Half Ounce of Flour Wasted Daily Would Feed Million Refugees

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 7.—An answer to criticism of the food administration's efforts to stop the minute wastes in kitchens was given by Dr. H. E. Barnard, state food administrator, in an article made public here. Dr. Barnard said:

"You have heard it—this criticism of the efforts of the food administration to stop wastes and save the surplus. It's very common for superstitious, dare I say, selfish women to say to their neighbors, 'I wouldn't sign any food card. It's foolish. I don't waste any food, and if I do it's mine. I paid for it.'"

"There are a lot of things wrong with such comments. There is nothing foolish in any effort that will end this war quickly. There isn't a kitchen where every waste is eliminated, and while the flour and fat may have been paid for by the woman who wastes it every bit she does not use to feed her family must be replaced by other food drawn from our scanty surplus. Every ounce of flour, every scrap of food wasted by careless cooks drains the national bank of energy in which we are every one stockholders.

"The lazy minded critics do not appreciate the multiplying power of twenty millions. There are that many families in this country and the spoonful of fat left in the frying pan, the sugar dregs in the coffee cup, the ounce of flour brushed off the bread board, multiplied millions of times, day after day, makes a total that is appalling.

"As a concrete example of definite waste almost never reckoned with, take the last case. In millions of kitchens flour is used in some form every day. It may be baked into biscuits or bread, rolled into pastry or beaten into gravies. It is dusted on the board on which the bread is kneaded, or the biscuits or pie crust cut or molded. It is mixed in bowls or shaken out of the flour sifter. Every operation makes a little waste. Probably the total wastage is no more than a half ounce a day but when twenty million families also are wasting the amount thrown out by carelessness is more than three thousand barrels a day, enough to feed a million Belgium refugees. It took a thousand fertile acres to grow that wasted wheat. It was grown by the labor of enough men to defend many a rod of trench that encircles our common enemy.

THOUGHTS TO THINK ABOUT.

The man who stays out because he lost out is neither a sticker nor a winner; if he won't dig out when he's covered up, he is pretty much of a sinner.

Man becomes happy who helps his fellowmen.

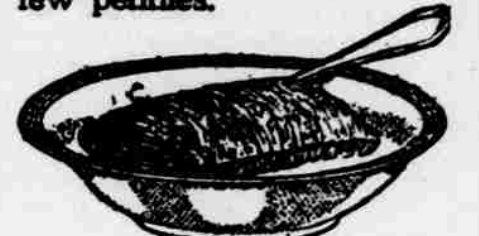

Indecision is the idle man's imprint on all that he fails to perform; the factory's smoke is made by horse-power, but the head-power is its success.

It won't pay to keep your car standing idle, for it will soon become out of date. Make an exchange through Palladium Want Ad. Read the Want Ads today. They are read by 95 percent of the people in Richmond.

"The trivial wastes are, indeed, mighty in their aggregate, and the unthinking wasters potent in their power to delay the day of victory."

The Japan Gazette says that hundreds of Russians, returning to their native land from the United States, are stranded in Yokohama and Tokio.

Over the Top Together—Going over the top in any field of human endeavor is a matter of physical preparedness. You can't get strength from non-nutritious, indigestible food. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is 100 per cent. wheat, nothing wasted, nothing thrown away. It is all food and every particle of it is digested. A nourishing, satisfying breakfast, lunch or dinner at a cost of only a few pennies.

It's because their Turkish blend is BALANCED

Balanced—that is what makes Fatima's blend mean comfort to you, even though you may smoke more often than usual.

The milder tobaccos in this Turkish blend are so well balanced with the richer, fuller-flavored leaves as to entirely off-set all undue "heaviness"—the cause of over-richness in some other cigarettes.

And this very blending which makes Fatimas so comfortable (and therefore so sensible) is also just what imparts that unusually good Fatima taste.

But even so, you alone can decide whether or not you like Fatimas. That's easy to settle—try them.

LAMBERT MURPHY

Tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company

Sings Tonight at the Coliseum in Joint Recital

WITH YOLANDA MERO

"Foremost Woman Pianist"

Mr. Murphy, who is a singularly gifted young tenor will fill the place of Herbert Witherspoon, unable to appear because of illness. He is one of the leading tenors in America already and his career is in the making. His work at the Metropolitan, where he went in 1911, won high praise from the beginning. As a recital and festival soloist he stands in the front rank. Two years ago he was tenor soloist at the Cincinnati May Festival, and achieved a success there.
