Old-Fashioned Southern Corn Bread

Can only be made from meal ground from the whole corn. Like it? Who doesn't—delicious, mellow, old fashioned southern corn bread! Even without butter or syrup there's nothing else that quite takes its place.

Uncle Sam Says Eat More Corn—We raise four bushels of corn to one of wheat. For our country's sake we must even up the consumption and share the wheat with our soldiers and our allies.

WHELAN'S BUHR-GROUND WHOLE CORN MEAL

Is ground by newly installed Buhr Machinery which is the best process to grind your corn and will give you the bread with the flavor, which made our southern families so famous.

"THE HEART'S IN IT"

There's as much difference between the ordinary corn meal that you have been using and Whole Corn Meal with the heart in it as there is between day and night.

Whelan's corn meal contains the rich, natural flavor that can only be obtained by using the Whole Corn. Ordinary corn meal is made from corn after the heart—which contains much of the nutritive value as well as the flavor—has been removed.

MADE IN RICHMOND—DELIVERED FRESH

Whelan's corn meal is ground by the old fashioned stone-buhr method in our own mill Right Here in Richmond. Start tomorrow with this good, old southern style corn bread and wheatless day will be the most pleasant of the week.

Your Grocer Gets It FRESH Every Day

Put up in convenient size bags. Avoid substitutes—accept no other brand.
