AMERICAN AIR MEN FIGHTING

(By Associated Press)
American army aviators have joined the British and French fighters in their activities on the front in France. Americans have participated in bombing raids on German positions and also are on observation duty. Thus far there has been no aerial fighting of importance and the Americans have suffered no casualties.

The German artillery is active in the Ypres salient in Flanders and it has shelled heavily the new British positions around Passchendaele. This may mean either preparation for a strong German attack to regain this important position or an effort to forestall further British advances.

Zimmermans "Run" Four Cities

DR. W. W. ZIMMERMAN, Richmond.

DR. D. V. ZIMMERMAN, Veodersburg.

G. F. ZIMMERMAN, Mt. Vernon.

JOHN ZIMMERMAN, Cannelton.

Richmond is not the only city in the state of Indiana which will have a mayor named Zimmerman for the next four years.

The cities of Mount Vernon, Veodersburg and Cannelton, Ind., will also have "Zimmermans" at the head of the city's business, all having been elected at the election last Tuesday.

Of the four, only one is a Democrat. George F. Zimmerman, Republican, was elected mayor of Mount Vernon, on a platform advocating municipal ownership of public utilities and adjustment of light and water rates. He was assistant United States attorney for the western district of Oklahoma, under President Taft, and as such took a prominent part in prosecutions for the enforcement of the so-called "Grandfather" law of Oklahoma, which was declared unconstitutional by the United States Supreme court in 1915.

John Zimmerman, Republican, the mayor-elect of Cannelton, filled the same office from 1902-1904, and from 1906-1910. He came from Switzerland when ten years old and settled in Cannelton in 1859. From 1881-1895 he served in D company, Indiana volunteers and from 1868-1871 in Battery G, 4th artillery, U. S. A.

The mayor-elect of Veodersburg, is also a doctor, but unlike Dr. W. W. Zimmerman, he is a Democrat. He has been a member of the city council for the last two years, and is regarded as a public-spirited man.

WORKS OF GREAT ARTISTS SHOWN IN HIGH SCHOOL

Sixty-two Paintings of Birge and Alexander Harrison On Exhibit.

An interesting exhibit of pictures, the works of Birge Harrison and his brother Alexander Harrison, has been hung in the Public Art Gallery at the High school by 222 Richmond Art Association.

The exhibit will open Wednesday evening for the first time when a lecture will be given by Mrs. M. F. Johnston on the pictures in connection with the Arts and Travels course offered by the night school. There will also be special music by members of the Music Study club.

The exhibit is made up of sixty-two pictures, landscapes and marine paintings. All the marine pictures were made by Alexander Harrison, Birge Harrison confining his work to landscapes and street scenes.

Alexander Harrison is the second greatest marine painter in the United States and was the first to interest artists in marine work.

Several of the pictures in the exhibit by Birge Harrison depicting street scenes are unusually attractive.

Birge Harrison is not only a great painter but is also noted for his literary efforts. His book on "Landscape Painting" is known among artists as well as pupils as the "Painters' Bible."

He founded the Woodstock school in Ulster county, New York, where he spends most of his summers. He is also connected with the Art Studio League of New York City.

The gallery will be open to the public every afternoon and also on Wednesday evenings.

Mrs. M. F. Johnston will make a talk Sunday afternoon when the gallery will be open to the public.

During the past week Mrs. Johnston made a number of talks in Chicago where she visited the Art Institute exhibit.

She has secured the use of a number of stereoscopic views for a lecture on Belgium to be given in connection with the Arts and Travels course.

Revival Commences at Third Church

If a man can forget his mother, he will also forget his God, declared Rev. J. C. Erwin, in his sermon at the opening meeting of the special evangelistic services at the Third Methodist Episcopal church.

Rev. Mr. Erwin, in emphasizing his sermon, told of a number of stories of men who had forgotten their mothers, and in doing so had forgotten their God.

"If a mother must advertise for her son, then it is in good order for a church and preacher to advertise to win men back to Godliness," Rev. Erwin said. The Third church is conducting an extensive church advertising campaign.

WERNLE HOME IS CROWDED

Reports were made by committees at the quarterly board meeting of the Wernle Orphan home held all day Wednesday at the home.

The board sanctioned the plan for an orphan's feast to be held Decoration day at the Wernle home.

Lutheran churches of Richmond will assist in preparing for the entertainment.

Motion Pictures of New Character Will be Presented in Style at the Murray Theatre

"If you are a bit blasé on the 'movie' question, think you have seen them all and that they are all alike, just prepare yourself for a little shock when you attend the Murray theatre next Saturday when the new policy gets under full sway, remarked W. H. Hickey, under whose personal direction the Murray theatre will be conducted Wednesday.

Motion pictures are subject to much criticism, and there can be no denying that much of this is justified. It therefore becomes necessary from time to time to improve the manner of presenting the silent drama to satisfy the fans of discriminating taste.

In attending the Murray theatre on and after next Saturday one may feel assured that neither time nor money has been spared to make the "Murray standard of entertainment" as near perfect as possible. It is acknowledged everywhere that the Rialto and Strand theatres in New York, the Circle in Indianapolis and the Majestic and Madison theatres in Detroit, are pre-eminent in the presentation of high class motion pictures, enhanced by concert orchestras, special stage settings, electrical effects and singers of reputation.

To Offer Same Attractions.

The plans for the reopening of the Murray theatre on Saturday call for the conducting of this cozy playhouse on the same lines and offering the same big attractions as shown in these large cities. A more detailed announcement as to the new policy of the Murray will be made within a few days.

Marguerite Clark, one of the sweetest personalities the screen possesses, and one of the most beloved of the younger American stars, has been selected to appear in "Bab's Burglar" for the opening on Saturday and Sunday next. This is a picture of the "sub-deb" story by Mary Roberts Rinehart which recently appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, and was followed by thousands of readers all over the country who will recognize in Miss Clark a perfect "type" for "Bab."

Younger sister of an attractive girl of twenty-four, and even more romantic than the average boarding-school girl, "Bab's" efforts to marry off her older sister are screamingly funny and her experiences with her thousand dollar allowance which she spends in two weeks, still funnier. A "sub-deb" by the way, Mrs. Rinehart explains, is a girl who has not yet made her debut into society but is hanging on the edge of this momentous event. These were the first of the stories as Mrs. Rinehart wrote them and it is said that Marguerite Clark will soon appear in the others.

"Bab's Burglar" will more than meet the exalted standard expected of all Murray theatre productions. Equal in importance to the feature picture will be a series of Burton Holmes travel tours showing scenes in Canton and Shanghai, which have advanced with marvelous rapidity in China since the Russo-Japanese war, and the film presents a perfect idea of existing conditions there. A more pleasing picture for old and young alike would be hard to find.

Irvin S. Cobb in a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post advises those who seek prominence in New York to be a type or become one. "Develop some idiosyncrasy of person or temperament and exhibit it persistently in public places until the newspapers take cognizance of it," says he.

This is exactly the manner in which Charles Ray as "The Clodhopper," becomes a Broadway celebrity in the new Triangle photoplay which will be the headline attraction at the Murray next Monday and Tuesday. He is a tiny type, without any pretension on his part. Attired in a suit which his mother purchased from a mail order house, he goes to New York from a New Hampshire village with the determination to be a somebody. But in order to exist during the process of evolution into this "somebody," he looks for a job—a job of any sort that will not him enough to take a stool at a lunch counter three times a day. He sees a sign outside a theater, "Janitor Wanted." He takes it down claps it under his arm and stumbles through the stage door.

Sees in Him a Type

A frenzied individual directing a chaos of "million dollar beauties," spies him and instantly exults with the impact of inspiration. The clodhopper is a type! He is told to dance. "Never mind how; just dance!" bawls the director. And Ray does. He doesn't dance like Gaby nor yet like Pavlova or St. Denis. He gyrates in his own peculiar fashion, which further proves him a type. The dance is called "the clodhopper." It creates a sensation the first night.

The "death watch," while refusing to manifest any enthusiasm, recognizes him as a hit, his dance the coming sensation. Thus the clodhopper, who was a failure in the New Hampshire town, where the type has not yet won appreciation, becomes a celebrity of Lobster square and enjoys the triumph that Cobb describes.

The Murray theatre will be conducted on a different plan from the ordinary run of motion picture houses. The first performance in the afternoon starts at 1 and continues for two hours without interruption or repetition and the second show will start at 3 o'clock and everyone who goes should arrange their visit accordingly. In the evening performances will commence at 7 and 9 o'clock. Thus the party that goes to the theatre after dinner or as late as 9 o'clock is sure to see all the features of the bill.

A magnificent Grecian stage setting is now being installed and Clarence Runge's union orchestra of ten pieces together with Miss Jean Whitney, soprano soloist, are holding nightly rehearsals.

"We realize," Manager Hickey, said "that we must give the people what they want and our new form of entertainment must win on merit. We can promise that we will always give a high-class show—that is to say the people will always get their money's worth. I don't like the idea of advertising that a certain show is positively the best that was ever offered the public. We do promise to select our programs with the utmost care and to cater to the tastes of our patrons."

"I know that Richmond people want good entertainment and we are going to give it to them."

Mr. Hickey expressed himself as highly pleased with the reception the new enterprise has received at the hands of the local people and he accepted it as a forerunner of a prosperous season.

The beauties of the Austrian court used a lotion which was so effective in keeping the face smooth and free from wrinkles, even in the aged, they named it the "water of eternal youth."

One ounce pure salicylic (powdered), dissolved in a half pint which has all there is to it. Any woman can get these ingredients at her drug-store, put them together, and use the solution with entire safety. NASTY MEDICINES BAD FOR CHILDREN

It is not often a child requires medicine of any kind. If the bowels are regular and promptly dispose of undigested matter discarded by the stomach, the general health is very apt to be excellent. In any case, pills, powders, and nauseating or unpalatable compounds, should never be given to children. Any therapeutic virtue such remedies may possess is largely nullified by the youngsters' natural antagonism.

For most children a mild laxative, administered occasionally, is all that is needed to assure normal regularity and good health. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a pleasant-tasting combination of simple ingredients, free from opiate or narcotic drugs, and acts gently yet effectively; children like it and so it readily, so that it is the ideal remedy for the family medicine chest. It is sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. M. Caldwell, 1615 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.
