were seen in the various rooms. A fairy dance, a ghost dance, bobbing for apples caused merriment for the gay crowd of maskers, while later in the evening refreshments of pumpkin pie, ginger cake, popcorn, apples and cider added to the pleasure of the guests, among whom were the Misses Virginia Kabel, Wilma Tout, Alice Cornthwaite, Helen Adams, Martha Manlove, Norma Goebel, Margaret Thurman, Helen Colay, Lucille Pritchard, Lucile Ogden, and Masters Robert Griffin, of Spickeland, Robert Williams, Roy Kelum, Irving Manlove, Francis Zude-master and Everett Stratton. Mr. and Mrs. John Dora were host and hostess, Tuesday evening, at a co-operative supper given by the members of a card club when the ladies took this means of entertaining their husbands. The evening was spent in playing Five Hundred, the company including Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDaniell, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sherry, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wiseman, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Marson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Drischel, Mr. and Mrs. Dora. The Evangelical church of Pershing, will hold a Home Coming, Thanksgiving day and evening. Any who have worshipped there, or attended Sunday school, are expected to be present or send a contribution.

Half of Germany's Subs Sunk Since Beginning of War

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Between 40 and 50 percent of the German submarines operating in the North Sea, the Arctic, and the Atlantic, since the beginning of the war have been sunk, said Sir Eric Geddes, first Lord of Admiralty in the House of Commons today.

"During the last quarter the Germans lost as many submarines as they lost in 1916," he said.

The out-put of merchant shipping in the first nine months of this year, he said, was 123 percent higher than in the corresponding period last year. The admiralty had decided that four new national ship building yards would be necessary.

tion. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Kramer and Frank Kramer were among the guests at a dinner party given Sunday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Thurnburg, of Economy. The ladies of the Social Union will hold a Rummage sale in the basement of the Methodist church Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 15, 16 and 17th. Any one having clothing, pictures, old furniture or other household furnishings which they care to contribute, will please send to the church. Charles Smith will move from the Tyler property on East Main street, to that of J. W. Moore in the north part of town. Eighty percent of the Liberty bonds sold in this community were purchased by farmers. Mrs. C. M. Daily has returned after a few days spent in Connorsville, with her brother, Dr. Harry Zehring. Willis Kuster, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kuster, has been quite ill.

Mrs. Nora Myers is spending a few days in Indianapolis. Attorney J. C. Dodson has returned after a business trip to different points in Oklahoma. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dore, of New Lisbon, and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Fuhrman were entertained at dinner Sunday, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Mills. Mrs. Willard Petro spent Tuesday with relatives in Newcastle. Mrs. Jessie Cornell attended a Sunday school convention Sunday, at the Orange Friends church, south of Richmond, in the interest of the Home Department. Mr. and Mrs. Mace Walters of Knightstown, and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Williams of Richmond, will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kuster, and family, next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen of Indianapolis, have been the guests of Mrs. Mary Mauk. C. T. Wright has returned after a few days spent in the home of his son, Karl Wright, of Lawrenceburg. Mrs. Wright remaining for a longer visit. Miss Hilda Kinder of Greenfield, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Linville Ferguson. The evangelistic meetings which have been in progress at the Methodist church, under the direction of Rev. R. C. Jones, pastor, assisted by Rev. J. W. Gruber, and Mrs. Fred Murray, evangelistic singer of Hagerstown, have been of marked interest. The service of last Thursday evening, when forty or more persons from Hagerstown, were in attendance and a chorus from that place gave additional pleasure and interest to the meeting. Among names added to the members of the church are those of B. F. Wissler and Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Summers. Mr. and Mrs. James Revalie are moving from this place to Newcastle. Miss Mary Lodginger of Muncie, is spending several days with relatives in this place and vicinity. Arthur Wissler of Kokomo, spent Sunday with his father, B. F. Wissler.

Roumania has asked Japan to send 100 physicians and Japan will probably comply. It is said that epidemics are prevalent in Roumania.

With the Fingers!
Says Corns Lift Out
Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heel footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

Germans Rush To Aid of Austrians

Upon Austria's demanding military aid or peace the German forces have been rushed to the support of their allies along the Austrian front, where German men, material and strategic brains are now in preponderance. The line the Germans are supporting extends from Fitch southeastward through the Tolmino sector to the northern edge of the Bainsizza plateau. The map shows the present Austro-Italian front as advanced from the line of some months ago. Arrows indicate the approach of the supporting Germans.

It is said that the United States exported by parcel post in 1915-16, 1,352,629 parcels, weighing 6,299,023 pounds; in 1914-15, 936,365 parcels with a total weight of 3,347,899.

Revelations of a Wife

BY ADELE GARRISON

TELE-A-TETE BEFORE THE GATE

ONCE MORE
"Well, well, a regular drunkard's breakfast! Madge, is this your idea or do I recognize Katie's fine Italian hand?"

Dicky surveyed the dinner Katie had just served with a whimsical look. We were taking a combination breakfast, lunch and dinner, the first food either of us had touched since Dicky had ushered in a most exciting 24 hours by slamming out of the apartment the night before in a towering rage.

Having repented and been forgiven only a few moments before, Dicky, like most penitents, appeared to have forgotten his sins completely. The memory of the long hours of the night when I had been frightened by the sight of Dicky intoxicated, and worried by his failure to come home; the thought of the day just passed, when Dicky in one room slept off his intoxication, and I in another had suffered terribly with a headache, shadowed my joy in our reconciliation. But Dicky was in royal good humor.

"This is Katie's idea entirely," I replied. "I really have had no experience in this sort of thing," I added demurely.

Dicky made a face at me. An answer I knew was on the tip of his tongue, but Katie's indignant voice interrupted:

"Meester Graham, why you say me Italian. Me no dago, me Polish girl. I tell you dot dotter place, but you say always, Katie's Italian hand. Why you do dot?"

Dick threw back his head and laughed uproariously. Then he put his hand in his pocket. As he drew it out I saw that it held a bill.

"See what this will do toward soothing your wounded feelings," he said as he held it out.

Katie put her hands behind her. "No, no, dot too mooch," she said, but I saw her eyes fixed greedily upon the money.

"Nonsense," Dicky answered, throwing the bill on the table, "a dollar isn't too much for this lifesaver and being called an Italian to boot."

He lifted to his lips as he spoke the cup of steaming clam broth which Katie had served us as a first course.

I had already drained mine. It was indeed delicious, but a dollar tip seemed ridiculous to my frugal mind.

"Take it, Katie," His voice held a note of command, and Katie picked up the dollar.

"You can call me vat you please for dis," she giggled, as she put the empty cups on the tray. "You try dis salt mackerel. Dot is goot for—" she hesitated for a word.

"For what ails me," suggested Dicky mischievously, to Katie's confusion.

"I no mean nothing," she said as she hurried into the kitchen.

I looked critically at the dishes ready for Dicky's serving, if this were a "drunkard's breakfast," I told myself, it certainly was an incentive to a man to indulge in too much liquor. I never had known that salt mackerel could look so inviting. Katie had soaked ed them all day until they were like fresh fish. Then she had plunged them into boiling water, and I had seen her watching them anxiously so that they should not remain in the water an instant after they were cooked sufficiently. She had drained them, laid them on a hot platter garnished with parsley and poured over them a most inviting looking thin sauce, the principal ingredients of which Dicky is principal ingredients of high I recognized as hot milk and melted butter. Boiled potatoes, piping hot, and a salad that gave a forecast of spring, crisp watercress sprinkled thickly with chopped chives, and a plate of hot buttered toast completed the meal, which even if I had not been as ravenously hungry as I was would have tempted me to eat heartily. Dicky did not appear as hungry as I, but he ate a fairly good meal. As Katie cleared the dishes away and brought the coffee with a certain kind of cream cheese of which Dicky is very fond, he looked at me whimsically. "Shall we risk our coffee in the living room again?" he asked. [To be continued.]

Cleveland Hit by First Heavy Snow

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2.—Five inches of snow fell here Wednesday in Cleveland's first real snow storm of the winter. The storm caused but little delay to railroad trains. Lake traffic, early reports indicated, was badly hampered. Delays are expected in the arrival of all incoming vessels.

Tumulty Denies He Will be Candidate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Secretary Tumulty gave out a statement at the White House today denying that he would be a candidate to succeed Senator Hughes of New Jersey.

"Owing to the illness of Senator Hughes," said he, "many good friends of mine in New Jersey have been generous enough to suggest my name as his successor. These suggestions evidently come from those friends from New Jersey who do not know of my intimacy with Senator Hughes and my deep admiration for him. Therefore, there can be no solid basis in fact for these stories. The Democracy of New Jersey is solidly behind Senator Hughes and will enthusiastically support him in his desire for re-nomination."

A Letter From Washington

The Food Administrator Writes Us:

"The use of baking powder breads made of corn and other coarse flours instead of patent wheat flour is recommended by the Conservation Division of the Food Administration. The wheat needed for export is thus conserved, and at the same time healthful food for our own people is provided. The circulation of recipes providing for these uses would be of assistance in carrying out our plans."

The following recipes for Corn Bread and Rye Rolls save wheat flour and make attractive and wholesome food for every day when made with

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

CORN BREAD

1 1/2 cups corn meal
1/2 cup flour
4 level teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk

Mix thoroughly dry ingredients; add milk and melted shortening; beat well; pour into well greased pan and bake in hot oven about 25 minutes.

RYE ROLLS

2 cups rye flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 level teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 cup milk
1/2 tablespoon shortening

Mix dry ingredients together; add milk and melted shortening. Knead on floured board; shape into rolls. Put into greased pans and allow to stand in warm place 20 to 25 minutes. Bake in moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes.

Our red, white and blue booklet "Best War Time Recipes" containing additional similar recipes sent free on request. Address Royal Baking Powder Company, Dept. H, 135 William Street, New York.
